PRELIMINARY MEMORANDUM.

In the letter of October 1831, addressed by the Right Honourable E. G. Stanley (afterwards Lord Derby), Chief Secretary for Ireland, to his Grace the Duke of Leinster, constituting the Board of National Education, one of the functions of the new Board is prescribed as "editing and printing such books of moral and literary education as may be approved of for the use of the schools, and supplying them and the school necessaries at not lower than half-price."

On considering that letter the Commissioners drew up a statement explanatory of their views regarding certain of its provisions, and their statement was approved by the Government. In reference to the provision for editing and printing books their statement was as follows :—

> "The Board do not understand that it is imperative on them to edit all books used in schools receiving aid from them, but that they are at liberty to sanction such books as may previously be in use in schools on behalf of which applications are made, or such as may be preferred by local patrons, provided that they find nothing objectionable in them."

For several years following the introduction of the system of National Education into Ireland, and whilst books suitable for general use in National Schools were in course of preparation or adoption, the Managers were supplied by the Commissioners, at half-price, with school-books issued by the Kildare Place Society and by the Catholic Book Society. In addition, the use of publications of miscellaneous character was, as a temporary provision, allowed by the Commissioners.

The following extracts from the evidence of Professor Sullivan before the Select Committee of 1837, appointed to inquire into the Progress and Operation of the New Plan of Education (Question 7704), are of importance as indicating the great improvement effected by the Commissioners in supplying to the schools, as stated, at half-price, provisionally, such books as those of the two educational societies named :—

> "Their publications were a great improvement on the class-books of the country. Here are a few title-pages of the books generally found in schools never connected with any Society or Board."

It will appear from the titles that they are still published by different booksellers in various parts of Ireland, Dublin, Belfast, Limerick, &c.

> "In the two other schools visited by me on the same day (Deerpark and Graigawarren) the books in use are of a similar character. This school was immediately after received into connection, and in consequence of this, all the objectionable books I have just mentioned were excluded, and the National School books are now constantly in the hands of the children. The same observations are applicable to the great majority of the National Schools before they were placed under the care and control of the Commissioners."

A succinct yet sufficiently detailed exposition of the proceedings of the Board, from the first, in meeting the wants of the pupils in the matter of school-books, is contained in a letter of the Commissioners to the Comptroller and Auditor General, which he published in his Report for the financial year 1888–89 upon the Appropriation Accounts for the year (pp. 409–414).

The following is a copy of the letter :—

National Education Office, Dublin,
15 January 1889.

Sir,—I am directed by the Commissioners of National Education to acknowledge the receipt of Mr. Nicolas' letter of the 11th ultimo, on the subject of their Stores Department for the issue to National Schools throughout Ireland, of books and other requisites for sale to the pupils or for use in class teaching. The Commissioners' remarks are invited in respect to the present system of maintaining the stores, and issuing goods to the schools free of carriage, in view of the heavy charge entailed thereby upon the Education Vote, and as to the feasibility of discontinuing the system. It is also indicated in the letter that the question may be deemed proper for comment by you in your Report to Parliament on the Appropriation Account of this Department for the year 1887–88. This letter has been specially considered by the Commissioners, and they direct me to state, in reply, that they are much concerned in regard to your inquiry, dealing, as it principally does, with a fundamental principle of policy, and not merely with a check, or test, or scrutiny, of the Vote of Parliament. The approval of the expenditure now under question by successive Governments for the past 56 years, the sanction of the same by the Treasury during that period, and the annual Votes of Parliament, constitute constitute so wide a tradition of this country for the maintenance of this service that the Commissioners have received with some perplexity the statement that probable criticism of the wisdom of the Vote for their Stores Department is impending. Moreover, since the question touches an interest involving the stability of the National system of education throughout this country, they feel bound in the public interest to protest respectfully, but decidedly, against any proposals to disturb their system of supplying books and requisites to the National Schools.

If, on further consideration of the functions and responsibilities of this Board in relation to the book supply of the primary schools of Ireland, and the fulness and clearness with which the Commissioners endeavour to set forth their annual demands in the Estimates, it should be deemed proper by you to question the provision for their Stores Department, it is requested that at the same time the answer of the Board to the inquiry, and its vindication of its ancient privilege and duty, as submitted in this letter, may also appear for the examination of Parliament.

With a view to a perfect understanding of the scope and drift of the matter of this inquiry, a review of the history of the book supply of primary schools in Ireland from an early period is necessary, and will now be given as succinctly as possible.

The National system of education was established in the year 1831, and the Irish Government, in constituting the Board to administer the system, proposed that the funds to be annually voted for its maintenance should, inter alia, be applied to the following purpose :—

> "Editing and printing such books of moral and literary education as may be approved of for the use of the schools, and supplying them and school necessaries at not lower than half price."

The Commissioners of National Education, when accepting the responsibility that devolved on them by the institution of the system they were called on by the Government to administer, distinctly guarded themselves against any misunderstanding as to the sphere of their duty in respect to the supply to the schools of books and other requisites. They informed the Irish Government as follows :—

> "The Board do not understand that it is imperative on them to edit all books used in schools receiving aid from them, but that they are at liberty to sanction such books as may previously be in use in schools on behalf of which applications are made, or such as may be preferred by local patrons, provided that they find nothing objectionable in them."

Throughout the long period that has since elapsed, the Commissioners of National Education have continuously fulfilled the purpose of the Legislature in supplying the primary schools of this country with school books of excellent character, constituting an efficient and wholesome school literature, at a very moderate cost to the State, and always subject to Treasury sanction and the published rules and regulations of this Board.

The Parliamentary Grant for the free carriage of books, &c., to the nearest railway stations (and in a few remote localities to car stations) has proved a most important factor in enabling the Commissioners to fulfil this function.

The statement in Mr. Nicolas' letter is too narrow when he describes the objects for which the Commissioners' stores were originally established.

He says :—

> "The Commissioners printed and supplied to their own schools books of a non-sectarian character, most suitable for carrying out a comprehensive system of elementary education."

In two respects this description falls short of the actual facts.

1. The Commissioners necessarily had recourse to publications not printed by themselves, but approved of by them for issue to the National Schools. The Catholic Book Society, for instance, sold to them considerable quantities of books and other requisites, which the Commissioners in turn sold to the National Schools at half the price paid for them. Similar arrangements were made with the Kildare Place Society. Without such sources of supply it is difficult to see how the National system could have been satisfactorily administered prior to the time when the Commissioners' own books were produced, and won the willing acceptance of the country.

It is evident, therefore, that from the very start of the system, the Commissioners were obliged to do much more than print and edit books for their schools. They made extensive purchases, on advantageous terms, of such books as they could obtain and approve of.

2. Owing to the reputation for excellence obtained by their books, not only in Ireland, but in Great Britain and the Colonies, the Commissioners were obliged to yield to the general pressure, and for many years of the history of the National system the sales may be classified under the following heads :—

(a.) To National Schools in Ireland.

(b.) To schools for the poor in Great Britain, aided by the State, the books being supplied through the Committee of Council on Education.

(c.) To schools connected with other educational societies in Great Britain and Ireland, not aided by the State.

(d.) To schools in the British Colonies.

(e.) To workhouse, factories, and gaol schools.

(f.) To schools not connected with recognised societies, but under the management of private individuals.

(a.) Sales to the public generally.

It is thus clear the Commissioners not only supplied books, &c., to "their own schools," but also transacted a large business in supplying schools other than those under their own jurisdiction.

The Commissioners having at length so great a field at their command, naturally endeavoured to moderate the charge upon the Vote of Parliament as opportunity offered by charging a substantial profit to the public generally. In doing so they aimed at transacting business extra to that of their own schools, without loss on management, &c., including the payments to agencies in the principal towns in Ireland.

In the year 1835 the Commissioners stated in their Report to the Lord Lieutenant, that the permanent net charge to the Vote for the Book Stores, when the National system would be developed, would be 20,000*l.* per annum.

Up to the year 1838 a bookseller in Dublin was employed by the Commissioners as their agent for receiving from their stores and transmitting to their schools the books and requisites sold. For this he was allowed a percentage on the cost price of the books. As the business increased the method proved impracticable. The Commissioners found it after a time necessary to place the issues entirely in the hands of their own storekeeper, with an increased staff; and soon afterwards to employ a public carrier to convey the parcels at contract rates.

In 1839–40 depôts were opened in the districts of the Inspectors of National Schools for the receipt from the stores and delivery to managers of schools of the supplies purchased by them. The Inspectors had to keep elaborate depôt accounts, which interfered seriously with their inspection duties, and greatly embarrassed them; and some of them had to employ sub-agents to relieve them, an arrangement not without risk. The depôt system was discontinued in 1849, and since then the arrangements, although subject to certain modifications, have been very much as they are at present.

At that time the average attendance at the schools was about 250,000, and the net annual charge for the Stores Department amounted to 12,000*l.*

In the year 1848 an incident of considerable importance occurred that brought the position of the Board, as a publishing organisation in relation to the bookselling interest, under the attention of the Government.

The Messrs. Longman, booksellers, London, addressed, in that year, a letter to Sir Charles Trevelyan, Secretary to the Treasury, protesting against a plan then contemplated by the Committee of Council on Education, but not matured, to print and publish after the Irish method cheap books for circulation amongst the schools of Great Britain. The plan of the Committee was not carried into effect, and the Messrs. Longman, finding themselves so far secured, turned their protest against the system in force in Ireland. In the year 1849, and again in 1850, in conjunction with Mr. John Murray, the publisher, they addressed communications to Lord John Russell, then Prime Minister, on the subject of the Commissioners' alleged interference with Free Trade, and protested against the production and sale of books by the Commissioners. They complained that, exclusive of the quantities of books sold in London and elsewhere by agents of the Commissioners, about one-fourth of all the books supplied to English schools in connection with the Committee of Council on Education, came over from the stores of the Commissioners of National Education in Ireland.

The following is an extract from the letter, in reply to the protest, of Lord John Russell, embodying the views of the Government as to the expediency of maintaining the freedom of the Commissioners in the matter :—

> "Were the principles of Free Trade invoked by you to be fully carried into effect, I think you must admit it would be subversive of the whole system of National Education in Ireland, for the principle does not apply solely to books, it applies equally to teachers. If it is wrong to supplant the 'History of Rogues and Rapparees,' by a treatise on geography, it is equally wrong to drive away, by aid of the public funds and a strict monopoly, the hedge schoolmaster, and to put in his place a person taught in the Training School in Dublin. The sale of the books in the Colonies and in foreign countries proves at least that they are not of the inferior character you ascribe to them. Indeed, in point of general reputation, it is certain that some of the books written or compiled for the Irish schools stand very high."

The upshot of all this agitation on the part of the booksellers, and the correspondence with the Government, was that in the year 1851 the whole question of the supply of school-books, &c., was dealt with by the Lords of Her Majesty's Treasury, who proposed that henceforth the books, &c., printed for the Commissioners, should be limited to those required for the National Schools. The Commissioners agreed to this proposal by letter of 19th July 1851.

The final issue is thus expressed by the Commissioners in a letter of 20th February 1858 to the Treasury :—

> "The public may now publish any of the works belonging to the Commissioners without any regard to their copyright. They may alter these books as they think proper, on the reasonable condition that they do not throw on the Commissioners the responsibility of such altered works."

And in the same letter the Commissioners allude to the practical difficulty in the way of the prompt and certain transmission of books, &c., should they have to depend on the services of the booksellers :—

> "The difficulties are obvious of entering into any contract with booksellers or other parties which would ensure a safe and speedy distribution to National Schools, especially in districts which do not now support a single bookseller's shop."

As regards books "sanctioned," but not "published," by the Commissioners themselves, it was deemed expedient in the year 1849, for the more rapid development of education, that the circulation of these "sanctioned" books should be specially encouraged; and, accordingly, a rule was introduced to sell them to schools at reduced prices. Such books were not, however, sold at half cost price, as in the case of the Board's own publications; but an addition of 15 per cent. being made to the cost price, the books were sold at half that sum.

There were then three forms of discharge of books and other requisites :—

(a) Free grants.

(b) Commissioners' publications at half cost price.

(c) Books, &c., sanctioned for use in National Schools sold at prices computed at half the sum made up of the cost price and 15 per cent. thereof.

Under this system considerable progress was made both in the variety and the utility of the school supplies.

The net cost to the Commissioners' funds in 1861, including the management, carriage, package, &c., was 14,500*l.* At this time the average daily attendance of scholars was 284,726, and the rate per pupil on the Parliamentary Vote for the Stores Department was 1*s.* 0¼*d.*

In 1863 the Commissioners adopted a regulation allowing 20 per cent. to teachers of National Schools on sales to their pupils whenever the requisites ordered amounted to at least 1*l.* 5*s.* This allowance was intended partly to cover the teachers' inevitable losses in respect to their gratis supplies to their poorer scholars of slates, slate pencils, pens, paper, and other minor requisites, and partly as an inducement to maintain adequate supplies of requisites in their schools for ready sale to the pupils requiring them.

Up to this period the Commissioners estimated annually merely a net amount for their Stores Department, after taking into account the several items of anticipated expenditure (including carriage of books) and of receipts on sales. But in the year 1868 the Commissioners were requested by the Lords of Her Majesty's Treasury to change the method, and to estimate annually for the gross amount, passing the receipts to credit of Exchequer Extra Receipts, instead of the relief of the Vote.

This method continues ; and whilst the reasons for the change are understood, and the constitutional principle involved in the new arrangement is duly recognised, yet it cannot be denied that its effect in the Annual Estimates upon the cursory reader is to suggest a very large expenditure on the Commissioners' stores, instead of the comparatively small expenditure actually incurred when reduced by the receipts on the sales.

In 1870 the Commissioners adopted an important measure towards restricting the growth of this expenditure under this sub-head. They resolved that the prices to the schools of all new books to be thenceforth added to their published list should not be under the cost prices.

It would, however, be a serious error to suppose that the Commissioners, in endeavouring at any time to economise under the sub-head, regarded the matter from merely the commercial standpoint. From the earliest period it has been recognised that the question of maintaining in practical efficiency and popularity the Stores Department is one which involves matter of policy, and cannot be determined on merely financial considerations.

The administration of the Book Stores Department and the questions concerned in its maintenance have been at different times under the special consideration of the Lords of Her Majesty's Treasury, and successive Governments have carefully investigated both the cost to the Vote and the accruing educational advantages. Two occasions need only be noticed here, one in respect to questions of more formal character, the other in respect to investigations of more material import. In 1868 their Lordships stated to the Comptroller and Auditor General that "they are of opinion that it would not be expedient to alter the system by which the sale and purchase of school-books is at present conducted (1868) by the Commissioners of National Education."

In the year 1873–74 a Treasury Departmental Committee, comprising Mr. W. H. Gladstone, Mr. Herbert Murray, Mr. R. G. C. Hamilton (now Sir Robert Hamilton), Mr. Fearon, one of Her Majesty's Inspectors of Schools, England, and (ex officio) Mr. P. J. Keenan (now the Right Honourable Sir Patrick Keenan), Resident Commissioner of National Education, Ireland, inquired very fully into the operations, advantages, and cost of the Books Stores Department. This Committee recommended, in view of the then recent addition of results fees to the pay of the teachers, the abolition of the allowance of 20 per cent. on the sales of books, &c., which the teachers had enjoyed ; but the abolition of the free carriage of books was not one of the changes proposed. On the contrary, the Committee were careful to say in their Report :—

> "We do not propose that the practice of paying the cost of carriage of parcels of books to the stations nearest the schools should be discontinued."

This statement was made in connection with the recommendation that the books, &c., should be sold to the schools at cost price "at a figure that will cause no loss to the public."

It is thus evident that the "cost price" did not mean in the mind of the Committee that the cost of the carriage of parcels should be included ; and the Commissioners did not omit to ensure the question against the possibility of a misunderstanding.

For in their letter of the 11th June 1874 to the Irish Government, in reference to the Report of the Treasury Departmental Committee, they stated as follows :—

> "The Commissioners are prepared to direct that in future all books and articles on their list shall be sold at cost price. But wherever the price of an article includes the fraction of an half-penny the fraction is not to be charged."

In connection with this the Commissioners added :—

> "They are pleased that it is not proposed to discontinue the practice of paying the cost of the carriage of parcels to the stations nearest the schools."

It will be seen by reference to the letter of 22nd July 1874, from Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, Bart., M.P., to the Treasury, that the sales at cost price were fully understood by the Irish Government in the sense of the Commissioners, and so approved of; and the proposal to sell at cost price, thus expounded and approved, received the sanction of the Treasury in their Lordships' letter, No. 16,656, of the 4th December 1874.

The Departmental Committee recommended the abolition of the commission of 20 per cent. allowed to the teachers on their purchases.

The Committee estimated that, taking into account the salaries of clerks, supplied from Her Majesty's Stationery Office, value of rent, &c., of premises, interest on stock in stores, depreciation and waste, &c. (total 2,430*l.*), there was "a net cost in round numbers of 24,000*l.* a year," viz.:—

Gross cost (about)	43,030
Receipts on sales	19,175
Net	£. 23,855

From this estimated cost the Committee proposed that the following reductions should be made:—

Reductions:
Commission to teachers	3,300
Difference between reduced prices and cost prices	12,400
Reduced free grant list	500
Abolition of certain apparatus	600
		16,800
Estimated cost from all sources under proposed reductions for average daily attendance (1873–74) of 373,371 pupils		£. 7,200 or $4\frac{6}{10}d.$ per pupil.

The Departmental Committee did not, however, contemplate the arrest of the automatic growth of the expenditure. On the other hand, they stated in their Report:—

> "There is every likelihood that this expenditure will grow to a still larger amount; for since the introduction of the system of payment by results (1872) not only has the number of orders for books risen from about 12,000 to 13,500, but the amount of each order has also increased from about 1*l.* 5*s.* to 1*l.* 14*s.* each."

The anticipation of development has indeed been verified; the vast increase in the attendance of scholars necessitating a corresponding increase in the total supplies of books, &c., but, as will be seen, there has been no increase in the cost per pupil, but rather a diminution in the rate. The number of orders in 1887–88 was 25,533, or nearly double that of 1873–74.

A comparative view of the cost of the Stores Department in 1887–88 (under the several Sub-heads computed by the Departmental Committee for 1873–74) will show how careful the Commissioners have been to maintain the principles of that important settlement.

Actual cost:
Sub-Head G	39,521
Sub-Heads A 5, C 4, D, F	585
Add,—Cost from other sources included in Report of Departmental Committee	2,409
	42,515
Receipts on sales	32,989
Cost from all sources under the arrangements of the Treasury Departmental Committee for average daily attendance (1887–88) of 515,388 pupils	£. 9,526 or $4\frac{4}{10}d.$ per pupil.

Thus, with an increase of 142,017 pupils in average daily attendance, the net cost of the Stores Department has increased by only 2,326*l.* from all sources, whilst the rate per pupil has decreased.

In 1887 the shop value of books, &c., issued was 65,000*l.*, but the teachers and scholars were charged only 33,000*l.* by the Commissioners, at a cost of only 7,153*l.* to the Education Vote (net) for the free grants, carriage, &c.

It

It may be observed that in one respect anticipation has not quite been realised. There has been no increase in the money value of the separate orders for books, &c., as compared with 1873–74, the average cost having fallen to 1*l.* 6*s.* 3½*d.*, but this represents the fall in prices owing to reduced contracts, not reduction in the quantities of requisites in each order.

Of the requisites issued on these orders quantities to the value of 27,000*l.*, Commissioners' prices, are manufactured in Ireland, and both the books and other articles can be certified as of excellent material and admirable finish. The general cheapness of the books and requisites may be judged of from the tabular statement of issues and prices (1887–88) given as an Appendix to this letter, and as regards the school literature thus disseminated, it is one of the Board's most serious functions to guarantee its character.

The Commissioners feel assured that the advantages of maintaining the Book Stores undisturbed will become still more apparent when it is considered that, by reason of the practical monopoly thrown upon them through the convenience to the schools arising from the free carriage of the books, the Commissioners are afforded the opportunity of negotiating enormous contracts at prices much lower than what requisites could be produced for by small contractors, and that the pupils, as shown above, are saved from a burden of about 32,000*l.* a year shop profits, no small gain to a poor peasantry.

Moreover, this item of a free carriage, and the great business of the Stores induced thereby, has enabled the Commissioners to organize their arrangements so as to supply the schools with great facility and promptitude. This is a matter of the highest moment in a country of small schools, almost all under individual managers, and dependent on the teachers themselves for the supply of their books, &c., purchased as a rule by the teachers themselves, in advance, at frequent intervals out of their own resources.

The uniformity of standards in the books, &c., which the Commissioners, under the existing system, without interference with freedom of school managers or teachers selecting any suitable books for use, are enabled practically to maintain is of great advantage in the work of inspection of schools, and in the kindred work of examination of teachers and monitors, &c.

And crowning these advantages are the avoidance of continual exercise of that veto on unsuitable books which this Board must always hold in reserve, the immunity of National Schools from the possible intrusion, in subtle forms of literature, of matter of religious, social, or political dissension, and the extremely vexatious duty on the part of inspectors of ascertaining and examining the several kinds of school-books in use in the schools.

These advantages should be sufficient to induce hesitancy in respect to any disturbance of the settlement of this ancient system, especially when it is considered that the teachers have to grant, free of charge to the poorer of their scholars, out of their own pockets probably double the amount involved in cost of carriage.

I am directed by the Commissioners to observe that they are not aware of the grounds on which the views of Mr. Nicolas' letter are based, viz. :—

> "That it appears to have been understood that all articles not included in the category of free stock should be sold by the Commissioners at cost price . . . . . and that formerly it was the practice to add to the price to the Commissioners of each article about 15 per cent., in order to cover the expenses of management."

It has been shown before that, many years ago, when the Commissioners sold books, &c., at reduced prices, they made a difference between their own publications and books, &c., "sanctioned" by them, to this extent, namely, that whereas in the former case the books were sold at half the cost price, in the latter case they were sold at half the amount, made up of the cost price plus 15 per cent. thereof; also that when selling to schools not National, a practice discontinued since the correspondence between Lord John Russell and the booksellers, they charged just double the price which they charged to National Schools, and even higher. In all this, as already remarked, the Commissioners had, of course, in view the restraining of expenditure, as far as expedient, as a partial set-off against the cost of management; and the same may be said of the reductions in 1873–74.

But never since the commencement of National Education have the Commissioners, in referring to the "cost price" of their school requisites, meant anything more than the mere cost at which they are themselves able to produce them, or were able to purchase them from publishers, &c. No proposal has ever been made by them, or, so far as they know, been made by any Government, or in any Parliament, to cover the cost of the carriage of the books, &c., for National Schools by adding to the cost price to the children of the articles issued from the Stores to National Schools.

Under these circumstances, it is gratifying to record the success that has attended the administration of the Books Stores Department, and to admit "that the objects for which the Stores Account was originally established have now been accomplished." They have been truly accomplished in securing from year to year confidence throughout the country in this branch of the administration; in the general use that is made by the National Schools of the Board's supplies; and in the perfecting of convenient and efficient processes of supply admirably adapted to the exigencies of Irish National Schools. Whilst thus admitting the satisfactory condition of the Stores business, in the circumstances of the country, and recognising the conserving influence of the system of free carriage incident thereto, the Commissioners naturally fail to see the reasonableness of the suggestion, that what has been successfully accomplished should now be abandoned, and they must demur to the question raised in the letter :—

> "Whether the advantages derived from the continuance of the Book Stores, or at least the present system, are such as to outweigh the heavy expenses entailed by its retention."

Any question of discontinuing the Vote for the free carriage of school requisites means practically the imperilling of an entire system of book supply that has worked so well and so long, and conferred such substantial advantages on the schools of Ireland as to induce, in the face of all obstacles, a universal resort to the Commissioners' Stores.

In conclusion, I am directed to give the following statement of the total expenditure from the Education Vote on the Stores Department, including all sub-heads concerned, and of the receipts for 1887–88 ; also, of the reading and other books included in the issue from the Book Department for the year 1887–88.

Note.—Under heading of the Return, "Result in each case as to approval by the Board or otherwise," the entry "Approved and placed on Board's List" signifies that, in addition to approving of the books, &c., the Commissioners purchase supplies from the publishers or authors, and issue them at cost price to National Schools, free of carriage. Formerly, such supplies were issued at half cost price, plus a percentage.

The entry, "Not placed on Board's List," or "Not required," refers to cases in which publishers or other persons interested in the sales, submitted books, &c., with a view to having them placed on the list of books, &c., sold by the Commissioners to the schools ; but the Commissioners did not consider that they were required at the time. As a rule, this result did not imply either approval or disapproval of the publications. It was open to the Managers, if they desired to use any of these publications in their schools, to apply to the Commissioners for approval, and if approved, to obtain them from the ordinary bookselling establishments. This is provided for by Rule 91 of the Commissioners' Code, which is as follows :—

"(a) The use of the books specified on the Board's List, whether published or sanctioned by the Commissioners, is not compulsory, but (b) the titles of all other books which the patrons or managers of schools intend for the ordinary school business must be notified to the Commissioners before they are introduced into the school, and none are to be used to which they object. (c) The approval of any such books is to extend only to the particular edition which has been submitted to the Commissioners."

	Newmann's New Kindergarten Architect and Model Builder. Specially designed according to the principles of Frœbel and Pestalozzi, enables the young builder to erect actual buildings, to take them to pieces and connect them again for other buildings, equally strong, but totally different. The patterns have been designed by experienced architects. They comprise all kinds of household furniture and utensils; further, a sledge, a swing, scaffolding, houses and stables, gates, a villa with verandah, and other buildings of one and two stories, also monuments, a church, a lattice girder bridge, a market hall, a theatre, and a working model of a windmill. The models, even of the smallest boxes, are of a size suited for children. The church in Box V. is about two feet long and three feet high, and the girder bridge has a free span of about three feet. All materials are practically indestructible, and the designers have spared no pains to render these toys really instructive and amusing. The little laths are made of beech wood; they are connected by means of metal pins, which have no sharp points, and are fastened together by little wedges. The pieces of coloured cardboard fit into the grooves of the joined laths. All patterns are printed from photographs of the models; they thus represent what really has been done and not what might be done with different material, perhaps; are guaranteed to be correct. Drawings and explanation of detail will be found in every box, and the instructions fully explain how to join them.

REPORT of the COMPTROLLER and AUDITOR GENERAL upon the Accounts of the INTERMEDIATE EDUCATION BOARD, IRELAND, for the Year ended the 31st December 1893; prepared and submitted for the Information of Parliament, in pursuance of the 10th Section of the Act 41 & 42 Vict. c. 66.

CAPITAL ACCOUNT.

Capital.

1. THE Securities held by the Intermediate Education Board, Ireland, in respect of the Ordinary Account, at the close of the preceding year, amounted to 1,013,425*l.* 17*s.* 1*d.*

During the year 1893 surplus income, to the amount of 8,000*l.*, has been invested in the purchase of 8,158*l.* 0*s.* 8*d.* 2¾ per Cent. Stock; the total Securities at the end of the year thus amounting to 1,021,583*l.* 17*s.* 9*d.*

Of this amount, 1,000,000*l.* is represented by terminable 3¼ per Cent. Debentures, the interest on which is guaranteed by the Treasury for a period which will expire in 1897. The balance consists of 21,583*l.* 17*s.* 9*d.* 2¾ per Cent. Consolidated Stock.

INCOME ACCOUNT.

Increased Cost of Administration and Examinations.

2. The cost of Administration has been 3,739*l.* 12*s.* 1*d.*, as compared with 3,544*l.* 11*s.* 6*d.* in the previous year, an increase of 195*l.* 0*s.* 7*d.*

The expense of Examinations has amounted to 10,748*l.* 13*s.* 9*d.*, as compared with 8,586*l.* 9*s.* 5*d.* in the preceding year, an increase of 2,162*l.* 4*s.* 4*d.*

In connection with these increased charges, it may be noticed that the number of Students presented for examination was 6,974, as compared with 5,759 in the year 1892, an increase of 1,215 Students; and that the cost of Administration and Examinations is not shared between the Ordinary Account and the separate Local Taxation Money Account, but is wholly charged in the Ordinary Account.

Rewards and Results Fees. Reduced Charge.

3. The amount expended on Rewards (Exhibitions, Medals and Prizes) is 6,034*l.* 11*s.*, as compared with 6,168*l.* 7*s.* 3*d.* in the previous year; and on Results Fees 8,246*l.* 8*s.* 4*d.*, as compared with 8,177*l.* 17*s.* 1*d.* in the previous year; a net reduction in amount of 65*l.* 5*s.*

As, however, the number of Students who passed the Examinations is larger than in the year 1892, it would appear that, instead of a reduction, there would have been an increase in the amount of the charge if Rewards and Fees had been charged to the Ordinary Account in the same proportion as before.

Saving to the Ordinary Account, at the expense of the Local Taxation Money Account.

The saving to the Ordinary Account seems to have been effected by charging the Local Taxation Money Account, not merely with the additional value of increased Rewards and Fees, but also with a portion of the amount which would, under the old rules, have been chargeable to the Ordinary Account.

LIABILITIES AND ASSETS.

Surplus.

4. The Statement of Liabilities and Assets prepared by the Accounting Officer shows a Surplus on the 31st December 1893, in respect of the Income Account, of 6,429*l.* 16*s.* 3*d.*

SEPARATE ACCOUNT.

Grants from Local Taxation Duties

5. Of the share of the local taxation duties allocated to the Intermediate Education Board, Ireland, in the years 1891 and 1892, under the Local Taxation (Customs and Excise) Act, 1890, 53 & 54 Vict. c. 60, there remained at the commencement of the year 1893 an unexpended balance amounting in cash to 627*l.* 11*s.*, together with 2¾ per Cent. Stock to the amount of 66,966*l.* 15*s.* 9*d.*

The share of Local Taxation duties further allocated for the year 1893 being 44,164*l.* 4*s.* 11*d.*, and a sum of 2,406*l.* 1*s.* 3*d.* having been received as interest on money invested, the sum available for expenditure in 1893 amounted to 47,197*l.* 17*s.* 2*d.* in cash, together with a further amount of 66,966*l.* 15*s.* 9*d.* Stock.

Notwithstanding, however, an increase of 673 successful Students, as compared with last year (including the Preparatory Grade and those over age), and the transfer to this Separate Account of payments which, as stated in paragraph 3, would formerly have been borne by the Ordinary Account, the total sum expended for Rewards and Results Fees out of Local Taxation Money was only 27,947*l.* 6*s.* 3*d.*

Securities

Securities to the amount of 28,500*l.* having been sold for 27,914*l.* 11*s.* 9*d.*, and surplus income to the amount of 46,360*l.* having been invested in the purchase of 2¾ per Cent. Stock to the amount of 46,735*l.* 11*s.* 1*d.*, the balance at the close of the year 1893, has increased to 805*l.* 2*s.* 8*d.* cash, and 85,202*l* 6*s.* 10*d.* 2¾ per Cent. Stock.

Absence of Statutory Authority for investment of surplus income.

6. In my Report of last year it was pointed out that, although, in respect of the Ordinary Account, the formation of a Capital Account is authorised by the Intermediate Education Act of 1878, there is no corresponding authorisation in the Local Taxation Act of 1890. It was apparently contemplated by the latter Act that the share of local taxation duties annually assigned should as nearly as possible be annually distributed, under a Scheme to be approved by the Lord Lieutenant and the Treasury.

It was stated by the Board in regard to the year 1891, when local taxation money was first received, that the balance in hand of that money had been invested "pending its "distribution." This accumulated fund, which at the end of that year was 34,433*l.* 5*s.* 5*d.*, has now increased to upwards of 86,000*l.*; the interest on which adds considerably to the income.

Liabilities and Assets.

Surplus.

7. The Statement of Liabilities and Assets prepared by the Accounting Officer shows a cash Surplus on the 31st December 1893 of 789*l.* 19*s.*, in addition to 85,202*l.* 6*s.* 10*d.* Consolidated Government 2¾ per Cent. Stock.

EDUCATIONAL ENDOWMENTS (IRELAND) ACT, 1885.

PROVISIONAL ORDERS IN COUNCIL.

48 and 49 Victoria, cap. 78.

In the matter of the Scheme for the Diocesan Schools and Banagher Royal School Endowments, and the Order of the Lords Justices in Council, dated the 22nd day of June, 1894, provisionally approving of same.

To His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant General and General Governor of Ireland.

The Humble Petition of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the City of Limerick praying that the said Scheme, dated the 22nd day of February, 1893, may be laid before Parliament, as provided by the 24th Section of the above cited Act:

Sheweth—

1. That in the year 1837 the site of the School in question was purchased, and the buildings thereon were erected at a cost of £1,672 15*s.* 4*d.*, of which the sum of £1,640 was presented by the Grand Juries of the County and County of the City of Limerick under an Act of Elizabeth for the establishment of Protestant Diocesan Schools in Ireland.

2. That the levying of such a rate for the purpose of establishing a Diocesan School was a great hardship on an almost exclusively Catholic population.

3. That after the disestablishment of the Protestant Church the School failed, but remained actually in the possession of the last Master, the Rev. Mr. Hall, and after his death in that of his widow, while the title to the premises was vested without any doubt in the Commissioners of Education, without however power to sell or let them.

4. That the Rev. Canon Gregg, in the year 1874, on the suggestion of Mr. Kyle, the Secretary of the Commissioners of Education, who thought that if Canon Gregg were once in possession he could defeat the Commissioners, paid a sum of £20 to Mrs. Hall for "the key," and got into possession and remained so, dealing with the premises as if they were his own property, until the year 1879, without paying any rent whatsoever.

5. That since the year 1879 he has been a tenant to the Commissioners of Education at a rent of £20, which sum is given back to him yearly for repairs.

6. That he has thus held practically for nothing, during twenty years, premises which he swore were worth £30 a year as he got them, or £60 after the repairs which he has made in them before 1879.

7. That Canon Gregg is the Protestant Rector of the Parish in which these Schools are situated, that the entire Protestant population of said Parish is less than three hundred, and that these Schools, which contained up to one hundred children, are not used merely as local Schools, but that poor children are gathered into them from every part of Ireland, a condition of admission being that the children shall be reared in the Protestant religion ; that this School has been, and is regarded by the Catholics of this City as a Proselytising Institution, and that Mr. Gregg has admitted at various inquiries that numbers of the children educated in them before and up to their admission had been Catholics.

8. That the Educational Endowments Commissioners having all the evidence of these facts before them in their Scheme, drafted in 1890, refused to allow Mr. Gregg the right of preemption.

9. That the case came on appeal before the Privy Council on the 17th August, 1892, a date which fell within the long vacation, with the result that this case, involving keenly contested religious interests, was decided by a Council consisting of eight Protestants and two Catholics, and that the decision of the Educational Endowments Commission was reversed, and the right of preemption given to the Rev. Canon Gregg.

10. That we, the Town Council of the City of Limerick, regard such a right vesting the fee-simple of these premises in a private individual without any trust or obligation whatsoever to the public as a grievance, particularly having regard to the fact that the Catholic ratepayers of this City and County found practically all the funds by which they were erected.

11. That we claim that these premises should be given back to the local authorities of the City and County to be held by them for purposes of public utility, especially educational, or at least that the right of preemption should be given to these Bodies.

12. That your Petitioners therefore pray that the said Scheme may be laid before Parliament as provided by the twenty-fourth section of the above cited Act.

And your Petitioners will ever pray.

Signed this 2nd day of August, 1894, on behalf of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the Borough of Limerick in Council assembled, and the City Seal affixed hereto.

(Seal).

Alderman, L. T. Mayor.

No. 90.

King's County and various Dioceses.

Date of Provisional Approval—22nd June, 1894.

PROVISIONAL APPROVAL BY ORDER IN COUNCIL.

The Diocesan Schools and Banagher Royal School Endowments.

By the Lords Justices and Privy Council in Ireland.

S. WALKER, C.
WOLSELEY, F.M.

Whereas the Right Honorable Gerald FitzGibbon and the Right Honorable William O'Brien, the Judicial Commissioners constituted under the Educational Endowments (Ireland) Act, 1885, have, in virtue of the powers conferred upon them by the said Act and the Acts continuing the same, and of every other power enabling them in that behalf, framed and signed under their hands a Scheme relating to the Educational Endowments of and belonging to the Diocesan Schools and Banagher Royal School, which Scheme is annexed to this Order:

And whereas the time limited by the said Acts for exercising the powers of making and approving this Scheme has been duly extended, upon special cause shown, with reference to the above-mentioned Endowments, by Orders of the Lord Lieutenant in Council, dated, respectively, March 30, 1893, and December 23, 1893, in pursuance of the 38th section of the first-mentioned Act:

And whereas all the conditions in regard to the said Scheme, which are required to be fulfilled by the said Acts to enable the said Scheme to be provisionally approved, have been fulfilled:

Now therefore, We, the Lords Justices General and General Governors of Ireland, by and with the advice and consent of Her Majesty's Privy Council in Ireland, do by this Order, pursuant to the 24th and 38th sections of the first-mentioned Act, declare provisionally our approbation of the aforesaid Scheme, and the same is hereby provisionally approved.

Given at the Council Chamber, Dublin Castle, this 22nd day of June, 1894.

THOMAS A. DICKSON.

SCHEME REFERRED TO IN THE FOREGOING ORDER.

No. 90.

EDUCATIONAL ENDOWMENTS (IRELAND) COMMISSION.

SCHEME framed under the Educational Endowments (Ireland) Act, 1885, for the future government and management of the Endowments heretofore belonging to certain Diocesan Schools, and to Banagher Royal School.

Whereas by an Act of Parliament passed in Ireland in the twelfth year of the reign of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth, entitled "An Act for the Erection of Free Schools," it was provided that there should be a Free School in every Diocese in Ireland, the School-house to be built at the costs and charges of the whole Diocese, and the stipend of the Schoolmasters to be paid and contributed by the Ordinary, Parsons, Vicars, Prebendaries, and other ecclesiastical persons of the Diocese, in certain proportions:

And whereas Free Schools for the Dioceses of Leighlin, Meath, Ardagh, Limerick, and Tuam, were established under the said Act at Carlow, Trim, Longford, Limerick, and Tuam, respectively:

And whereas, by an Act of Parliament passed in the fifty-third year of the reign of His Majesty King George the Third, cap. 107, entitled "An Act for the appointment of Commissioners for the regulation of the several Endowed Schools of public and private foundation in Ireland," it was provided that, for the purpose of maintaining such Diocesan Free Schools as aforesaid, it should be lawful for the Commissioners of Education in Ireland, thereby constituted, to declare that any two or more adjoining Dioceses should be united into one District, and that the Free Schools of such Dioceses should be consolidated into one Free School, to be kept in such manner as the said Commissioners should direct:

Diocesan School for Leighlin and Ossory.

And whereas the said Commissioners, in pursuance of the powers vested in them by the last-mentioned Act, directed that the Dioceses of Leighlin and Ossory should be united into one District, and that the Free Schools thereof should be consolidated into one Free School to be kept at or near the town of Carlow; and the said Free School was carried on in the said town of Carlow until the year 1854, when the School-house had become ruinous, and the School was closed; and, in the year 1857, the School-house was sold by the said Commissioners to the Town Commissioners of Carlow for the sum of £200, which was invested in the purchase of £223 9*s.* 10*d.* Government stock:

And whereas, after the sale of the said School-house, a Diocesan Free School was re-opened and carried on at Carlow in premises procured for the purpose, and the dividends on the said sum of stock were from time to time paid to the Rev. D. H. Scott, the Master of the said Diocesan Free School, until the year 1873, when the said Rev. D. H. Scott retired, and the said School was finally closed; and the dividends on the said sum of stock have since been received and accumulated by the Commissioners of Education; and the said stock and the accumulations thereof are now represented by the sums of Government stock and cash specified in the First Schedule hereto, Part I.:

Diocesan School for Meath and Ardagh.

And whereas the said Commissioners, in pursuance of the powers aforesaid, directed that the Dioceses of Meath and Ardagh should be united into one District, and that the Free Schools thereof should be consolidated into one Free School to be kept at the Town of Mullingar, and a Free School was opened at Mullingar accordingly, in premises procured for the purpose:

And whereas, for the purpose of creating a fund for the building of a new School-house at Mullingar, the School-houses in which the Free Schools of the said Dioceses had been carried on at Trim and at Longford were sold for the sum of £380; and in the year 1832, the sum of £200 was presented by the Grand Jury of the County of Meath, for the purpose of aiding the building of the said new School-house, but no such School-house was ever built, and the moneys aforesaid were invested by the said Commissioners in Government stock, and the dividends thereon were and still are received by them:

And whereas the dividends on the moneys invested as aforesaid were paid from time to time to the Master of the said Diocesan Free School at Mullingar:

And whereas, in the year 1866, the Rev. E. Geoghegan, the Master of the said Diocesan Free School died, and the School was closed, and the dividends on the said stock have since been received and accumulated by the Commissioners of Education; and the said stock and the accumulations thereof are now represented by the sums of Government stock and cash specified in the First Schedule hereto, Part II.:

Diocesan School for Tuam.

And whereas the School-house in which the Diocesan Free School was established at Tuam as aforesaid, became ruinous, and the site thereof was sold, and the proceeds of the sale were invested by the said Commissioners in the purchase of £558 1*s.* 11*d.* Government stock:

And whereas, after the sale of the said School-house, a Diocesan Free School was opened and carried on at Tuam in premises procured for the purpose, and the dividends upon the said sum of £558 1*s.* 11*d.* stock were from time to time paid to the Rev. Henry C. Murphy, the Master of the said Diocesan Free School, until the year 1880, when the said Rev. Henry C. Murphy retired, and the said School was closed; and the dividends on the said stock have since been received and accumulated by the Commissioners of Education, and the said stock and the accumulations thereof are now represented by the sums of Government stock and cash specified in the First Schedule hereto, Part III.:

Diocesan School for Limerick, Killaloe, and Kilfenora.

And whereas the School-house in which the Free School for the Diocese of Limerick had been established fell into ruin, and in the year 1837 a new School-house was erected by the Commissioners of Education on the site at Roxborough Road in the City of Limerick, particularly described in the First Schedule hereto, Part IV., at a cost of £1,672 15*s.* 4*d.*, of which the sum of £1,640 was presented by the Grand Juries of the County and County of the City of Limerick; and in the same year a Free School for the Dioceses of Limerick, Killaloe, and Kilfenora was established in the said School-house:

And whereas, at the dates of the passing of the Irish Church Act, 1869, and of the Irish Church Act Amendment Act, 1872, the Rev. Dr. Hall was Master of the said Diocesan Free School; and in the year 1872 the said Rev. Dr. Hall commuted and compounded for his life interest, under the provisions of the said Acts, and discontinued the said School, but continued to occupy the said School-house until his death:

And whereas, in the year 1874, the Rev. James FitzGerald Gregg, Incumbent of Trinity Church, Limerick, entered into negotiations with the said Rev. Dr. Hall for obtaining possession of the said School-house, and applied to the said Commissioners of Education to let or sell the school premises to him:

And whereas, while the said negotiations were still pending, the said Rev. Dr. Hall died, leaving Mary Anne Hall, his widow and personal representative, in possession of the said school premises, and on November 5, 1874, the said Mary Anne Hall, in consideration of £20, granted by deed all her estate and interest in the said school premises, and gave up the possession thereof, to the said Rev. James FitzGerald Gregg, who thereupon entered into and has since had possession of the said premises, and has established and carried on therein a Boarding and Daily School for poor female children:

And whereas, from January 1, 1880, the said Rev. James FitzGerald Gregg became tenant of the said premises, from year to year, to the said Commissioners of Education at a rent of £20 per annum, under an accepted proposal in writing dated December 18, 1879, and has since held the said premises as tenant to the said Commissioners upon the terms stated in the said proposal:

Banagher Royal School.

And whereas King Charles I., by Letters Patent dated September 16, 1629, granted to the Sovereign Burgesses and Free Commons of the borough and town of Banagher, in the King's County, and to their successors for ever, the lands particularly described in the Second Schedule hereto, hereinafter referred to as the Banagher Royal School Estate, to the use of such Schoolmaster as the Lord Deputy or other Chief Governor or Governors of Ireland, for the time being, should appoint to reside and teach in the said town of Banagher; and for want of such Schoolmaster, then to the use of the said Sovereign and Burgesses and their successors for ever, towards the maintenance of a Free School in the said town, and of such Schoolmaster or Schoolmasters as they should appoint to teach School there, until another Schoolmaster should be appointed by the Lord Deputy or other Chief Governor or Governors aforesaid, and then to the use of such Schoolmaster or Schoolmasters for ever:

And whereas a Grammar School was afterwards established in a School-house taken upon lease subject to rent, at Banagher, in pursuance of the said Letters Patent, and was known as Banagher Royal School:

And whereas, by the said Act, 53 George III., cap. 107, it was provided, amongst other things, that the Banagher Royal School Estate should be vested in the said Commissioners of Education and their successors for ever, and it was directed that such proportion as they should think proper of the rents and issues of the said estate should be applied for the use and benefit of the Schoolmaster of the said Banagher Royal School, and after payment of the salary of the Master, that such sum as should be deemed necessary should be applied in or towards the purchasing, procuring, building, enlarging, and repairing the School-house, with the grounds, appurtenances, and other necessary and useful accommodation:

And whereas, in the year 1818, a sum of £298 18*s.* 9*d.* was advanced out of the Consolidated Fund of Ireland to the Head Master of Banagher Royal School, for the purpose of enlarging and improving the said school premises, upon the terms that the said advance should be repaid by yearly instalments of £29 17*s.* 6*d.*, but the said instalments fell into arrear:

And whereas, by the Act 3 George IV., cap. 79, the constitution of the said Commissioners of Education was altered, and it was provided, amongst other things, that whenever any residue should remain of the funds of any of the Royal Schools of Armagh, Dungannon, Enniskillen, Raphoe, Cavan, Banagher, and Carysfort, after defraying the expenses therein mentioned, it should be lawful for the said Commissioners to cause such residue or such part thereof as they should deem sufficient, to be applied to the maintenance and improvement of any other or others of the said Schools:

And whereas the said Commissioners of Education afterwards, from time to time, applied certain sums of money out of other funds in their hands, to the maintenance of the Banagher Royal School, and the sums so applied were entered in the accounts of the said Commissioners as advances to the Banagher Royal School, and the total amount due to the said Commissioners for principal money on foot thereof on December 31, 1892, was £306 12*s.* 1*d.* :

And whereas, in pursuance of their powers in that behalf, the said Commissioners of Education, by Resolution dated June 7, 1839, fixed the salary of the Schoolmaster of Banagher Royal School at the sum of £100 per annum :

And whereas, on January 24, 1874, P. King Joyce, M.A., was appointed Head Master of Banagher Royal School, and performed his duties up to the date of the closing of the School hereinafter mentioned, and was paid his salary, by the said Commissioners, at the rate of £100 per annum, until the appointment of the Receiver hereinafter mentioned :

And whereas, on July 5, 1889, an action was commenced by Her Majesty's Attorney-General for Ireland against the said Commissioners of Education, claiming to have an account taken of what was due by the said Commissioners on foot of the said sum of £298 18*s.* 9*d.* so advanced out of the Consolidated Fund as aforesaid, and to have such sum as should be found due declared well charged upon the Banagher Royal School Estate, and to have a Receiver appointed over the said Estate and all other the revenues of the said School :

And whereas, by the Statement of Defence delivered in the said action on behalf of the said Commissioners on January 27, 1890, the said claim was admitted, and it was, amongst other things, submitted that the yearly salary of £100 payable to the Master of the said School was payable in priority to all other charges ;

And whereas, by a consent in the said action, dated January 4, 1890, and signed by the Solicitors of the Plaintiff and the Defendant respectively, it was consented and agreed that the Plaintiff should be entitled to have judgment entered for a sum of £225 18*s.* 11*d.*, and that the said sum should be declared to be well charged on the lands and revenues of Banagher Royal School, but without prejudice to the rights (if any) of the Master of the School to priority in respect of his demand, and that it should be referred to the Land Judge to appoint a Receiver over the said lands and revenues, and a Receiver was appointed accordingly on January 13, 1890 :

And whereas by Resolution dated January 4, 1890, the said Commissioners resolved to close the Banagher Royal School, and directed that notice of surrender of the premises in which the said School had been carried on should be given to the landlord thereof :

And whereas on February 14, 1890, upon motion for judgment in the said action by the Attorney-General for Ireland, it was declared that the said sum of £298 18*s.* 9*d.* was well charged upon the lands and estate belonging to the said School, and that the sum of £225 18*s.* 11*d.* was due to the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury on foot thereof for principal money, but that no interest was payable in respect of the same, and it was ordered that the Receiver who had been appointed as aforesaid should be continued as such Receiver, and that the said Receiver (after payment of all prior outgoings due in respect of the said lands, and of the salary of the Head Master of the Banagher Royal School, as fixed by the Commissioners of Education in Ireland), should apply the rents, issues, and profits of the said lands in and towards payment of the said sum of £225 18*s.* 11*d.*, and the Plaintiff's costs in the said action, and, subject thereto, in payment of the Defendants costs in the said action, and the said rents, issues, and profits have since been applied accordingly :

And whereas on June 24, 1890, in pursuance of the notice of surrender given as aforesaid, possession of the school premises was given to the landlord thereof, and the Banagher Royal School was closed ;

And whereas the said Commissioners of Education have been reconstituted by the Scheme No. 34, framed under the Educational Endowments (Ireland) Act, 1885, and finally approved by Order of the Lord Lieutenant in Council, dated May 22, 1891 :

And whereas all the properties aforesaid now constitute Educational Endowments within the meaning of the Educational Endowments (Ireland) Act, 1885, and the said Act applies to the same ;

And whereas it has appeared to the Commissioners under the said Act, after due inquiry, that, in order to secure and extend the usefulness of the said Endowments, provision should be made for the future government and management thereof, in manner hereinafter appearing :

Therefore, from and after the date of this Scheme, being the day upon which the Lord Lieutenant shall by Order in Council declare his approbation hereof, the said several Endowments shall be held, governed, managed, and applied for the purposes, with the powers, under the conditions and provisions, and in the manner hereinafter set forth, and not otherwise, any previous Act of Parliament, Letters Patent, Statute, Charter, Scheme, Decree, Order, Deed, Will, Instrument, Trust, or Direction, relating to the subject-matter of this Scheme, to the contrary notwithstanding.

These prizes and exhibitions may be awarded by competition, or by selection according to merit, or according to the results of the examinations held by the Intermediate Education Board, in such manner and subject to such conditions as the Commissioners may from time to time prescribe, so as to enable or aid or encourage such pupils as aforesaid to pursue a course of Intermediate Education, and to present themselves in the several and successive Grades at the examinations held by the Intermediate Education Board.

(c.) To provide and accumulate a reserve fund, out of the capital whereof grants may be made to aid in establishing Intermediate Schools in places within the several and respective localities aforesaid, where it may seem to the Commissioners likely that such Schools will prove permanently useful and successful.

(d.) To defray any expenses properly and necessarily incurred in carrying out the provisions of this Scheme.

Distribution of Funds.

4. In making grants to Schools, and in distributing the funds, under this Scheme, the Commissioners shall have regard to the needs of each locality in respect of Intermediate Education, and to the relative numbers of pupils receiving or requiring Intermediate Education in the several Schools entitled to share in the Endowments. The Commissioners shall satisfy themselves, by such means as they may from time to time think sufficient, that the Endowments are duly expended in accordance with the provisions of this Scheme, and they shall include a report thereon in their annual report to the Lord Lieutenant.

Banagher Royal School Endowments.

5. Immediately after the date of this Scheme, and from time to time afterwards as occasion may require, the Commissioners shall ascertain and fix, and shall notify to the Receiver appointed over the Banagher Royal School Estate the amount, if any, due and payable to the said Patrick King Joyce in respect of his salary, so long as he shall continue to hold office as Head Master. At any time, or from time to time, after the date of this Scheme, the Commissioners, if they think fit, may advance from any other funds in their hands, not immediately required for other purposes, any sum or sums necessary to make the payments directed by the said order of February 14, 1890, and to obtain the discharge of the said Receiver, including any necessary costs and expenses ; the Commissioners shall charge every such advance against the Banagher Royal School Estate, with interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum, payable half-yearly, and shall treat the advance, until repayment, as an investment on account of the Endowment or Endowments out of which the same shall have been made. After all the payments directed by the said order of February, 14, 1890, shall have been made, the Commissioners shall apply to the High Court of Justice in Ireland to be restored to the possession and receipt of the rents and profits of the Banagher Royal School Estate, and for an order that the Receiver shall pass his final account, and shall pay over the balance of moneys in his hands to the Commissioners, and that, upon passing his account and paying over such balance (if any), he be discharged from his Receivership. Whenever the Commissioners shall go into receipt of the rents and profits aforesaid, they shall thenceforth, from time to time, pay the amount, if any, due and payable to the said Patrick King Joyce in respect of his salary, and subject thereto, the Commissioners shall receive and apply the rents issues and profits of the Banagher Royal School Estate, after payment of all proper and necessary charges and outgoings, and the repayment of the several advances hereinbefore mentioned, upon and for the trusts and purposes of this Scheme. The Commissioners, out of the first moneys received by them from the Banagher Royal School Estate and available for that purpose, shall retain and repay all or any sums due on foot of any advances to be made as hereinbefore authorised, and also the principal sum of £306 12*s.* 1*d.* advanced as hereinbefore mentioned, with simple interest on the said several advances at the rate of four per cent. per annum, and shall apply the amount so retained to recoup the several funds out of which the said advances were originally made, and to repay the same, as nearly as may be in the same proportions in which the said several advances were made. Nothing herein contained shall prejudice or affect the rights of the said Patrick King Joyce in respect of his salary, nor the powers and authority of the Commissioners in respect thereof, or in reference to prescribing the duties to be discharged by the said Patrick King Joyce as Head Master of Banagher Royal School, in return for his salary. The Commissioners may also make any arrangement which they may think proper either for the discharge by the said Patrick King Joyce of his duties as Head Master of Banagher Royal School, in return for his salary, or for his release from such duties, and for the termination of his office, in consideration of a reasonable retiring annuity or allowance, to be paid out of the Banagher Royal School Endowment.

Limerick Diocesan School Endowments

6. At any time within six months after the date of this Scheme, the Rev. James FitzGerald Gregg may, by notice in writing, call upon the Commissioners to sell and convey to him and his heirs and assigns, all their estate and interest in the lands buildings and premises described in the First Schedule hereto, Part IV., subject to the subsisting tenancy of the said Rev. James FitzGerald Gregg in the said premises, and to his rights in respect of the said tenancy, under the hereinbefore recited accepted proposal, dated December 18, 1879, at and for the price or sum of Eight Hundred and Thirty-one Pounds, being the estimated value of the interest of the Commissioners in the said premises, and upon the service of the said notice, and payment of the purchase-money aforesaid, and of the rent reserved under the said proposal up to the date of the conveyance, the Commissioners shall, by deed, convey and release the said premises in fee-simple to the said Rev. James FitzGerald Gregg and his heirs and assigns absolutely. If the said Rev. James FitzGerald Gregg shall not serve the said notice within the period aforesaid, or, after service thereof, shall fail to make the said payments and to complete the said purchase within one month after notice so to do, the Commissioners, as soon as conveniently may be thereafter, shall put up for sale by public auction, and shall sell to the best advantage, all their estate and interest in the said premises, subject to the said tenancy and rights of the said Rev. James FitzGerald Gregg under the said accepted proposal, and the Commissioners shall, by deed, convey the said premises in fee-simple to the purchaser thereof and his heirs and assigns, subject to the said tenancy and rights of the said Rev. James FitzGerald Gregg. After providing for the payment of the necessary expenses of the sale and conveyance, and all other proper outgoings in respect of the premises, the Commissioners shall apply the rents and profits of the said premises until sale, and the purchase-money and produce thereof, when sold, upon and for the trusts and purposes of this Scheme.

Inspection.

7. Whenever an Inspector shall be appointed by the Lord Lieutenant in pursuance of the Act, section 17, he shall inspect any Schools sharing in the Endowments once at the least in each year, and so much oftener as the Lord Lieutenant may direct, and shall present his report thereon to the Lord Lieutenant, and the remuneration of such Inspector, as fixed by the Lord Lieutenant, shall be defrayed by the Commissioners out of the Endowments.

Powers of Commissioners.

8. The Commissioners shall cause to be kept separate accounts of the Endowments administered by them under this Scheme, and the Commissioners shall and may exercise in respect of the said Endowments, all the powers of investment, letting, and sale, and all other powers of management, which they may possess and exercise with respect to the other Endowments vested in them.

Printing of Scheme.

9. The Commissioners shall cause this Scheme to be printed, or shall procure printed copies thereof, and shall keep the same for sale at a reasonable price. Printing of Scheme.

Alteration of Scheme.

10. This Scheme may be altered from time to time by the Commissioners of Charitable Donations and Bequests for Ireland, in any matter whatsoever, upon the application of the Commissioners, or of the Intermediate Education Board for Ireland, but except upon such application no alteration shall be so made, and no alteration shall be made contrary to anything contained in the Act. OBJECTIONS

I.—Objection of the LORD BISHOP of LIMERICK.

The Palace, Corbally, Limerick,
26th March, 1894.

SIR,—I beg to object to that part of the Scheme for "the Diocesan Schools and Banagher Royal School Endowments," submitted for the approval of the Lord Lieutenant in Council by the Educational Endowments Commissioners, which deals with the Limerick Diocesan School Endowment, on the grounds that the circumstances of Rev. J. F. Gregg's tenancy, and the uses to which he devotes the school premises do not entitle him to a right of pre-emption, and that the price at which he is allowed to become owner of them is insufficient.

I have the honour to be, sir,
Your obedient servant,
✠EDWARD THOMAS,
Bishop of Limerick.

To the Clerk of Privy Council.

II.—Objection of the CORPORATION of LIMERICK.

To HIS EXCELLENCY the LORD LIEUTENANT in COUNCIL.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY,

We, the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the City of Limerick, hereby object to the Amended Scheme of The Diocesan Schools and Banagher Royal Schools Endowments, so far as relates to the Roxboro' Schools, on the same grounds as appear in the objections heretofore furnished in April, 1893.

We have the honour to be, your Excellency, on behalf of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the City of Limerick.

OBSERVATIONS

Of the JUDICIAL COMMISSIONERS on the foregoing OBJECTIONS.

The Judicial Commissioners respectfully refer to their letter of January 29, 1894, with which the above Scheme was re-submitted for His Excellency's consideration.

They have nothing to add to that letter upon the subject of the Amended Scheme.

They think that the present Objections should be considered in the usual course, and they request that their *letter of January 29, 1894, with this observation, may be brought under the notice of His Excellency in Council.

By order of the Judicial Commissioners,

Secretary.

The Letter of January 29, 1894, above referred to.

23, Nassau Street, Dublin,
January 29, 1894.

Sir,

I am directed by the Judicial Commissioners to submit herewith, for the approval of the Lord Lieutenant in Council, the Amended Scheme prepared by them for the future government and management of the above mentioned Endowments. This Scheme was remitted to my Commissioners on November 15, 1893, with the following Declaration :—

> "That they proceed to take further evidence of value as to the terms upon which the Rev. J. F. Gregg shall be at liberty to exercise his right of pre-emption of the premises of the Roxborough Road School, under the said Scheme."

The basis of the valuation contained in the Amended Scheme, when previously submitted, was a Report and Estimate obtained from William M. Mitchell, R.H.A., the Architect of the Commissioners of Education, in whom the premises were vested. The Judicial Commissioners, before signing the Scheme, had carefully considered the matter, and for the reasons given in the Observations submitted by them to His Excellency on July 20, 1893 (to which they beg to refer), they were of opinion that the price fixed by the Scheme, viz. :—£831, fairly represented the value of the interest of the Commissioners of Education in the premises. The right of pre-emption, at a price to be fixed by valuation, was given to the Rev. J. F. Gregg in obedience to the Declaration of the Lord Lieutenant in Council, with which the Original Scheme was remitted on August 24, 1892.

Upon receipt of the above-quoted Declaration of November 15, 1893, my Commissioners invited all the parties who appeared to be interested in the matter, viz., the Rev. J. F. Gregg ; the Town Council of Limerick ; the Board of Control ; and the Governors of the Limerick Lunatic Asylum ; to submit any further evidence of value which they might desire to bring under consideration. They also requested the Board of Control to inform them whether there was such a prospect of the premises being taken for the purposes of the Limerick Lunatic Asylum as ought to affect their estimated value ; and, lastly, by permission of His Excellency and of Her Majesty's Treasury, they submitted a statement of the case, with copies of Mr. Mitchell's Report and Estimate, to the Commissioner of Valuation, with a request that he would furnish an official valuation, to assist the Judicial Commissioners in giving effect to the Declaration of His Excellency.

The Judicial Commissioners have since received the following further evidence of value :—

No. 1. Report and Estimate, dated January 12, 1894, by R. Fogerty, C.E., Architect of the Representative Church Body for the Province of Munster, submitted by the Rev. J. F. Gregg, valuing the premises, alternatively, as a building site, at £604 10s. 0d., or partly as a School building and partly as building ground, at £600.

No. 2. Report and Estimate, dated January 12, 1894, by Wm. E. Corbett, C.E., City Surveyor of Limerick, who examined the premises in company with Mr. James Browne, C.E., and estimated the value of the School-house, if divided into three dwellinghouses, at £948, and the remaining land as building ground at £286, which amounts to £1,236. If the plot were purchased by the Governors of the Lunatic Asylum he would add £200 to the above sum, making a total of £1,436.

No. 3. Report and Estimate, dated January 12, 1894, by James J. F. Browne, C.E., Architect to the Board of Governors of the Limerick District Lunatic Asylum, who estimated the value of the School premises at £900, and the value of the plot of land at £400, making together £1,300, and stated "that having regard to the want of room by the Governors of the Lunatic Asylum, the value to them would be at least £200 more," making £1,500.

No. 4. Letter, dated January 9, 1894, from the Secretary to the Board of Control, &c., of Lunatic Asylums, stating that his Board, after careful consideration, had come to the conclusion that the place was not suitable for the purpose of being converted into a residence for the Medical Superintendent of the Asylum; that—though the small area made the premises of comparatively small importance as an addition to the grounds available for the labour and recreation of the patients—"it might be desirable to procure them, "provided they were in the market, and the Vendors were disposed to treat "for their sale, on the basis of their value as pasture land or town parks," but "if the valuation already made by the Educational Endowments "Commission, and set forth in the Scheme, is to be taken as any index of the "real value, it is obvious that the premises could only be bought for a sum "far in excess of what the Board would be justified in giving." The letter further stated that the resolution of the Governors of the Asylum, requesting the Board to procure the premises, made no suggestion as to the amount of the purchase-money, and the Board knew nothing of the proposal to give £1,600, contained in the Objection to the Amended Scheme, which the Governors presented to His Excellency on April 4, 1893, and added—"The Board of Control is in a position to inform your Commissioners "that no such offer has been, or will be made by it, or with its sanction, "and that there is no other authority empowered to purchase lands for "the use of a District Lunatic Asylum."

No. 5. Report and Estimate, dated January 15, 1894, by John G. Barton, Commissioner of Valuation, made in accordance with the request of the Judicial Commissioners, and of Her Majesty's Treasury, with a detailed description, map, and valuation of the buildings and land, concurring with Mr. Mitchell's estimate of the value of the buildings, viz., £400, increasing this, with a proposed curtilage, to £500, and valuing the residue as building ground at £374, upon an estimated rental of £19 6*s.* 0*d.* per annum, calculated at twenty-two and a half years' purchase, and deducting £60 for roads, &c., making the total £874, being only £43 more than the sum fixed by the Scheme.

Copies of the several documents above referred to accompany this letter.

Considering the condition of the buildings, their sanitary and structural disadvantages and defects, the large outlay which would be necessary to make the premises profitable, the speculative character of the elements of valuation, the conflicting estimates furnished by the interested parties, the close approximation of the estimates of the Architect of the Commissioners of Education, and the Commissioner of Valuation, and all the other matters appearing on the foregoing documents; and also having regard to their own inspection of the premises, the Judicial Commissioners, upon careful consideration of the further evidence received by them, see no sufficient reason to alter the terms upon which the Amended Scheme provides that the Rev. J. F. Gregg shall be at liberty to exercise his right of pre-emption given in obedience to the Declaration of His Excellency. Therefore having revised the Scheme, they beg respectfully to re-submit it for the approval of the Lord Lieutenant in Council, duly signed.

I am,

Sir,

Your obedient servant,

N. D. Murphy,

Secretary.

EDUCATIONAL ENDOWMENTS (IRELAND) COMMISSION.

SCHEME No. 90.

VALUATIONS

OF LIMERICK DIOCESAN SCHOOLHOUSE, AND

LETTER

FROM THE BOARD OF CONTROL, &C., OF LUNATIC ASYLUMS.

1.—Valuation by the COMMISSIONER OF VALUATION.

REPORT on the DIOCESAN SCHOOL PREMISES, ROXBOROUGH ROAD, LIMERICK.

The premises consist of a school building and one acre one rood nineteen perches of land, the rateable valuation of which is £30.

The house is two storeys high in addition to a basement. The walls and woodwork are sound; the roof so weak as to be a source of danger to the inmates. Its removal is a work which cannot long be postponed.

There is a very spacious schoolroom on the ground floor, and a dormitory of equal size above it. These two rooms constitute a large proportion of the cubical contents of the house.

The basement, very solidly constructed, seems for the most part to have been hewn out of the solid rock. The only means of draining it has been by a well sunk below the level of the foundations, at E on accompanying plan—and this well is now emptied by a hand pump.

As this mode of drainage is quite inadequate, the basement is always damp. It is at present used for kitchens, lavatories, servants' apartments, and pantries, but its deficient light and excessive moisture render it unhealthy, and must sensibly detract from the value of the property.

The sewage pipe referred to by Mr. Mitchell in his report is from F to G on annexed plan, and the tank is at G.

For the purpose of valuation it would be necessary to apportion a curtilage to the school building, and this should obviously be taken in the direction of this sanitary scheme.

A reference to plan will show that in order to arrive at a fair valuation it will be advisable to assign about one-half the area as a curtilage to the house.

While concurring with Mr. Mitchell's estimate of the value of the buildings, viz., £400, I should increase this with proposed curtilage to £500.

Value of residue as follows :—

Building ground, 70 feet at 2s.,	7	0	0
This at 22½ years purchase,	434	5	0

In making the estimate I have taken into account, as an intending purchaser would, the following facts:—

The site is almost on the confines of the city boundary;

It is unsuited for tillage purposes by reason of its shallow soil and underlying rock;

And expensive to drain for building purposes for the same reason.

There are no Corporation main sewers in the neighbouring roads.

ROXBOROUGH SCHOOL, ROXBOROUGH ROAD, LIMERICK.

To the Commissioners of Educational Endowments, Ireland, Dublin.

Limerick, 12th January, 1894.

GENTLEMEN,

1. At the request of the Rev. J. F. Gregg, I have this day inspected the above premises, and have to report as follows:—

2. There are, in my opinion, two methods of arriving at a valuation of these premises (a) the first is as a building site, the school building being removed, (b) the other is by preserving the school building with sufficient curtilage, and valuing the remainder as building ground.

3. (a) The frontage to the Roxborough Road is 201 feet 6 inches, and I should value this at 3*s.* per foot, giving every consideration to the locality, as a building site; this would come to £30 4*s.* 6*d.* per annum as ground rent, and this I capitalize at twenty years purchase, £604 10*s.*

4. I see by Mr. Mitchell's valuation that he proposes to cut up the plot: this could not be done, as the Corporation cannot take over a blind alley, and the maintenance and cost of the drainage, which would be very great, would fall altogether on the landlord.

5. I am informed that the Poor Law Valuation of these premises when they were rated was £30.

6. (b) With regard to the second plan of valuing the present school buildings, I find that the house is in a very dilapidated condition, one portion of the roof is sunk in the centre, and has to be supported by timbers from the ground floor up (put up, under the direction of Mr. Mitchell, for the Commissioners of Education), it would want renewal, the roof timbers being too light and decayed, consequently a very large expenditure will be necessary to put it and the sanitary and other requirements of the building in proper order. The woodwork (including sashes, doors, floors, &c.) is much decayed. In addition there is no main drainage to connect the sewerage of the building with. The house depends at present on a cesspool at the far end of the field.

7. Under these circumstances I consider the building is of little value except as a school-house, as it would take more to alter it into dwelling houses, than what would remain of the old building would be worth.

8. A further drawback to the building is the want of drainage to command the lower story, as the public road drain if made would require to be sunk a considerable depth, and all in rock cutting; so the lower story should be abandoned, and filled in, as it is at present dark, gloomy and damp, being only lighted by gratings from the ground outside. This would necessitate the building of an addition to form kitchen, &c., on ground level, if any alterations were made in the fabric.

9. Valuing the building then as a school premises, I consider that the large expenditure necessary to put the house in proper order practically reduces its value to the cost of the masonry standing (see paragraph 6), this I value at £300.

10. The remainder of the frontage—100 feet then available for building purposes, I would value at £300, but if utilized for artisans' dwellings it would considerably reduce the value of the School premises, if not destroy it for school purposes altogether.

3.—Valuation by James J. F. Browne, Architect to the Board of Governors of the Limerick District Lunatic Asylum.

Limerick, 23, Glentworth-street,
12th January, 1894.

Dear Sir,—I beg to state that on the 10th instant I visited and examined the Roxborough Road School and Ground, with Mr. William E. Corbett, C.E., City Surveyor, to report as to their present value.

I consider that the Residence of the Manageress is in a fair condition of repair, it contains No. 3 floors. The accommodation comprises — kitchen, pantry, and store-rooms in basement; drawing-room, dining room, and study on ground floor; bed-rooms, closets, and bath-room on upper floor. From my calculation I estimate the value of the house at £900.

The plot of ground on which the School stands has a frontage of 200 feet, and a depth from front to rere of 310 feet, and contains 1½ statute acres; which at £20 ground rent, capitalized at 20 y.p., I would value at £400.

Estimated value of School premises, .	900
„ „ Plot of Land, .	400
	£1,300

I think that having regard to the want of room by the Governors of the Lunatic Asylum the value to them would be at least £200 more.

I am, dear Sir, faithfully yours,

James J. F. Browne, Architect to the Board of Governors,
Limerick District Lunatic Asylum.

P. S. Connolly, Esq., Solicitor.

"Roxborough Road Schools."

Dear Sir,—I have to inform you that on the 10th inst., in company with Mr. James Browne, C.E., I visited and examined the Roxborough Road Schools. The plot of ground measures 200 feet by 310 feet in depth, between the boundary walls. The frontage of the Schools measures 86 feet, and the house is in fair repair except the roof over the School. Between the house and the railway grounds, there is a frontage of 102 feet.

I consider the School-room and porch at the end could be divided into two dwelling-houses, thus making three houses of the building, and on the frontage of the 102 feet, five dwelling-houses could be erected, all having ground in the rere, 190 feet in depth, by the width of each house.

I estimate the value of the three houses at £948, and the frontage of 102 feet (to be let as building ground) at £286, which amounts to £1,234.

If the plot were purchased by the Governors of the Lunatic Asylum, I would add £200 to the above sum.

I remain, dear sir,

Yours faithfully,

William E. Corbett, C.E., M.R.I.A.I.,
City Surveyor.

5.—Letter from the Board of Control, &c., of Lunatic Asylums.

Custom House, Dublin,
9th January, 1894.

Limerick Lunatic Asylum.

Sir,—Referring to your letter of the 18th ultimo, I am directed to state that on the 2nd November last a Resolution was passed by the Governors of the Limerick District Lunatic Asylum requesting the Board of Control to procure the grounds and building known as the "Roxboro' Road" School with the view to their being converted into a residence for the Resident Medical Superintendent of the Institution. The Board, after careful consideration, have come to the conclusion that the place is not suitable for this purpose, upon the ground that the apartments of the Medical Superintendent in the case of every District Lunatic Asylum ought to be in the Asylum itself, or so close to it as to form practically part of the same building.

The Board has also considered, in connection with the Resolution of the Governors, whether it would be advisable to acquire the premises as an addition to the grounds now available for the labour and recreation of the patients, a substantial enlargement of which would be an undoubted advantage. The Board is of opinion that although this small area (five roods and a quarter, statute measure) makes them of comparatively small importance for this purpose, it might be desirable to procure them, provided they were in the market, and the vendors were disposed to treat for their sale on the basis of their value as pasture land or townparks. The Board, however, presumes that there is no prospect of this; and if the valuation already made by the Educational Endowments Commission, and set forth in the Scheme referred to in your letter, is to be taken as any index of the real value, it is obvious that the premises could only be bought for a sum far in excess of what the Board would be justified in giving.

Under these circumstances the Board have thought it useless to have any independent valuation made or to take any further steps in the matter.

The resolution of the Governors made no suggestion as to the amount of the purchase money, and the Board knows nothing of the proposal to give £1,600 referred to in your letter; but the Board of Control is in a position to inform your Commissioners that no such offer has been or will be made by it or with its sanction, and that there is no other authority empowered to purchase lands for the use of a District Lunatic Asylum.—I am, sir, your obedient servant,

P. J. Tuohy,
Secretary.

CODE (1894)

OF THE

SCOTCH EDUCATION DEPARTMENT.

PRELIMINARY CHAPTER.

1. A SUM of money is annually granted by Parliament "For public "Education in Scotland."

2. This grant is administered by the Scotch Education Department,* herein-after called the Department.

3. The object of the grant is to aid local exertion, under certain conditions, to maintain—

(a.) Schools for children (Article 6); and

(b.) Training colleges for teachers (Article 83).

4. Aid to maintain schools is given by annual grants conditional upon the attendance and proficiency of the scholars, the qualifications of the teachers, and the state of the schools.

5. These grants are made,—

(a.) "To any school board for and in respect of the public schools under their management."

(b.) "To the managers of any school which is, in the opinion of the Department, efficiently contributing to the secular education of the parish or burgh in which it is situated." (Education (Scotland) Act, 1872, sec. 67 (2.).)

6. In every school, or department of a school, in respect of which grants are made, the following regulations must be strictly observed :—

(a.) "The school shall be open to children of all denominations, and any child may be withdrawn by his parents from any instruction in religious subjects and from any religious observance in any such school; and no child shall in any such school be placed at any disadvantage with respect to the secular instruction given therein by reason of the denomination to which such child or his parents belong, or by reason of his being withdrawn from any instruction in religious subjects."

(b.) "The time or times during which any religious observance is practised or instruction in religious subjects is given at any meeting of the school for elementary instruction shall be either at the beginning or at the end, or at the beginning and at the end, of such meeting, and shall be specified in a table approved of by the Scotch Education Department." (Education (Scotland) Act, 1872, sec. 68.) This time table is to be submitted to the inspector for approval, on behalf of the Department, at the time of his annual visit (Article 11).

(c.) The education given must consist chiefly of elementary instruction (Article 28).

(d.) The ordinary payments in respect of the instruction, from each child, must not exceed ninepence a week on the average number on the books.

The "ordinary payment" will, as a rule, be found by dividing the total amount of fees payable for any week by the number of scholars on the registers for that week.

* "The term 'Scotch Education Department' shall mean The Lords of any "Committee of the Privy Council appointed by Her Majesty on Education in "Scotland" (Education (Scotland) Act, 1872, s. 1).

No school shall be eligible for grants if—

(a.) the average fee exceeds ninepence a week, or

(b.) more than one-third of the scholars in it pay fees exceeding ninepence a week.

Compulsory payments for books or material must be included in reckoning the fee.

7. No grant is made for or in respect of—

(a.) Instruction in religious subjects (Education (Scotland) Act, 1872, sec. 67 (a.)).

(b.) A school established after the passing of the Education (Scotland) Act (6 August 1872), unless the Department shall after due inquiry be satisfied that no sufficient provision exists for the children for whom the school is intended, regard being had to the religious belief of their parents, or that it is otherwise specially required in the locality where it is situated (ibid., sec. 67 (b.)).

(c.) Higher class public schools (ibid., sec. 62–64).

8. Officers are employed to collect information, to examine whether the conditions required to be fulfilled by a school in order to obtain an annual parliamentary grant have been fulfilled, and to report the results to the Department, with whom it rests finally to determine whether these conditions have been fulfilled.

9. These officers are inspectors appointed by Her Majesty, on the recommendation of the Department, sub-inspectors, and persons employed by the Department, as occasion requires, in the capacity of acting inspectors, inspector's assistants, or auditors of accounts.

10. No grant is paid except on a report from one of such officers, unless some unforeseen cause (such as a continued epidemic) makes it impossible for the inspector to visit and report upon the school.

(a.) The inspector may delegate to an assistant the duty of examining into the attendance and proficiency of the scholars.

(b.) The Inspector's annual visit to an infant school may be omitted if he has paid to such school not less than two visits without notice.

11. The Department, at the time of agreeing to place a school on the list of those to which grants may be made, informs the managers in what month to look for the inspector's annual visit. This month remains the same from year to year, unless the Department informs the managers of a change. Notice of the day of the inspector's annual visit is given beforehand to the managers.

12. An inspector, sub-inspector, or inspector's assistant may visit any public school, or other school subject to inspection, at any other time without notice.

13. Grants are issued to each school only once per annum. The year for this purpose is reckoned as ending with the last day (inclusive) of the month preceding that fixed for the inspector's annual visit.

Exceptions :—

An instalment of the grant conditionally due may be paid,—

(a.) When the inspector's visit is postponed, owing to a change in the month of inspection (Article 11), for three months or upwards.

(b.) When from an epidemic, or other unavoidable cause, the inspection cannot be held within three months after the date at which the grant is due.

14. No school is placed on the list for inspection (Article 11) till an application has been addressed to the Secretary, Scotch Education Department, Dover House, Whitehall, London, S.W.

Full instructions are thereupon issued according to the particulars of the case.

15. The managers of a school must appoint a correspondent with the Department, and must give notice to the Department of any change of correspondent.

(a.) Teachers cannot act as managers of, or correspondents for, the schools in which they are employed, nor can they be recognised by the Department as clerks, or treasurers, of school boards, unless very special grounds can be shown for their holding such appointments.

(b.) The term managers includes,—

1. The School Board of any burgh or parish.
2. The managers of a public school appointed by a School Board under section 22 of the Education (Scotland) Act, or in terms of the Minute of the Scotch Education Department of the 10th April 1894.
3. The managers of any school to which grants are made pursuant to Article 5 (b).

CHAPTER I.

ANNUAL GRANTS.

PART I.

SCHOOLS FOR CHILDREN.

SECTION I.

Preliminary Conditions.

17. Before any grant is made to a school (Article 4) the Department must be satisfied that—

(a.) The school is conducted in accordance with the terms of Article 6; and no child is refused admission on other than reasonable grounds.

(b.) The school must not be conducted for private profit, and must not be farmed out by the managers to the teacher. The managers must be responsible for the payment of teachers and all other expenses of the school.

(c.) The premises are healthy, well lighted, cleaned, warmed, drained, and ventilated, properly furnished, supplied with suitable offices, and contain sufficient accommodation for the children attending the school.*

(d) The principal teacher is certificated (Article 43), and is not allowed to undertake duties, not connected with the school, which occupy any part whatever of the school hours, or of the time appointed for the special instruction of pupil-teachers (Schedule II. 5).

* In administering this Article the Department will endeavour to secure at least 80 cubical feet of internal space, and 8 square feet of area, for each child in average attendance in each room; but in schools erected, since the 1st January 1874, with the aid of a building grant or loan, the average attendance should not exceed the number of children for whom the plans were approved by the Department.

(e.) Due notice is given to the Department of any changes in the school staff (Article 39) which occur in the course of the year. The first grant to a school is, as a rule, computed from the date at which (1) the appointment of a certificated teacher is notified to, and approved by, the Department; or (2) the acting teacher passes the examination for a certificate (Article 44).

(f.) The girls are, as a rule, taught plain needlework * and cutting out as part of the ordinary course of instruction.

(g.) All returns called for by the Department, or by Parliament, are duly made; the admission and daily attendance of the scholars carefully registered by, or under the supervision of, the teacher (Article 67); accounts of income and expenditure accurately kept by the managers, and duly audited; and all statistical returns and certificates of character (Articles 67, 77, and 80) may be accepted as trustworthy.

(h.) Three persons have designated one of their number to sign the receipt for the grant.

Exception:—

The treasurer of a school board signs the receipt for grants to schools under the management of the board, not being schools in which the Minute of the 10th April, 1894, is applied.

(i.) The income of the school is applied only for the purpose of† public or State-aided schools.

18. The grant may be withheld, if, on the inspector's report, there appears to be any serious primâ facie objection. A second inspection, by a Chief Inspector, is made in every such instance, and if the grant be finally withheld, a special minute of the case is made and recorded.

Grants to Day Schools.

19. The managers of a school which has met not less than 400‡ times, in the morning and afternoon, in the course of a year, as defined by Article 13, may claim at the end of such year—

A. The following sums per scholar, according to the average number in attendance throughout the year (Article 26).

(1.) 10*s.*; or in any parish (or burgh in which the population does not exceed 10,000) in the counties of Inverness, Argyll, Ross, Sutherland, Caithness, and Orkney and Shetland, where the average attendance exceeds

* This includes darning, mending, marking, and knitting; but no fancy work of any kind may be done in school hours. See Schedule III., which contains a scheme of instruction in needlework, according to which it must be taught where a grant is claimed under Article 19 A. (4) or 19 C. 1 (d).

† See Elementary Education Act, 1876, sections 20 and 53. Any income from endowment, if spent according to the terms of the trust, is not affected by this rule.

‡ Exceptions:—

i. If a school is employed for the purpose of taking the poll at a Parliamentary election, under section 6 of the Ballot Act, 1872, or at an election for a county council in terms of section 30 (sub-section 5) of the Local Government (Scotland) Act, 1889, the number of meetings during which the managers are deprived of the use of the school, solely in consequence of its being so employed, may, if necessary, be counted in making up the 400 meetings of the school.

ii. If a school claiming annual grants for the first time has not been open for the whole year (Article 13); or, if a school has been closed during the year, under medical authority, as necessary to prevent the spread of epidemic disease, or for any unavoidable cause, intimation having been duly given to the Department at the time, a proportionate reduction is made from the number of meetings (400). If the school is closed on account of epidemic for x weeks, the number of meetings required will be $\frac{46-x}{46} \times 400$.

65 per cent. but does not exceed 70 per cent. of the average number* of children whose names are entered on the school register, 11*s.*; where the average attendance exceeds 70 per cent. but does not exceed 75 per cent. of such number, 12*s.*; where the average attendance exceeds 75 per cent. but does not exceed 80 per cent. of such number, 13*s.*; where the average attendance exceeds 80 per cent. of such number, 14*s.*†

(2.) 1*s.* if the scholars are satisfactorily taught to sing by note, i.e., by the standard or any recognised notation; or 6*d.* if they are satisfactorily taught to sing by ear.

(3.) 1*s.* 6*d.*, if the inspector reports that the organization and discipline are excellent; or, 1*s.* if he reports that they are good.

(4.) 1*s.* if the girls are satisfactorily taught needlework according to the Third Schedule.

N.B.—This grant is calculated on the average attendance of girls only.

The inspector will bear in mind, in reporting on the organization and discipline, the results of any visits without notice (Article 12) made in the course of the school year; and will not interfere with any method of organization adopted in a training college under inspection if it is satisfactorily carried out in the school. To meet the requirements respecting discipline, the managers and teachers will be expected to satisfy the inspector that all reasonable care is taken, in the ordinary management of the school, to bring up the children in habits of punctuality, of good manners and language, of cleanliness and neatness, and also to impress upon the children the importance of cheerful obedience to duty, of consideration and respect for others, and of honour and truthfulness in word and act.

B. Also a grant per scholar on the examination in Elementary or Standard subjects,

1. (a.) According to the average number in attendance throughout the year of children under Standard III., of 1*s.*, if the inspector reports that the teaching of such children is fair; 2*s.* if he reports that it is good; 3*s.* if he reports that it is excellent.

(b.) According to the average number in attendance throughout the year of children above Standard III., of 1*s.* 6*d.* if the inspector reports that the teaching of such children is fair; 2*s.* 6*d.* if he reports that it is good; 3*s.* 6*d.* if he reports that it is excellent.

2. If the infants, i.e., children under Standard I., are taught as a separate department, by a certificated teacher and in accordance with a time-table of their own, in a room properly constructed and furnished for their instruction, the grant (Article 19 B.) in that department may be increased by one shilling per head.

* This average is found by dividing the sum of the numbers remaining on the school register at the end of each week (to be duly noted at the time) by the number of weeks during which the school has met.

† The special rates of payment will not be payable if it appears to the Department that the school board are failing to take all reasonable means to secure the regular attendance at school of all children of school age within the School Board District. For the purpose of calculating the per-centage of average attendance to the number on the school register, the additional attendances allowed under Art. 23 (b.) are not included.

The names of scholars temporarily absent owing to sickness must be retained on the register unless the sickness has been certified on medical authority to be of an epidemic character or such as necessarily to entail prolonged absence from school.

3. In the counties specified in Article 19 A. (1.) if the children under Standard III. are partly taught by a Gaelic-speaking pupil-teacher whose services are not required under Article 32 (c) in respect of the average attendance at the school, the grant (Article 19 B. 1 (a.)) per head on the average number in attendance under that Standard may be increased by one shilling.
4. All scholars whose names are on the registers of the School must, as a rule, be present at the inspection, unless there is a reasonable excuse for their absence. All the scholars present are liable to be examined.
5. The instruction of the scholars must include the three subjects of Reading, Writing, and Arithmetic, given, except in the case of infants, according to the Standard (Article 28), in each of these subjects, which is suitable to the capacity of each scholar. As a rule the scholars examined in any subject of instruction will be examined in the classes in which they are taught.
6. In ordinary circumstances scholars should be advanced not less than one Standard in a year.
7. If the School is taught in separate departments, each department will be separately reported on, and the grant under this Article (Article 19 B), may be paid at a different rate for each.

C. A grant on the examination in class subjects amounting to 1*s.* or 2*s.* for each subject if the inspector reports that the teaching is fair (1*s.*) or good (2*s.*).

This grant is paid on the average attendance throughout the year of children above seven years of age.

1. The recognised class subjects (Schedule V.) are :—
   (a.) English.
   (b.) Geography.
   (c.) History.
   (d.) Needlework for girls (according to the Third Schedule).
   (e.) Elementary Science.
2. In districts where Gaelic is spoken, the intelligence of the children examined under any paragraph of this Article (19) may be tested by requiring them to explain in Gaelic* the meaning of any passages read or recited.
3. All scholars present at the Inspection are liable to be examined in any class subjects that are taken.
4. The mode of examination† is left to the discretion of the inspector.
5. Not more than three class subjects may be taken.
6. If girls take needlework as a class subject, the grant of 1*s.* under Article 19 A. 4. cannot be paid on the average attendance of girls above seven years of age.
7. If the girls in a mixed school take needlework and the boys another subject, the grant may be paid on the average attendance of boys and girls separately.

* Gaelic may be taught during the ordinary school hours, either by the certificated teacher, or by any person specially employed for the purpose.

† Examination on paper will, as a rule, be confined to scholars above Standard V.

No payment for the girls' needlework will be made in this case unless the boys take a corresponding class subject or, in place of such corresponding subject, are examined in drawing by the Science and Art Department.

8. The examination of the children varies according to their standards. The work for each standard in the class subjects other than needlework is set forth in the Fifth Schedule.

D. A special grant* of 10*l.* (or 15*l.*), subject to a favourable report from the inspector, if the population within two miles, by the nearest road, from the school is less than 300 (or 200) souls, and there is no other public or State-aided school recognised by the Department as available for that population.

N.B.—This special grant is not taken into account in making a reduction under Article 32 (a).

(a.) In thinly peopled districts where the number of scholars that can be brought together at one centre is less than 20, children under 10 years of age living more than two miles and children over 10 years of age living more than four miles from any aided school, or separated from it by the sea, may be instructed at their own homes, or elsewhere, by a teacher approved by the inspector, and working under the supervision of the certificated teacher of a school to which grants are made. If these scholars, having been so instructed on 60 days in the year, are presented to the inspector on the day of his annual visit to the central school, or at some other school approved by the Department, the managers of such school may claim—

(1.) 14*s.* for children under Standard III. (Article 28), if the inspector reports that the teaching of such children is fair; 16*s.* if he reports that it is good; 18*s.* if he reports that it is excellent.

(2.) 15*s.* for children above Standard III., if the inspector reports that the teaching of such children is fair; 17*s.* if he reports that it is good; 19*s.* if he reports that it is excellent.

In awarding the grants under sections (1) and (2), the character of the instruction in class subjects and needlework will be taken into account.

(b.) When the number of scholars so instructed, at more than one centre, by one or more such teachers, and presented to the inspector, reaches 15, the managers may claim a grant of 10*l.* in addition to the amount earned by examination.

E. A grant according to the following scale is made in respect of each pupil-teacher† required by Article 32 (c.), or in any of the counties of Inverness, Argyll, Ross, Sutherland, Caithness,

* See Elementary Education Act, 1876, sections 10 (2 and 3) and 53.

† This grant should in the first place be employed to provide such text-books and works of reference as are required for the instruction of the pupil-teachers. The remainder, if any, should be divided between the teacher and pupil-teachers in such proportion as the managers may determine.

and Orkney and Shetland, although not so required, employed in giving bilingual instruction to Gaelic-speaking children,* who has passed a good or fair examination at one of the examinations of pupil-teachers, or has obtained a place in the first or second class in the Queen's Scholarship Examination :—

——	1st Year.	2nd Year.	3rd Year.	Queen's Scholarship.

(a.) A grant of 10*l.* [or 15*l.*] is made in respect of each assistant teacher required to make up the minimum staff of the school, who after serving in that capacity for three years in schools under the same management, and receiving during that time special instruction under arrangements approved by the Department, obtains a place in the second [or first] division at the examination for certificates, in second year papers.

20. For each blind or deaf-mute scholar in a day or evening school, or in any institution for the education of blind or deaf-mute children, approved by the Department, grants may be allowed—

(a.) At the rate of 3*l.* 3*s.* a year if such scholar has been instructed in elementary or class subjects and his attainments are found to be satisfactory, regard being had to his necessary disqualifications.

(b.) At the rate of 2*l.* 2*s.* a year if such scholar has received satisfactory instruction and made satisfactory progress in some course of manual instruction approved by the Department.

21. If the time table of the school has provided for the continuous teaching throughout the year of one or more specific subjects of secular instruction according to the table in Schedule IV.—

(a.) A grant of 4*s.* per subject may be made for every day scholar, presented in Standards V.–VI. (Article 28) who passes a satisfactory examination in not more than two of such subjects. Where, in any parish (not burgh) in one of the counties of Inverness, Argyll, Ross, Sutherland, Caithness, and Orkney and Shetland, there shall be maintained at one or more centres, sanctioned by the Department, a school in which at least one teacher shall be a graduate in arts or science of some university of the United Kingdom,† and where, independently of such teacher, there shall be provided a staff which, after a deduction of 30 scholars from the average attendance, shall fulfil the requirements of Article 32 (c.), in such a school this grant may be increased to 10*s.* per subject.

(b.) Any scholar who has previously been presented in Standard VI., and is now presented in the class subjects, may be presented for examination in three specific subjects.‡

* This payment applicable to the specified counties shall not be claimable in respect of more than one pupil-teacher in each school.

† This qualification will not be enforced in the case of schools where the principal teacher was appointed before 30th April 1885.

‡ A scholar who has been prepared for presentation in Standard VI., but owing to illness or other cause approved by the inspector has not been presented in that standard, may be presented in three specific subjects under this article. Scholars beyond Standard VI. will be expected to show satisfactory progress in Standard subjects.

In the case of a successful candidate for the merit certificate (Article 29), grants may be allowed for each stage of the specific subject taken by him, for which a grant has not previously been paid on account of such candidate†: provided that not more than three payments in all under this Article be made on account of any one scholar.

(c.) Except in the case of successful candidates for the merit certificate (Article 29), no payment will be made under this Article, unless either at the current inspection or at that of the preceding year the school has obtained at least the mark "good" under Article 19 B. 1 both under and over Standard III.

(d.) No grant may be claimed under this Article on account of any scholar who has been examined, in the same subject, within the preceding year, by the Department of Science and Art.‡

(e.) A scholar may not be examined a second time in the same stage of a specific subject, unless he has failed to pass in that stage; nor, after being examined in a subject, may the scholar change it for another, before completing the first, except under special circumstances, and when the consent of the Department has been obtained.

22. Where the inspector reports that special and appropriate provision is made for the practical teaching of cookery by a teacher who holds a certificate from a training school of cookery recognised by the Department, or whose competency is otherwise proved to the satisfaction of the Department, there may be made (a) a grant of 4*s.* on account of any girl presented for examination in the fourth or any higher standard, or who has previously been presented in Standard VI., who has attended not less than 40 hours during the school year at a cookery class, and has spent not less than 20 of those hours in cooking with her own hands in a class in which not more than 24 scholars are taught at the same time by one teacher, or (b) a grant of 2*s.* on account of any girl so qualified who has attended not less than 24 hours, and has spent not less than 12 of those hours in cooking with her own hands in a class in which not more than 12 scholars are taught at the same time by one teacher. A girl attending this class should receive concurrently some instruction in domestic economy.

(a.) Where the inspector reports that special and appropriate provision has been made for the practical teaching of laundry-work by a teacher recognised by the Department as qualified to teach that subject, a grant of 2*s.* is made on account of any girl presented for examination in the fourth or any higher Standard, or who has previously been presented in Standard VI.,

† Thus on account of a candidate who obtains the merit certificate, not having previously passed in any stage of the specific subject chosen, 12*s.* will be allowed while, if the candidate has already passed in one stage of the subject, 8*s.* will be allowed.

‡ See Directory of Science and Art Department (1893), p. 29, regulation 11. "No pupil in an elementary school, receiving aid from the Scotch Education "Department, may be presented for examination by the Department of Science and Art "or registered in any subject of science until he has passed Standard VI. of the "Scotch Code: * * * *

"No pupil of an Elementary School may be presented for examination by the "Department of Science and Art in any subject in which he has been examined, "since the preceding 1st August, by the Scotch Education Department for a class "or specific subject grant."

who has attended not less than 20 hours during the school year at a laundry class of not more than 14 scholars. This grant is not made on account of any girl who is presented for examination in more than one specific subject (Article 21 (a.)), or more than two specific subjects (Article 21 (b.)), but a grant may be also claimed on her account for cookery or dairy work.

(b.) Where the inspector reports that special and appropriate provision has been made for the practical teaching of dairy work by a teacher holding a certificate recognised by the Department, or otherwise recognised by the Department as competent to teach dairy work, a grant of 4*s.* is made on account of any girl presented for examination in the fourth or any higher standard, or who has previously been presented in Standard VI., who has attended for not less than 20 lessons, of at least two hours each, a class of not more than 14 scholars. This grant is not made on account of any girl who is presented for examination in more than one specific subject (Article 21 (a)), or more than two specific subjects (Article 21 (b)), but a grant may be also claimed on her account for cookery or laundry work.

Calculation of Attendance.

23. Attendance at a morning or afternoon meeting may not be reckoned for any scholar who has been under instruction in secular subjects less than two hours,* if above, or one hour and a half† if under, seven years of age; nor attendance at an evening meeting for any scholar who has been under similar instruction less than one hour.

(a.) Between the 1st of November and 1st of March, two attendances may be registered for any scholar who has been under secular instruction for four hours, in the morning and afternoon taken together.

(b.) Two consecutive hours are reckoned as an attendance and a half in the case of—

(1.) Scholars who have passed the 3rd Standard‡ and are—

(a.) Employed under any half-time Act.

(b.) Over 10 years of age and certified by the managers to be prevented from giving full attendance at school in consequence of being beneficially and necessarily employed at work during school hours.

(2.) Scholars residing two miles or upwards from a suitable State-aided school.

* This may include an interval of 15 minutes for recreation during a meeting of 3 hours, or 5 to 10 minutes in a shorter meeting.

† Not including any time allowed for recreation.

‡ Education (Scotland) Act, 1883, § 8: "Passing a standard within the meaning " of the two immediately preceding sections signifies passing in each of the three " subjects of reading, writing, and elementary arithmetic, as prescribed for the re- " spective standards of examination by the minutes of the Scotch Education Depart- " ment regulating the administration of the parliamentary grant for Education in " Scotland for the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-three, or for any " subsequent year."

Provided that the attendances shall not be so reckoned in the case of any scholar who has not attended at least 150 times in the course of the school year; and that the additional attendances shall be limited to such a number as, when added to the number of actual attendances, will give a total equal to three-fourths of the number of attendances which such scholar could have made during the year.

24. Attendance of boys at military drill, or swimming lessons, under a competent instructor, or of girls at lessons in practical cookery, laundry, or dairy work, approved by the inspector, may, in a day school, be counted as school attendance for not more than 40 hours in the year, and (in the case of drill and swimming lessons) two hours a week.

25. Attendances may not be reckoned for any scholar in a day school under 3 or above 18 years of age.

26. The average number in attendance for any period is found by adding together the attendances of all the scholars for that same period and dividing the sum by the number of times the school has met within the same period; the quotient is the average number in attendance.

28. *Standards of Examination.

—	Standard I.	Standard II.	Standard III.	Standard IV.	Standard V.	Standard VI.

Arithmetic.†	Notation and numeration up to 1,000. Simple addition and subtraction of numbers of not more than three figures. In addition, not more than five lines to be given. Revisal of the work of previous standards with more difficult examples.

* Scholars may be examined in the work of any standard lower than that in which they are presented.

 Reading with intelligence will be required in all the standards and increased fluency and expression in the successive years. It will be tested in the ordinary class books, if approved by the Inspector; but these books must be of reasonable length and difficulty, and unmarked. If they are not so, books brought by the Inspector will be used. All standards must have, at least, two sets of reading books, one of which may be a manual of history or geography, of sufficient length and difficulty to serve as a reading book.

† The work of girls will be judged more leniently than that of boys. The Inspector may examine scholars in Mental Arithmetic, suitable to their respective standards, in order to test their readiness and accuracy.

‡ The tables to be learned include those weights and measures only which are in ordinary use, viz.:—

Weight.—The ton, hundredweight, quarter, stone, pound, ounce, and drachm.
Length.—The mile, furlong, chain, rod or pole, yard, foot, and inch.
Area.—The square mile, acre, rood, pole or perch, the square yard, foot, and inch.

29. A certificate of merit will be granted by the Department to any scholar over 13 years of age, who satisfies the inspector that he has attained a standard of thorough efficiency in the three elementary subjects (Article 28) as well as in the class subjects (at least two) professed in the school, and who at the same time passes an examination embracing all the stages of one specific subject or two stages of two specific subjects.

The managers will furnish a list (on a schedule supplied by the Department on special application by the managers) of the scholars to be presented for merit certificates; and the teacher must certify to the character and conduct of each pupil admitted to the examination.

The merit certificate will attest thorough efficiency in the three elementary subjects, and will state the specific and class subjects taken by the scholar to whom it is granted. No merit certificate will be issued to a scholar who has not mastered all the standards set forth in Article 28, or who does not show ease and fluency in reading, considerable facility in writing and composition, and the power of applying the rules of arithmetic in a way likely to prove useful in the common affairs of life. Some test of mental arithmetic may also be applied.

Reduction of Grant.

32. The amount which may be claimed by the managers (Articles 19 to 22) may be reduced,*—

(a.) If it exceeds 17*s.* 6*d.* per scholar in average attendance during the year (Article 13), by its excess above the income† of the school from all sources whatever, other than the grant; provided that this reduction does not bring the grant below 17*s.* 6*d.* per scholar.

Exception:—

In any parish (not burgh) in the counties of Inverness, Argyll, Ross, Orkney and Shetland, Sutherland and Caithness, "where "a School rate of not less than 3*d.* in the pound, on the "rateable value of the parish has been levied," (Education (Scotland) Act, 1872, sec. 67, and Parliamentary Grant (Caithness and Sutherland) Act, 1889) this Article will not be enforced.

(b.) By not less than one-tenth nor more than one-half in the whole upon the inspector's report, for faults of instruction, including instruction of pupil-teachers, discipline, or registration, on the part of the teacher, or for failure on the part of the managers to exercise due care in the supervision and verification of the registers, for overcrowding of class-rooms, or for untidy state of rooms or offices, or (after six months'

* The conditions of this Article do not apply to grants under Article 20.

† See Elementary Education Act, 1876, sections 19 (1) and 53. This may include part of the salary of an organizing teacher, or of a teacher of Gaelic, drill, cooking, or any other special subject, employed by the managers of several schools, or a small expenditure on a school library; but not expenditure on Sunday schools or on such items as school treats, clothing, money prizes, interest on, or repayment of, loans (Education (Scotland) Act, 1872, § 45), or any outlay on the premises beyond the cost of ordinary repairs or any outlay for other purposes not recognised by the Department, as educational.

notice) for failure on the part of the managers to remedy any defect in the premises which seriously interferes with the efficiency of the school, or to provide proper furniture, books, maps, and other apparatus of elementary instruction. If the inspector at a visit without notice (Article 12), not less than six months after intimation has been given of the requirements of the Department, reports that they have not been carried into effect, a deduction may be made from the next grant to the school.

(c.)—1. If a staff of pupil-teachers (Article 70) is not provided, at the rate of one for every 30 (or fraction of 30) scholars over three years of age in average attendance, after the first 60,—

A deduction, at the rate of 1*l.* for the year, will be made on account of each of the first 15 scholars out of every 30 for whom a pupil-teacher is required but not provided.*

2. A certificated (Article 43) assistant teacher, is sufficient for a further average attendance of 70 scholars; an assistant teacher fulfilling the conditions of Article 79 (a) or (b), for 50 scholars; and an assistant teacher fulfilling the conditions of Article 79 (c.), for 40 scholars.

3. In mixed, girls', and infant schools a woman (not less than 18 years of age) if employed throughout the day in the general instruction of the scholars, and in teaching needlework, is, if approved by the inspector, accepted as equivalent to a pupil-teacher.

(d.) By one twelfth for each month of interval between the employment of two certificated teachers (Article 17 (d)). This reduction is not made if the interval does not exceed three months, during which the school has been in charge of an uncertificated teacher.

33. If the excess of scholars has arisen from increased attendance since the last settlement of the school staff (Article 39), the amount claimed by the managers is not reduced under Article 32 (c).

School Diary, Log-Book, &c.

34. In every school receiving annual grants, the managers must provide out of the school funds, besides the Code for the year, and registers of attendance (Article 17 (g.)),—

(a.) A diary or log-book.

(b.) A portfolio to contain official letters, which should be numbered in the order of their receipt.

(c.) A time table. This must be approved by the managers and signed by Her Majesty's Inspector, and must show the hours of instruction in the various elementary class and specific subjects, and also the hours given to the instruction of pupil-teachers and monitors, and the subjects of their instruction.

35. The diary or log-book must be stoutly bound and contain not less than 300 ruled pages.

* According to this rule,—

(1.) No pupil-teacher is required when the average attendance does not exceed 60.

(2.) One pupil-teacher is required when it exceeds 60 but does not exceed 90.

(3.) Two pupil-teachers are required when it exceeds 90 but does not exceed 120, and so on, but see Article 70 (g).

36. The principal teacher must make at least once a week in the log-book an entry which will specify the progress of the pupils, monitors, and pupil-teachers, visits of managers, and other facts concerning the school or its teachers, such as the dates of withdrawals, commencements of duty, cautions, illness, visits of the compulsory officer, &c., which may require to be referred to at a future time, or may otherwise deserve to be recorded.

37. No reflections or opinions of a general character are to be entered in the log-book.

38. No entry once made in the log-book may be removed or altered otherwise than by a subsequent entry.

39. The summary of the inspector's report, after his annual visit, or any visit made without notice, and any remarks made upon it by the Department, when communicated to the managers, must be immediately copied verbatim into the log-book, with the names and standing (certificated teacher of the ——class, or pupil-teacher of the ——year, or assistant teacher) of all teachers to be continued on, or added to, or withdrawn from the school staff according to the decision of the Department upon the inspector's report. The correspondent or two of the managers must sign this entry, which settles the school staff for the year (Article 13).

40. The inspector will call for the log-book and portfolio at every visit and will report whether they appear to have been properly kept. He will specially refer to the entry made pursuant to Article 39, and he will require to see entries accounting for any subsequent change in the school staff. He will also note in the log-book every visit paid without notice (Article 12), making an entry of such particulars as require the attention of the managers.

Section II.

Teachers referred to in the preceding Section.

41. The recognised classes of teachers are,—(a.) Certificated teachers. (b.) Provisionally certificated teachers. (c.) Assistant teachers. (d.) Pupil-teachers.

42. Lay persons alone can be recognised as teachers; but this condition will not apply to any person to whom a certificate is granted under Article 66.

Certificated Teachers.

43. In order to obtain certificates, candidates must be examined twice (Article 44), and must undergo probation by actual service in school (Article 51).

Examination for Certificates.

44. An examination will be held on the 10th December 1894 at the several training colleges under inspection (Article 100), and at such other centres as may be necessary. In future years it is intended to hold this examination in June or July.

The examination held by the English Education Department is accepted as equivalent to the corresponding Scotch examination.

45. A syllabus of the subjects of examination for male and female candidates respectively may be had on application to the Department.

46. The names of all candidates for the examination in 1894, not being students in any Training College must be notified to the Department before the 1st of October, and for the examination in 1895, before the 1st of May.

N.B.—It will be necessary in future to enforce this Article strictly.

47.* I.—The examination in first year's papers is open to,—

(a.) Students who have resided for at least one year in a Training College under inspection ; or,

(b.) Candidates who are upwards of 20 years of age, and have either— been employed for not less than two years as provisionally certificated teachers (Article 60) ; or, served as assistant teachers (Article 79), for at least 12 months, in day schools approved by the Department under certificated teachers, and obtained a favourable report from an inspector on their skill in teaching and reading.

II.—The examination in second year's papers is open to,—

(a.) Students who have passed the examination in first year's papers, and have subsequently completed a second year of residence in a Training College.

(b.) Candidates who have passed the examination in first year's papers, and have subsequently, while in a situation as provisionally certificated teachers, or fourth class certificated, or assistant teachers (Article 60 or 79) obtained a second favourable report from an inspector on their skill in teaching and reading.

Application for either of the reports mentioned in this Article is to be made to the inspector at his annual visit next before the examination.

(c.) Graduates in Arts or Science of any University of the United Kingdom, who, after a course of training,† for not less than six months, in a day school, approved by the Department, satisfy the inspector of their practical skill as teachers.

Candidates who at the time of the examination are not teachers of schools to which annual grants are or may be made, must be recommended by the authorities of their college, or by the managers of the school in which they last served.

48. Graduates (Article 47 II. (c)) are not required to take any papers save those on School Management (i.e., the School Management paper for second year students, and a special paper for graduates (Article 28, and Schedule I., columns 4–7)), which will include questions to test their knowledge of elementary subjects and the methods of teaching them.

49. A list is published showing the successful candidates, arranged in three divisions in the first year, and three divisions in the second year.

50. The relative proficiency of the candidates according to examination, and the nature of the professional training (Article 47) which they have received, are recorded upon their certificates.

Probation.

51. Candidates for certificates, after successfully passing the examination in second year's papers, must, as teachers continuously engaged in the same schools, obtain two favourable reports from an inspector, with an interval of one year (Article 13) between them; and, if the date when the first of these reports is due (Article 13) be not preceded

* This Article (read with Article 79) shows how persons who have not been pupil-teachers may qualify themselves for employment as teachers of public or State-aided schools.

† This course may be taken (1) after graduation ; (2) in the interval between two University sessions ; or (3) during one of these sessions, in which case the student must attend the school selected for the purpose, for at least eight hours a week, for 24 weeks, and must take such part in the general work of the school as will enable him to become fully acquainted with its organisation and methods of teaching.

by service of three months (at the least) since the examination, a third report, at an interval of one year after the second report, is required. If the second (or third) report is favourable a certificate is issued.

52. Teachers under probation satisfy the conditions which require that schools be kept by certificated teachers.

Certificates.

53. Certificates are issued of three classes. No certificate is originally issued above the second class.

Certificates of the First and Second Class.

54. Candidates who are placed by examination in the first division of the second year (Article 49), graduates examined under Article 47 (c), and certificated teachers who subsequently become graduates in Arts or Science of any University in the United Kingdom receive certificates of the second class, which can be raised to the first class by good service only.

(a.) Certificates remain in force for 10 years from the date of their issue, after which interval they are open to revision according to the intermediate reports.

(b.) Teachers holding parchment certificates of the first class have no entry made thereon, but are entitled to claim from the managers a certified copy of the inspector's annual report as soon as it has been entered in the log book.

Certificates of the Third Class.

55. Candidates who are placed by examination in the second or third division of the second year (Article 49), receive certificates of the third class, which can be raised by good service only.

Provisionally Certificated Teachers.

56. Lapsed Article.

57. Provisional certificates do not entitle the teachers to have the charge of pupil-teachers.

58. Lapsed Article.

59. Lapsed Article.

60. Pupil-teachers who have completed their engagement with credit and have passed in the first class in the Queen's Scholarship examination, may, if specially recommended by the inspector, on the ground of their practical skill as teachers, be provisionally certificated (higher grade) for immediate service in charge of schools which have an annual average attendance of not more than 60* scholars; and pupil-teachers and others who satisfy the conditions of Article 79 may, with the special sanction of the Department, be provisionally certificated (lower grade) for immediate service in charge of schools which have an annual average attendance of not more than 30* scholars.

61. In the case of teachers provisionally certificated of either grade, after their 25th year of age (completed) their provisional certificates must have been exchanged for permanent certificates (Article 43) or are ipso facto cancelled. Before appointing a teacher under Article 60 managers should ascertain from the Department whether he is provisionally certificated in either grade, and also the date on which his certificate will be cancelled.

(a.) The provisional certificate is confined to an entry of the name in a register kept by the Department, and does not involve the issue of any certificate.

* If this number is exceeded, no grant is paid, unless the excess of scholars has arisen from an increased attendance of children since the last settlement of the school staff (Article 39).

62. The managers of several schools may combine to employ an organizing teacher to superintend the certificated teachers of those schools (see footnote to Article 32 (a)).

Future Rating of existing Certificates.

63. Lapsed Article.

64. Certificates of the second or third class will be open to revision at the end of 10 years' service from the date of their issue, or of their last revision.

65, 66. Lapsed Articles.

Reports of Managers and Inspector.

67. The managers must annually state whether the teacher's character, conduct, and attention to duty have been satisfactory.

68. The inspector reports of each school visited by him whether it is efficient in organization, discipline, instruction, and registration.

69. A certificate may, at any time, be recalled, suspended, or reduced if the certificate or report under Articles 67 and 68 is not satisfactory; but not until the Department has informed the teacher of the charges against him, and given him an opportunity of explanation.

Pupil-teachers.

70. Pupil-teachers are boys or girls employed to serve in a day* school on the following conditions, namely :—

(a.) That the school is reported by the inspector to be—

1. Under a duly certificated teacher (Articles 43 and 57).
2. Held in suitable premises (Article 17 (c)).
3. Well furnished and well supplied with books and apparatus.
4. Properly organized and skilfully instructed.
5. Under good discipline.
6. Likely to be maintained during the period of engagement.

(b.) That at the date of their engagement the pupil-teachers be not less than 14 years (completed) of age; if 15 years (completed) of age, pass an examination in the subjects specified in the First Schedule, for the end of the first year; and if 16 years (completed) of age, for the end of the 2nd year.†

(c.) Be of the same sex as the certificated teacher under whom they serve; but in a mixed school female pupil-teachers may serve under a master, and may receive instruction from him out of school hours (Schedule II. 5), on condition that some respectable woman, approved by the managers, be invariably present during the whole time that such instruction is being given.

(d.) Be presented to the inspector for examination at the time and place fixed by his notice (Article 11).

(e.) If engaged for the full period, shall at the end of the first, second, or third year produce the certificates and pass an examination in the subjects specified in Schedule I.; and, in the fourth year, pass the final examination (Article 91), and produce the same certificates of health, character, and conduct, as are required for the third year; if for a reduced period of apprenticeship (Article 70 (b)) produce the certificates and pass the examinations corresponding to the respective later years.

* Pupil-teachers may not be employed in an evening continuation school.

† Prospective candidates for apprenticeship should be selected by the managers by competition from the monitors or elder pupils showing a general aptitude for the teaching profession, and until the vacancy actually occurs the selected candidates should receive special instruction relative to the requirements of the First Schedule. The selection should be made early in the school year, and the competition openly announced in the school.

Managers should, in accordance with Article 91, notify to the Department the names of pupil-teachers who will attend the Queen's Scholarship examination.

The final examination of pupil-teachers will be the Queen's Scholarship examination (Article 91) next preceding the termination of their engagements. This examination may be deferred for a year, but in that case the pupil-teacher must, during or at the end of the last year of his engagement, give evidence of satisfactory progress in study, and the engagement must be extended under paragraph 4 of the memorandum of agreement until 30th June preceding the date of the examination (Article 91), or, failing such extension, the pupil-teacher must until that date attend a central school sanctioned by the Department as adequately equipped for the preparatory training. A candidate who has failed once may be recognised for a year as equivalent to a pupil-teacher. Candidates who twice fail to pass the Queen's Scholarship examination (Article 91) will not be examined again.

(f.) That the managers enter into an agreement in the terms of the memorandum in the Second Schedule to this Code. A copy of this memorandum is sent to the managers for every candidate approved by the Department, and unless duly completed does not satisfy Article 32 (c).

(g.) That not more than two pupil-teachers (or three, if one be under Article 19 B. 3.) are engaged in the school for every certificated teacher serving in it.

(h.) When the average attendance exceeds 150, a second adult certificated or assistant (Article 79) teacher will be required.

(i.) Two stipendiary monitors will be allowed—

1. In place of a third pupil-teacher required by Article 32 (c); or
2. If less than three pupil-teachers are required by Article 32 (c), to fill, for two years, the place of one of them.

(k.) Stipendiary monitors must—

1. Be not less than 12 years of age at the date of their appointment;
2. Be recommended by the Inspector, at his annual visit, (Article 11), after then passing the examination in reading, writing, and arithmetic for Standard V. or VI.;
3. Pass the examination for the next higher Standard, or (if admitted after passing Standard VI.) for the Merit Certificate (Article 29).
4. Be paid a stipend fixed by the managers;
5. Assist for not more than three hours each day in the school, receiving during the rest of the school hours special instruction either by themselves or in one of the higher classes of the school.

71. The Department is not a party to the engagement, and confines itself to ascertaining, prior to the engagement of the pupil-teacher and at the end of each year of the service—

(a.) Whether the prescribed examination is passed before the inspector.

(b.) Whether the prescribed certificates are produced from the managers and teachers.

72. Whatever other questions arise upon the engagement may be referred to the Department (provided that all the parties agree in writing to be bound by the decision of the Department as final), but, otherwise, must be settled as in any other hiring or contract.

73. Vacancies in the office of pupil-teacher, or stipendiary monitor, which occur in the course of any year (Article 13) must not be filled up until after the next examination by the inspector.

74. The candidate or candidates for such vacancies must be engaged in the meantime by the week only as temporary monitors, and the memorandum of agreement (Article 70(f)) will not be issued by the Department to the managers until the inspector's report has been examined.*

75. Temporary monitors engaged by the week, pursuant to Article 74, for the supply of pupil-teacherships which have become vacant during a current year (Article 13), satisfy Article 32 (c), provided—

(a.) That a sufficient number of candidates to complete the requisite proportion of teachers to scholars pass the next examination prior (Article 77) to permanent engagements; and

(b.) That the vacancies are duly reported to the Department (Article 17 (e)), and have been occasioned by causes which are accepted by the Department as satisfactory.

76. Except in the cases provided for by Article 75, each vacancy in a pupil-teachership during a current year (Article 13) works a forfeiture under Article 32 (c).

77. The qualifications and certificates required of candidates for engagement, and of pupil-teachers in each year of their service, are regulated by the First Schedule annexed to this Code.

Pupil-teachers who have successfully completed their engagement.

78. At the close of their engagement† pupil-teachers are perfectly free in the choice of employment. If they wish to continue in the work of education, they may become assistants in schools (Article 79), or may be admitted into a training college (Article 91), or may be provisionally certificated for immediate service in charge of small schools (Article 60).

Assistant Teachers.

79. (a.) Pupil-teachers who have completed their engagement with credit (having passed the Queen's Scholarship examination) and candidates, not having been pupil-teachers (Article 93 (c)), who have passed in the first or second class in the examination referred to in Article 91;

(b.) Graduates of any university in the United Kingdom, and women over 18 years of age who have passed examinations recognised by the Department;‡

* See note to Article 70*b*.

† Pupil-teachers who leave their school before the completion of the full term of their engagement, as specified in the Memorandum of Agreement (Article 70 (f)), will not be recognised under Article 60 or 79.

‡ The examinations recognised at the present time are:—

The Leaving Certificate Examination of the Scotch Education Department; provided that certificates in the Higher Grade are obtained in at least two subjects, or a certificate in the Higher Grade in one subject, with certificates in the Lower Grade in at least two subjects.

(c.) Candidates not having been pupil-teachers, who have passed in the third class in the Queen's Scholarship examination; may serve as assistants in schools in place of pupil-teachers, without being required to be annually examined.

80. Such assistants cease to fulfil the conditions of Article 32 (c), if at any time the inspector reports them to be inefficient teachers, or if they fail to produce from the managers, and from the principal teacher, of their school, the same certificates of conduct, attention to duty, and obedience, as are required from pupil-teachers.

81. A vacancy caused by the withdrawal of an assistant in the course of any school year (Article 13) may be supplied by the appointment of temporary monitors, pursuant to Articles 74, 75, or of another assistant, qualified according to Article 79.

82. Assistants make their own terms with the managers, both as to hours and wages.

(a.) Assistants are counted as part of the school staff (Article 39) from the date at which their appointments are notified to, and approved by, the Department.

Part II.

TRAINING COLLEGES.

Section I.

83. A training college includes—

(a.) A college for instructing candidates for the office of teacher;

(b.) A practising school, in which such students may learn the exercise of their profession; and

(c.) In some cases, a hall in which the students are boarded and lodged.

84. No grant is made to a training college unless the Department is satisfied with the premises, management, and staff.

Section II.

Grants to Training Colleges.

85. Annual grants are made to practising schools (Article 83 (b.)) on the same conditions as to other schools.

86. Grants are placed to the credit of each college of 100*l.* for every master, and of 70*l.* for every mistress, who, having been trained in such college as a Queen's scholar (Article 96) during two years—

(a.) completes the prescribed period of probation (Article 51), and becomes qualified to receive a certificate as a teacher in a school to which annual grants may be made, or in a training college;

(b.) is reported by the proper department in each case to have completed a like period of good service as an elementary teacher in the Army or Royal Navy, or (within Great Britain) in Poor Law Schools, Certified Industrial and Day Industrial Schools, or Certified Reformatories.

87. Lapsed Article.

88. The annual grant to each college is paid out of the sums standing to its credit (Articles 86, 87) at the beginning of the year, after the adjustment under Article 90 (c).

Exception:—

This Article is not applied to a college for the first five years during which grants are made to it.

89. The grant must not exceed—

(a.) 75 per cent. of the actual expenditure of the college for the year, approved by the Department and certified in such manner as the Department may require, plus 75 per cent. of such a sum as, when added to the bursaries paid to the Queen's scholars by the managers of the college, will make up the sum of 23*l.* for each non-resident male, and 17*l.* for each non-resident female Queen's scholar.

(b.) 50*l.* for each male, and 35*l.* for each female, Queen's scholar (Article 96), attending for continuous training throughout the year for which it is being paid.

90. The annual grant to each college is paid as follows:—

(a.) An instalment of 12*l.* (males), or 8*l.* (females) is paid on 1st March, 1st June, and 1st September, in respect of every Queen's scholar (Article 96) attending for continuous training throughout the year.

(b.) Part of the instalment of the 1st of September may be suspended, if payment of the full amount then due would cause the limit under Article 89 (a) to be exceeded.

(c.) The balance is adjusted as soon as the college accounts for the year have been closed, audited, and approved by the Department.

Section III.

Admission into Training Colleges.

91. An examination of candidates for admission, called the "Queen's Scholarship Examination," is annually held at each college and at such other centres as are necessary. There will be two examinations this year, one on Tuesday the 3rd July and three following days, the other on the 18th December and three following days. In future years there will be one examination only, which will be held in December.

The names of all candidates for the July examination must be notified to the Department before the 1st of May, and for the December examination before the 1st of October.

The examination held by the English Education Department is accepted as equivalent to the corresponding Scotch examination.

92. The examination extends to the subjects required in the course of a pupil-teacher's engagement (Schedule I.).

A syllabus may be had on application to the Secretary, Scotch Education Department, Dover House, Whitehall, S.W.

93. The candidates attending the examination at any training college are selected, and admitted to the examination, by the authorities of each college on their own responsibility, subject to no other conditions, on the part of the Department, than that the candidates—

(a.) intend bonâ fide to adopt and follow the profession of teacher in schools fulfilling the conditions of Article 86 (a) or (b).

(b.) are pupil-teachers entering for their final examination under Article 70 (e).

(c.) not having been pupil-teachers, will be more than 18 years of age on the 1st of January next following the date of the examination. This article will apply to pupil-teachers whose engagement may have been determined under section 6 of the memorandum of agreement (Article 70 (f)), without discredit to themselves, and for reasons approved by the Department.

Candidates who are not examined at any training college will be required to attend at centres of which they or the managers of their schools will be informed by the Department.

(d.) Candidates who fail twice to pass the Queen's Scholarship Examination may not be again examined.

94. The successful candidates are arranged in three classes in order of merit.

(a.) A place in the third class qualifies for employment as an assistant teacher (Article 79); but not for admission to a training college, or for a provisional certificate (higher grade) (Article 60).

95. The authorities of each college may propose to the Department for admission any candidate who has obtained a place in the first or second class in the Queen's Scholarship Examination (Article 94). If the number of candidates applying for admission is larger than the number of vacancies in any college, the candidates should be admitted in order of merit according to the Class List (Article 94).

96. Such candidates when admitted are termed Queen's scholars.

97. Before candidates are admitted—

(a.) The medical officer of the college must certify the state of their health to be satisfactory, and that they are free from serious bodily defect, or deformity ; and,

(b.) They must sign a declaration signifying their intention conformably to Article 93 (a).

98. The authorities of each college settle their own terms of admission.

99. Upon proof by the authorities of any college that candidates have not fulfilled the conditions signed by them on admission into the college, the Department will refuse to grant teachers' certificates (Article 53) to such candidates, or to admit them to probation for certificates (Article 51).

Section IV.

Examination of Students in Training Colleges.

100. An examination of the students will be held in December at the several colleges. This examination will commence on Monday the 10th of December, at 2 p.m.

In future years it is intended to hold this examination in June or July.

101. No student may be presented for examination except such as, at the date of their admission, satisfied Article 93, and have been under instruction throughout the whole year. No such student may be left out.

102. The students have a different examination according as they are males or females, or are at the end of a first or second year of training.

(a.) Queen's scholars (Article 96) may, with the consent of the authorities of their training college, attend during the winter session of each year of their instruction in such college, one or more of the classes in a Scotch University, approved by the Department. If they attend any of these classes the authorities of the training college may, during the university session, dispense with their attendance at college, each day, for such time as they may deem necessary.

(b.) The examination for certificates, in the subjects taught in these classes, will be conducted by a board of examiners composed of professors in the Scotch Universities and Her Majesty's Inspectors of schools.

(c.) Those candidates who at the Queen's Scholarship examination are placed in the first class, and pass with credit in certain subjects (Latin, Greek, French, German, Mathematics, or School Management), will be specially indicated in the class list (Article 94); and the university fees (Article 102 (a)) during each year of their instruction in such college, and for one year thereafter, of such of them as become Queen's scholars, may be treated as part of the college expenditure under Article 89.

During the third year recognised under this Article the university instruction may be obtained at any institution previously approved by the authorities of the training college and sanctioned by the Department, provided that the total fee reckoned as a part of the college expenditure under Article 89 does not exceed 12*l.*

103. The first year's syllabus for females includes special subjects for the teachers of infants. Candidates who pass in these subjects, and complete their probation (Article 51) in schools for infants, receive special mention thereof (stamp) on their certificates.

104. Students who pass successfully through their course of training receive special mention thereof (stamp) on their certificates.

105. Lapsed Article.

SPECIAL PROVISIONS.

106–112.—Lapsed Articles.

Certificates of Proficiency under any Labour Act and of ability to read and write and of a knowledge of elementary arithmetic under the Education Acts, 1872 to 1883.

113. Such certificates will be granted after an examination held by one of Her Majesty's Inspectors of schools, or his assistant. No separate examination of individual children will be held for the purpose.

(a.) The Inspector, after his yearly visit (Article 11) to a school, will grant such certificates as may be required for children who have reached the standards prescribed by, or pursuant to the provisions of, the Education (Scotland) Acts, 1872 to 1883, the Factory and Workshop Act, 1878, or any other Act regulating the education of children employed in labour.

(b.) Certificates will be issued for those scholars only who pass in all the three subjects in the prescribed standard, or in a higher standard.

14. For the purpose of these certificates the Inspector or his assistant will examine—

1. Any scholars in the school:
2. Other children, not being scholars in the school, allowed by the managers to attend the examination.

115. When the candidates for such certificates in a district are more than 15 in number, application for a special examination may be made by the school board, subject to the following regulations:—

119. A school board may resolve that it is expedient to establish a technical school as defined by the Technical Schools (Scotland) Act, 1887.

Any such resolution may refer to a day or an evening school, and to a school or a department thereof; but each resolution must refer to one school or department only.

120. Before steps are taken to carry out that resolution—

131. The full amount due to each school shall be calculated as soon as may be after the total average attendance at all the schools entitled to share in the Grant during the prescribed period shall have been ascertained.

132. After the average attendance at all the schools entitled to share in the grant shall have been so ascertained, the Department shall, as soon as may be, calculate the amount due in respect of each scholar, and shall thereafter pay to each school the amount due to such school over and above such payment or payments on account as may have already been made.

133. The following condition shall be observed by the managers of all State-aided schools sharing in the Grant in respect of such schools, and by the School Boards in respect of the school provision in the public schools of their district :—

No fees shall be exacted from scholars who are between 3 and 15 years of age.

* No requirements in this subject beyond those of the Code of 1892 will be demanded during any school year ending on or before 31st March, 1894.

Any other subject approved by the Department may be taken as a specific subject, provided that a graduated scheme of teaching it has been previously submitted, and approved.

If scientific subjects are taken they must be taught mainly by experiment and illustration. If these subjects are taught to children by definition and verbal description, instead of by making them exercise their own powers of observation, they will be worthless as means of education.

It cannot, therefore, be too strongly impressed on teachers, that nothing like learning by rote will be accepted as sufficient for a grant, and that the Examinations by the Inspectors will be directed to elicit from the Scholars as far as possible, in their own language, the ideas they have formed of what they have seen.

In any of the counties specified in Article 21 (a), Gaelic may be taken as a specific subject, provided it be taught upon a graduated scheme to be approved by Her Majesty's Inspector.

The three stages of Subjects 6 and 7 may be taken in any order.

FACTORY AND WORKSHOP ACT, 1878, 41 Vict. c. 16. ss. 26, 65, 105; and EDUCATION (SCOTLAND) ACT, 1883, 46 & 47 Vict. c. 56. ss. 6, 7.

ORDER of SECRETARY of STATE rescinding, with consent of Scotch Education Department, an ORDER made under section 26 of the Factory and Workshop Act, 1878, and dated 15th February 1879.

Whereas the effect of the Factory and Workshop Act, 1878, and of the said Order of 15th February 1879, made under section 26 thereof, was that a child of thirteen years of age could not be lawfully employed as a young person in a factory or workshop in Scotland unless such child had obtained either a certificate of having passed the standard of proficiency fixed by that Order or a certificate of having attained the standard of previous due attendance at school, likewise fixed by the same Order.

And whereas so far as concerns the employment of children of thirteen and of not more than fourteen years of age as young persons in any factory or workshop in Scotland, the effect of sections 6 and 7 of the Education (Scotland) Act, 1883, is that, notwithstanding the Factory and Workshop Act, 1878, a certificate of previous due attendance at school no longer operates as a qualification to any such child for such employment, and that such child may not be so employed without having obtained a certificate of having passed the Fifth Standard prescribed by the Minutes of the Scotch Education Department regulating the administration of the Parliamentary Grant for Education in Scotland for the year 1883, or a corresponding standard prescribed by the said Minutes for any subsequent year.

Now, therefore, I, the Right Honourable Sir Richard Assheton Cross, one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, with the consent of the Lords of the Committee of the Privy Council on Education in Scotland, hereby rescind the said Order of 15th February 1879.

APPENDIX No. 3.

MINUTE of the COMMITTEE OF COUNCIL ON EDUCATION IN SCOTLAND, dated 10th April, 1894, with respect to certain PARISHES in the COUNTIES of ROSS and INVERNESS, where difficulties have arisen as to the SCHOOL PROVISION.

At Dover House, Whitehall, the 10th day of April 1894.

BY THE LORDS OF THE COMMITTEE OF PRIVY COUNCIL ON EDUCATION IN SCOTLAND.

Whereas it has been represented to my Lords that, in certain parishes, the school boards find it difficult to meet their liabilities or to continue to maintain and keep efficient the schools under their management;

And whereas it appears that the school rate required in some instances to enable the school boards to perform this duty would impose a burden on the localities in excess of that which these localities can be expected to sustain:

And whereas it is expedient that further means should be taken to promote efficient and economical administration in the educational affairs of these parishes, and to increase the number of those who make use of the school provision available therein:

And whereas under a Minute of the Scotch Education Department, of date 21st December 1888, provision was made whereby certain special arrangements might be adopted with regard to schools in such districts, and whereby in connexion with such arrangements special assistance might be granted to the schools out of sums at the disposal of the Secretary for Scotland under the Probate Duties (Scotland and Ireland) Act, 1888, and by him made available for the purpose:

And whereas no such sum has been at the disposal of the Secretary for Scotland available for such purpose subsequent to the 31st March 1890:

And whereas a sum out of the parliamentary grant for the year ending 31st March 1894 is available, together with any surplus remaining from the amount made available by the Secretary for Scotland, after the payments under the Minute of 21st December 1888 for the period ended at 31st March 1890 had been discharged, in order to afford such special assistance to schools in these districts:

And whereas by a Minute of 28th February 1893 provision was made whereby special arrangements similar to the aforesaid might be adopted.

Resolved:—

That the Minute of 28th February 1893 is hereby withdrawn, and the following provisions are substituted therefor:—

That, in the case of any school district in the counties of Ross and Inverness, where the parochial board or boards has or have failed to pay over to the school board the amount required to meet the deficiency in the school fund, or where the circumstances are such, in the opinion of the Scotch Education Department, as to make such special arrangement desirable, the following arrangement may, on the application of the school board, and with the consent of the Scotch Education Department, be adopted, that is to say:

1. The school board shall, in pursuance of section twenty-two of the Education (Scotland) Act, 1872, commit the management of each school under their charge to three managers, of whom one shall be Her Majesty's Inspector in charge of the district.

2. To such managers shall be committed full powers of appointing and dismissing the teachers of the school under their management, of deciding as to the organisation of the school, the salaries of the staff, and all items of expenditure in regard to the school, including lighting, heating, cleaning, and repairs.

3. In case of a difference of opinion between Her Majesty's Inspector and the other managers of a school the question shall be referred to the Scotch Education Department, whose decision shall be final.

4. The sums annually due in respect of such school from the parliamentary and other grants shall be paid to the general account of all the managers appointed by the school board under this Minute, and the receipts shall be signed by the board's Treasurer for the time being and by Her Majesty's Inspector as manager. The school board shall furnish annually not later than the 30th of June (on a form to be supplied by the Department) a detailed statement of the estimated income and expenditure for the current financial year.

5. Such portion of the amount available under this Minute as may be determined by the Scotch Education Department shall be allotted to the various school board districts in which the special arrangement may be adopted in such proportion and at such time, and on such conditions, as in the opinion of the Scotch Education Department the circumstances of each case require, special regard being paid to the reasonableness of the contribution made by the locality to the school fund.

6. The amount (if any) so allotted shall be paid by the Scotch Education Department to the managers in the manner prescribed in section four hereof, to meet the expenses of maintenance beyond any other source of income available to the said managers, or shall be paid to the board or managers to meet such expenditure by the board or managers on additional school provision or equipment as may be sanctioned by the Department, or shall be applied by the Department to meet outstanding liabilities of the school board to the Public Works Loan Commissioners.

7. Any surplus income in the hands of the managers shall be applied to meet approved liabilities or expenditure of the school board, or of the managers of any school or schools, and in the case of failure so to apply such surplus at the direction of the Scotch Education Department, any payment due to the managers appointed under this Minute may at any time be suspended or withheld by the Scotch Education Department.

8. All sums due by the Scotch Education Department to the school board under section sixty-seven of the Education (Scotland) Act of 1872 shall be applied, in the first place, towards the payment of arrears of interest on and instalments of loans contracted under section forty-five of the Education (Scotland) Act, 1872, and acceptance by any school board of the special arrangement under this Minute shall be a valid authority by the school board to the Scotch Education Department so to apply such sums, or to retain all or a sufficient proportion of such sums against any interest on or instalments of said loans falling due within the financial year ending 31st March.

9. On the termination of any special arrangement under this Minute, the approved outstanding liabilities of the managers of any school or schools, appointed as aforesaid, shall form a first charge upon any grant which may thereafter become due by the Department to the school board.

10. Any special arrangement under this Minute shall terminate six months after written notice to that effect has been given either by the Scotch Education Department, or by the school board.

REPORT for the year 1894 by HENRY CRAIK, ESQ., C.B., on the Inspection of HIGHER CLASS SCHOOLS AND THE EXAMINATION FOR LEAVING CERTIFICATES.

MY LORDS, August 1894.

I HAVE the honour to submit to your Lordships my third special report upon the Inspection of Higher Schools, and upon the Leaving Certificate Examination.

Owing to the passing of the Education and Local Taxation Account (Scotland) Act, 1892, funds are now available for the purposes of this inspection and examination, under section 2 (1) (a) of that Act, and it has thus been possible this year, as last, in all ordinary cases, to relieve the schools (except those under private management), and the candidates at the Leaving Certificate Examination, from the fees formerly exacted.

INSPECTION.

The higher schools inspected this year, under your Lordships' authority, are 69 in number, of which 28 are higher class public schools under the management of school boards; 24 are endowed schools, and the remainder are schools under private management—whether that of a governing body or a proprietor.

The method pursued in regard to the reports upon the various schools is the same as that followed in previous years; and, on the whole, the results of the inspection are satisfactory. It would not be fair or reasonable to expect from every school the same standard of attainment; and those entrusted with the inspection have rightly kept in view the local circumstances and the opportunities of each school, and have endeavoured to recognise good work of any kind, although it may be conducted under adverse conditions and may, consequently, not have reached the standard which may eventually be hoped for. To fix a high standard, and to expect that it should be met in every instance, would be, in many cases, to discourage earnest effort which in time may lead to satisfactory results. So far as it has gone, the inspection of higher schools has undoubtedly put an end to much that was faulty in organisation and defective in method. The attention of school authorities has by its means been directed to cases which called imperatively for reform, and it has shown the difference between sound and specious work. The Inspectors have been encouraged to confer with the local authorities as to methods of instruction, to point out weaknesses, to show how defects might be removed, and to indicate the direction in which the curriculum might be most effectively developed. Such conferences have proved useful, I trust, to managers and teachers, and the Inspectors have by means of them acquired new insight into the methods and aims of the schools.

It is as yet too soon to say what may be the results of the new grant for secondary education, as distributed under the schemes drawn up by the burgh and county committees; but it is satisfactory to find that certain Inspectors give instances in which, by means of this grant, the staff has been materially increased, the curriculum extended, and the educational opportunities made available for a wider circle of pupils.

I cannot say that the reports show uniform improvement, and it would perhaps make their thoroughness and candour somewhat doubtful if they did. After two or three visits to a school an Inspector becomes aware of weak points that might at first not fully appear, and what is faulty in a school is apt to become more marked if very decided measures have not been taken to remove it. But, on the whole, the cases, of which instances were to be found in the earlier years of inspection, where a school had become thoroughly inefficient by defects in methods or by unwillingness to deal courageously with a system which required radical reform, have practically disappeared. The annual inspection has applied a stimulating criticism to all the schools, has given rise to a healthy public opinion in regard to them, and has, in combination with the Leaving Certificate Examination, made it almost impossible for a school to maintain its place if it fails to keep in touch with the general advance in efficiency.

In many cases the reports upon schools have merely had to record a continuous maintenance of high efficiency, and in these circumstances they inevitably carry the impression of a certain monotony of praise. I am by no means inclined to complain of this. To require an Inspector constantly to vary his report by some new point of criticism, and some fresh suggestion as to method, might give an appearance of energetic vigilance, but would not always have a good effect. If a school does sound work, it is better that the local authorities, under the influence, as they must necessarily be, of local opinion, should regulate its internal economy and should feel themselves free to vary the curriculum according to local needs. An occasional hint or suggestion has all the more effect if such hints are not too common and are given only when their timeliness is indubitable. Experience is the best guide in regard to this, and its necessity has been kept in view in the selection of Inspectors. That is a matter which has occupied close attention. In connexion with it, the circumstances of each school have to be carefully considered. It is essential to obtain the services of those who, without being exclusively attached to special methods, have had experience in scholastic affairs, and whose qualifications as to knowledge are well established and adequate to the work, and who have the tact necessary to pronounce a candid judgment on a school without unduly trenching on the functions and responsibilities of managers and teachers. For this purpose it has been thought best not to employ a small fixed staff, but to make selections from a larger number of men of proved qualifications, and, while providing for a certain continuity of judgment by allowing the same person to visit a school several times, yet to provide for criticism from a fresh eye by altering the Inspector, in the case of each school, from time to time.

On the other hand, where it has been called for, the Inspectors have not shrunk from giving a bold and even a condemnatory criticism. Such cases are now comparatively rare, and it is so far satisfactory to know that, as a rule, when a school has been adversely criticised in regard to one part of its curriculum by the Inspector entrusted to report upon that branch, his verdict has been confirmed by a similar criticism upon a different part of the curriculum by a different Inspector. This proves that deficiency is, in most cases, due not to a casual failure in one subject, but rather to a general weakness throughout the school.

It says much for the public spirit of local authorities responsible for the efficiency of schools, and something, I trust, also, for the experience, impartiality, and tact of the Inspectors, that (in spite of occasionally adverse reports, involving inevitable disappointment to those who have given much labour to the work) the instances of complaints being brought against an Inspector's report have been very rare. It is felt, I hope, that the wish of all concerned in the inspection is to give earnest and sincere help towards efficiency, to encourage effort, and not to criticise or find fault without endeavouring to trace the fault to its real source, and without giving some suggestions for improvement.

There are certain defects to which it may be well to call special attention, as they can be remedied only by an improved public opinion. The premises of these higher schools do not in all cases compare favourably with those of the elementary schools, improved as these have been of recent years. Undue economy often leads to an insufficient staff; and it cannot be too clearly understood that a staff which in point of numbers was adequate to requirements in the past cannot be expected to cope with the variety and scope of a curriculum widened to meet the needs of the present day. When the local authorities, again, have made ample and liberal provision, it is discouraging to find these rendered useless by the habit of removing scholars at an unduly early age. More than once I have had to allude to the injury inflicted upon certain schools by irregular attendance, and in some cases by the habit of allowing scholars to begin the summer holiday before the close of the school session. On this matter it is necessary to speak plainly. The Legislature has made school attendance compulsory for all. In the case of the poorer classes this is enforced by prosecution. I am unable to see that a rich parent, who for reasons of personal or domestic convenience removes his child from school before the work of the school is completed, to the injury of the boy himself, and to the disturbance of the whole school work, is less guilty of failure to fulfil his obligations to his son and to society, than the parent who, under the pressure frequently of poverty and hardship, is obliged to answer the charge of defaulting before a court of law. The system of day schools has in Scotland found more favour with the well-to-do than it has in England. I have no wish to pronounce any opinion on that system as compared with that of boarding schools, which is preferred in England. But it is beyond a doubt that, if the day school system is to have a fair chance, it can only be by each parent feeling that he has a duty to his son and to the school, and that nothing but gross selfishness and carelessness can permit him to set that duty aside for the sake of personal convenience. It is difficult for school managers to check this practice as severely as it ought to be checked, and I think it is only my duty to say that in no instance does it require to be checked so imperatively as in the wealthier quarters of some of the large cities, where there is perhaps least of all an excuse for it.

One hindrance to efficiency alluded to by some Inspectors is of a very different kind. It is found that scholars who come to the secondary schools from the State-aided schools are not always fitted by previous education to take their places in the same class with those who have had the advantage of being trained with a view to higher education. Their presence in these higher schools ought certainly to be encouraged in every way. The funds now at the disposal of each county may afford opportunities for sending such children to the higher school at an earlier age. But in any case the managers of the higher schools will find it to their advantage to make some provision for giving them special training when they are first drafted into the school. As a rule, such children are of good capacity, and come to the school with earnest purpose of profiting by it, and it is probable that a comparatively short period in a preparatory class will enable them to take their places, with mutual advantage, side by side with the scholars who have been in the secondary school from an earlier age.

I alluded last year to the part taken in higher education by distinctively secondary schools on the one hand, and by higher departments in State-aided schools on the other. Complaints have been made that the county committees have in some cases distributed the secondary education grant too widely, and have not kept sufficiently in view the concentration of higher education in central schools, for the benefit of which it is sometimes maintained that the grant was primarily intended. Experience alone can show whether this tendency has been carried too far, and doubtless the committees will be prepared to modify their schemes in the light of such experience. But it must not be forgotten that such higher education as is given in the State-aided schools is all that is open to a large number of the children, and that the inclusion of some such education in the curriculum is a traditional feature of Scottish schools. Nor can it fairly be asserted, in view of the very creditable appearance made by the State-aided schools under the searching test of the Leaving Certificate Examination, that these schools have failed to show that they can successfully overtake a fair amount of secondary education.

Leaving Certificate Examination.

The number of candidates presented for examination was 9,833, and the number of separate papers worked by them was 30,906. Of these 17,085 papers represented 4,352 candidates from 64 higher class schools and the remainder (13,821 papers worked by 5,481 candidates) were taken by pupils from 148 higher departments of State-aided schools.

The examination began on the 18th of June and continued till the 26th of June. The papers worked were sent up day by day to the Department and distributed amongst the revisers. The work of revising more than 30,000 papers, deciding doubtful cases, tabulating the results, and carefully verifying the whole (which was this year carried out with even more than the previous elaborateness and with further checks to secure accuracy), is a very large one; but I am glad to say that the results were known and ready for communication to the schools on the 19th of July. This will be admitted to be the very smallest time within which such a work could possibly be completed, and I must again bear tribute to the unflagging zeal and industry of the staff employed which enabled me to attain this result.

The work of issuing the certificates (about 15,000 in number) has now been completed.

I may again describe the method followed in the examination, which is as follows:—The general supervision, the settlement of the standard of marking, the revision of the work of the examiners, and the decision in regard to doubtful cases, is carried on for each subject, by one principal examiner, who, acting in conference with myself, is also responsible for drawing up the papers. For this work we have generally had the assistance, in each subject, of a professor in a Scottish University. I subsequently receive a report from each person who has taken part in the revision; and from these reports, and my own observation of the papers, many of which come before me personally, I am able to form a fairly accurate estimate of the general standard of work in the schools. With the view of maintaining a correspondence between this examination and the standard of the Joint Examining Board of the Scottish Universities, who are empowered to accept the Leaving Certificate as a substitute for an entrance examination, arrangements have been made for a conference between representatives of that board and myself.

The greatest care is taken to secure the integrity of the examination by the appointment of a supervising officer for each place of examination, nominated by, and responsible to, the Department. That officer distributes the papers, for the custody of which he is responsible, and he is present throughout the whole of each examination. I regret to say that, in spite of these precautions, I have again to record several instances of indubitable copying. Frequently the candidates admitted this when charged with it; and although, of course, all benefit of the examination was refused to such candidates, this is not an adequate penalty for such an offence, which brings discredit not only on the candidates themselves, but on their school. I would venture to call the attention of school managers and teachers to the necessity of doing all in their power to mark their sense of such conduct.

Passing to the results of the examination, the first point calling for remark is the reduced number of passes obtained, when all the subjects are reckoned. This result is not surprising, when the large increase in the number of candidates is borne in mind; and although it has been our object not only to maintain, but as far as possible to raise, the standard of the examination, I do not think that the increased proportion of those who failed to satisfy the examiners is due to any marked or undue raising of the standard this year. It is difficult even for the most experienced examiners to anticipate what will be the effect of a particular paper, but we have always endeavoured to make a due allowance when a paper has been found to contain some difficulty or stumbling block of an unexpected kind. It is impossible to resist the conclusion, which is confirmed by the reports received from several of the revisers, that candidates are often sent in who have not reached anything like the required standard, and I fear that some school managers and teachers have scarcely realised what that standard is. The decreased per-centage of passes does not apply to all subjects alike. In English there has been a considerable increase, proving that in this, the most usual subject, a fair standard of attainment is being reached by a largely increased number of pupils—the presentations being 6,428, in place of 4,813 last year. In German, with no very material increase in presentations, there has been a decrease in the per-centage of passes; but it may be open to doubt whether the standard was not somewhat lenient in previous years. In French, with some 20 per cent. of increase in presentations, the per-centage of passes is high, and it has been matter of some doubt whether the standard ought not to have been raised. The efficiency reached in certain schools shows that a fairly high standard may be demanded, and in justice to such schools, as well as to raise the value of the certificate, a somewhat enhanced attainment may reasonably be asked before a certificate is granted. There has been no material change in regard to Greek; but the chief fall is in Latin and Mathematics. It is in these subjects that the State-aided schools compare least favourably with the higher class schools, and it is hardly possible therefore to avoid the conclusion that misapprehension exists with regard to the standard, and that pupils are presented on a foundation of knowledge corresponding with the range of Latin or Mathematics as specific subjects under the Code, but inferior to that required in the Leaving Certificate Examination. It cannot be too clearly understood that in Latin, even for the lower grade certificate, familiarity with the common grammatical rules, a certain power of forming Latin sentences, and a reasonable dexterity in bringing lucid and connected meaning out of a Latin passage of ordinary difficulty are indispensable. In Mathematics no scholar should be presented even for a lower grade certificate who has not mastered the propositions of the first three books of Euclid and acquired a certain facility in working easy deductions from these propositions. He should also be familiar with algebra as far as easy quadratic equations, and with elementary arithmetic, including vulgar and decimal fractions, proportion, and simple interest.

It is interesting to compare the results in each subject in the higher class schools and in the State-aided schools respectively. As might be expected, the presentations in English and arithmetic are most numerous in the State-aided schools, and the pupils in these schools make a fair per-centage of passes; in English 59, as compared with 72 in the higher schools, and in arithmetic 60, as compared with 62. In Latin and Greek the numbers presented from the State-aided schools (456 and 139) are much smaller than those presented from the higher schools (1,150 and 629), and the per-centage of passes is also smaller (34 and 56 per cent., as compared with 53 and 67). In Mathematics the results present a similar scale of comparison; 1,030 candidates from the State-aided schools making 43 per cent. of passes, while 1,850 candidates from higher schools make 56 per cent. But in French and German the case is different. 1,333 candidates were presented in French from the State-aided schools, against 1,842 from the higher schools, and the per-centage of passes was almost identical, 73 and 74 per cent. respectively; while in German 590 candidates from the State-aided schools made 69 per cent. of passes, against 59 per cent. made by 1,221 candidates from the higher schools.

In regard to the work generally, it may fairly be said, comparing the reports received from all those who have taken part in the revision, that there are some features of improvement accompanying the very large increase in the number of candidates. The examination evidently commends itself to school authorities and teachers in Scotland, as is proved by the fact that all the higher class schools in Scotland, with a very small number of exceptions, present candidates for the certificate. In these circumstances it is only natural that the candidates should continue to rise to the standard, and that their industry should be stimulated by the desire to gain what is an object of ambition. I am glad to say that the hints which have been given as to defects in previous years have evidently received attention, and that general improvement is visible in what were formerly weak points.

I have again to repeat what has a very important practical bearing, and is confirmed by the almost uniform tenor of the reports which I have received, viz., that success or failure varies according to the schools rather than the individual candidates. The experience of all those taking part in the examination, and repeated year after year, is of great weight, and its uniform tendency is to prove that the efficiency of a school is the determining matter, and that the variety of individual capacity is comparatively small. If this fact is carefully considered it cannot but stimulate the efforts of all responsible for the efficiency of the schools. I urge it with the more insistance because it has been established to a degree beyond my own expectations.

This remark of course chiefly applies to the ordinary certificates of the higher and lower grades, and in a much less degree to the honours certificates, which imply individual excellence. In regard to the other grades we must keep in view the average state of efficiency, and the average standard which may fairly be attained. But the honours grade implies exceptional merit, and our object has been to confine this grade to those who have shown marked ability and acquirement. It will readily be conceived that the fixing of all the standards is a matter of much anxious consideration, and that many circumstances must be kept in view. We must not aim at anything beyond the reach of schools of fair efficiency, otherwise we would inevitably discourage much deserving effort. The first and principal end of the Leaving Certificate Examination is to fix a standard for scholars who have gone through a course of secondary education, fairly suitable for the country generally, and neither to discourage schools by asking too much nor to degrade the certificate by bringing it down to the level of inadequate work. Your Lordships have laid upon me the duty of determining the due mean, and experience is, year by year, giving better opportunities of deciding as to this. On the other hand, it is necessary to keep in view the fact that the certificate is accepted by many important public authorities, and not least by the Universities of Scotland, and while we must keep in view the schools first of all, we must not disregard the requirements of these public bodies, towards whom we necessarily incur a grave responsibility. I think we may fairly claim that, while guiding our course chiefly by the circumstances of the schools, we have not failed in the responsibility which we owe to these bodies.

The examination as a whole has been subjected to criticism, but I do not think that this is any matter for regret. Many suggestions of great value have been received and considered. Of the adverse criticism, a part is of the kind which condemns all examinations, much of it, as we would all admit, effective, but disappointing in its failure to propose any possible substitute for the system. But some of the criticism is specific. The Leaving Certificate Examination, it has been said, fails because of "its indiscriminating character," because it "tempts the boys to look "to a low average," because "it encourages mere roughness and "readiness of work in place of high scholarship."

Whatever faults may be found with the papers, it may be well to state that, for drawing them up, I had the assistance of gentlemen whose names it would be improper to cite in this connexion, but who, without question, stand in the very first rank of scholarship whether in England or Scotland. Each paper was the subject of careful consultation, and we had also the advantage of suggestions from the Oxford and Cambridge Schools Examination Board. I do not know what better means could be taken for securing that the papers shall bear the impress of scholarship and experience. With regard to the average standard being too low, this is certainly not the general verdict. No school has succeeded in completely meeting the test, and no statistics published under your Lordships' authority can warrant any school in claiming to have approached most nearly to complete success. Lastly, with regard to the indiscriminating character of the examination, your Lordships have already very distinctly stated your intention that the examination shall be of the nature of a qualifying test, and shall not be competitive. We endeavour to maintain a high standard, but, in regard to the ordinary certificates, not to discriminate between the candidates who reach that standard. The maintenance of a high ideal of scholarship must necessarily rest upon the teaching staff of a school, and ought not to depend upon an examination applicable to 10,000 candidates. Its presence or absence is discovered by the inspection of the individual school, which is quite separate from this examination. But, on the other hand, the revision of the honours papers was quite sufficient to show that the examination did bring out any merits of style and scholarly taste in the candidates, as well as the amount of their knowledge. Most of the candidates who obtained honours did so on the ground of sound and adequate knowledge, but some (and these not from any one school) owed their success largely to a certain amount of scholarly taste and judgment which they showed. Such cases were not confined to any single school.

The following are some of the special features of the examination in each subject:—

ENGLISH.

Presentations.	Passes.				Per-centage of Passes.
	Lower Grade.	Higher Grade.	Honours.	Total.
6,428	3,538	660	25	4,223	66

In the lower grade paper, the reports of the various revisers show that there has been considerable improvement in the more essential and elementary points of spelling and composition. In these the average standard has risen, and there are comparatively few cases of complete failure. Grammar is a subject which suffers from the variety of methods followed, and from the want of any system of established authority. The paraphrase, of which I spoke last year as a most important instrument of mental training, appears on the whole to have improved, but it is still in some respects very faulty and disappointing. One is compelled, however, to admit that the process is a difficult one, and that it calls for greater intelligence and mental power than are to be found in the average candidate for the lower grade certificate.

The correction of faulty sentences was not on the whole well done, and showed a defect of thought similar to that displayed in the paraphrase. History and geography were better than last year. The questions on literature were not well answered, and experience increases the doubts which arise as to the expediency of attempting to give to young pupils instruction in such a subject, if it is to lead to the intellectual degradation involved in reproducing, haphazard, a confused mass of second-hand information on a subject which is useless unless it is known at first hand. The errors which were often made as to books and authors would be ludicrous if they had not a much graver side. A candidate is morally and intellectually injured who thinks that it is permissible to run through a list of books of which personally he knows nothing, and assign them to authors on the chance that a few names may be rightly chosen. But this is done so often as to show that it is a danger in the teaching of English which requires to be sternly checked.

In the higher grade and honours the results do not appear to show improvement on last year. The examiners complain of the same absence of independent power of thought, and the same tendency to reproduce in a parrot-like way expressions which have evidently come from books and have not been properly grasped by the candidate. An examination of the honours papers in this subject shows that it gives to the best pupils some breadth of view and readiness in writing, but that it does not foster exactness of knowledge or the power of careful and discriminating thought.

LATIN.

Presentations.	Passes.				Per-centage of Passes.
	Lower Grade.	Higher Grade.	Honours.	Total.
1,606	475	263	30	768	48

I see no reason to change the opinion I expressed last year, that no subject is more important than this in determining the intellectual standard of a school. Where the Latin is good a school is very rarely bad in other subjects. In regard to the subject itself, the main test is the knowledge of grammar. One of the revisers states what is unquestionably true: "When the grammar is bad a paper is generally bad throughout." In the lower grade the translation from Latin prose was fairly done; that from verse was generally a failure, and it is evident that the passage from Ovid proved harder than was anticidated. The translation from English into Latin varied, but in the case of many schools was creditable. The simple exercise in Latin verse proved that a knowledge of the rules of Latin poetry was entirely wanting. No candidates showed any acquaintance whatever with these rules. The exercise was not reckoned an essential part of the paper, and the result of the experiment does not encourage its repetition; but it is a matter of some regret that a branch of scholarship which might be profitable in many cases should be so entirely neglected.

In the higher grade the weak point seems still to be the translation of an unseen passage from Latin into English. In honours the standard of attainment was high. Candidates have evidently learned more accurately the requirements of that grade, and an examination of the papers of the successful candidates shows that they have acquired much sound knowledge and a considerable grasp of scholarship.

GREEK.

Presentations.	Passes.				Per-centage of Passes.
	Lower Grade.	Higher Grade.	Honours.	Total.
768	373	119	11	503	65

In Greek the lower grade papers show distinct improvement; but in the higher grade the appearance is not so satisfactory. The successful honours papers were good; but few of the candidates seem to be able to cope with Greek prose composition. When the papers of the successful candidates are examined, it is impossible to deny that a few have shown promise of the literary skill and judgment which this study above all others is fitted to give. But this is not the case with all, even where they have obtained the necessary marks by a creditable amount of knowledge.

FRENCH.

Presentations.	Passes.				Per-centage of Passes.
	Lower Grade.	Higher Grade.	Honours.	Total.
3,175	1,657	547	141	2,345	74

In French the reports show a creditable advance in standard for the lower grade. But the knowledge of literature is evidently very superficial, and the doubts which I expressed as to the results of such questions in English, occur even more strongly in regard to a foreign language, of which the candidates can very rarely have any first-hand knowledge. There was a considerable demand some years ago for some commercial questions, but as is not unfrequently the case, the demand was not based on any actual work done in the schools. The results in respect of this part of the paper, were lamentable, the candidates having failed throughout, even in the rare cases where they tried the questions.

In the higher grade and honours papers some good results were obtained; but here also the literature does not seem to be studied in a way that is likely to form a good intellectual training. The grammatical acquirement is often good, and that can be gained only by thorough and serious work; but in many cases, even where there is a certain fluency in French composition, it is evident that the mental powers of the candidate are not called into constant exercise, but that it is to a large extent mechanical. The impression which even the best papers give, is not that of severe or rigorous mental discipline; and it was somewhat disappointing to find that one of the papers obtaining highest marks was written by a boy to whom French was evidently a more familiar language than English. It can hardly be said to be the work of a Scottish school to train a Frenchman to speak and write his own language.

GERMAN.

Presentations.	Passes.				Per-centage of Passes.
	Lower Grade.	Higher Grade.	Honours.	Total.
1,811	819	259	57	1,135	63

In regard to the German, no material advance or retrogression has to be recorded. The lower grade papers showed a creditable knowledge of grammatical rules; and the higher grade some power of composition. But the literary and commercial questions produced no good answers, and the honours papers show no advance on last year. Few of the candidates, indeed, reach a standard higher than might fairly be expected in the higher grade.

* No passes are reckoned in this per-centage unless the candidates have also obtained a certificate in mathematics.

The following are the remarks (based upon the reports of the various revisers) of the gentleman who took the chief part in this branch of the examination:—

"The general result of the examination in Mathematics is satisfactory, and indicates that, as a rule, the elements of the subject are taught in a sound and intelligent manner. The work is generally neatly written, and, when necessary, accompanied by carefully drawn figures. One noticeable feature is the evenness of the marks obtained by the candidates in each school, which shows that success or want of success depends far more on the character of the instruction given than on the individual talent of the candidate.

"Honours Grade.—In geometry, despite much variation from school to school, the general tone of the work was highly satisfactory. Every question was answered by some of the candidates, and it was clear that the preparation for the examination had been thorough and intelligent. The chief faults were (1) drawing figures on too small a scale and lettering them indistinctly, and (2) deducing proofs of fundamental theorems from those of similar theorems of at least equal difficulty, instead of giving independent demonstrations.

"In algebra the questions on elementary theory were, as a rule, poorly answered, and carelessness in solving an easy quadratic equation was very marked. The use of complex numbers appeared to be understood, but such definitions as those of 'homogeneous' and 'symmetrical expressions' were not well given.

"In trigonometry the work was generally sound, though sometimes limited in quantity; but neatness of writing and figures were not so general as in the geometry paper. The more difficult questions were answered by a very fair proportion of candidates. That on solution of triangles, however, was seldom worked out accurately or completely.

"Additional Subjects.—In higher dynamics the work was not very far advanced, but it seemed to rest on a sound elementary basis. The answers ranged over all the questions asked, but it was comparatively rare for any candidate to obtain full marks for more than one question.

"In analytical geometry the proofs were in general fully stated and accompanied by carefully drawn figures. The numerical work was generally accurate, though the processes were sometimes unnecessarily laborious. Sometimes the results which the candidates were asked to find were simply written down without the necessary demonstration.

"In geometrical conics the work was generally creditable. The candidates showed, on the whole, a sound knowledge of bookwork, which was often accompanied by excellent solutions of the riders. A common fault, however, was the omission to explain the construction of the figures. In some cases the handwriting was slovenly, and the work was at times difficult to decipher from the use of small Italic letters instead of Roman capitals to denote points in the figures.

"In elements of dynamics the work was, as a whole, satisfactory and neatly written, and it was clear that the teaching had been careful and accurate. A commendable feature was the large number of well-drawn diagrams. In some cases bookwork and definitions seemed to have been learned by rote, while questions involving the application of the fundamental principles were neglected.

"Higher Grade.—In geometry the propositions were generally very fairly written out, and the diagrams were often well drawn. Some candidates wasted time by unnecessarily copying out the general enunciations of the propositions. A good many sent up very satisfactory solutions of the deductions, and even showed considerable skill in dealing with them; others, on the contrary, omitted them altogether.

"In algebra the work was, on the whole, satisfactory. Some of the methods employed were unnecessarily cumbrous, although a certain proportion of the candidates showed knowledge of the best methods. The answers to the question on progression showed that in a good many cases this subject had been somewhat hastily prepared without being thoroughly understood.

"In arithmetic many of the papers were disappointing. Instead of beginning at the beginning, and working right through the paper, many of the candidates omitted questions which merely required a knowledge of elementary arithmetic, and spent their time, often with but little success, in attacking the more advanced questions.

"In elementary trigonometry the work was generally very fairly done, more attention being given, as might be expected, to bookwork than to questions requiring ingenuity. The question on logarithms was, as a rule, well answered, although 'negative characteristics' proved a stumbling block to a good many. An objectionable feature in some papers was the apparent attempt to make an answer appear to be correct when the work did not really lead to the solution indicated.

"Lower Grade.—In geometry the average work was good and intelligent, and the style of writing out the proofs showed improvement on former years. Too many candidates tried to use Euclid I., 4 to prove two triangles congruent, although the angles given equal were not those contained by the two equal sides.

"In algebra questions depending on the elementary rules were well answered, and questions on factors were better done than in previous years. As formerly, however, weakness was shown in fractions and in equations with literal co-efficients. A large proportion of the candidates were fairly successful in solving the problems.

"In arithmetic the mechanical parts of the work were, as a rule, well done, the neatness and care with which the answers were written being, as a rule, extremely creditable, although there were some conspicuous exceptions where there was room for considerable improvement. The answers to questions which merely required the application of an arithmetical rule were generally well done, but in some schools those questions which involve greater exercise of the mental faculties were for the most part hardly attempted. In some schools much time was lost by the employment of cumbersome methods. For example, when it was required to find the prime factors of two numbers and also their highest common factor, comparatively few made use of the separate factors already obtained to find the highest common factor.

"In spite of the warning that all the steps of the work must be shown, many candidates lost marks by omitting the detailed work in such cases as reduction, addition of fractions, etc. This had apparently been done on scroll paper, instead of being done in the books provided. A good many candidates took this paper who had not mastered the principles of vulgar or decimal fractions.

"Copying.—It must be stated with regret that in several cases the answers showed unmistakable evidence of copying, and it was clear that the candidates had been allowed to sit too near each other and to look about them during the examination.

"Book-keeping and Commercial Arithmetic.—Candidates were examined from 41 schools with the following result:—

Presented.	Passed.	Per-centage.
437 -	- 287 -	- 66.

"In book-keeping the general results were satisfactory. There was a tendency to vagueness both in the definitions and in the answers to questions, and few candidates showed clearly that every transaction has two parts, and that 'double entry' means recording these two parts. As a rule, the invoice and day books were correctly drawn up, but the cash book was not well framed. In spite of instructions to the contrary, many of the candidates journalised more transactions than were necessary. Only a few candidates saved labour by forming books with columns, whereby the items in a cash, day, or invoice book can be separated into classes, although the class of business under consideration lent itself well to this method.

"In commercial arithmetic the work was, on the whole, creditable, showing a fair amount of ability in accurate and rapid calculation."

I have the honour to be, &c.,
HENRY CRAIK.

The Lords of the Committee of Council on Education in Scotland.

NOTE.

The object of this Code is to encourage the development of Evening Continuation Schools, partly as a means of supplying defects in the elementary instruction of certain scholars, but still more as a means of enabling scholars who have left elementary schools to acquire something more than elementary knowledge, and especially of giving them opportunities of learning the scientific principles which underlie the employment upon which they have entered.

The restriction to pupils under 21 years of age is removed.

The methods of calculating the grant have been simplified, and by the basing of payment on the number of hours of instruction given, it is hoped that a more prolonged attendance at evening classes will be encouraged.

The schedules or schemes of instruction appended to the Code are intended only as suggestions; and my Lords desire to leave to the local authorities full freedom both of modifying these courses and of proposing others, subject to the approval of the Department.

Subject to the condition that at least one hour at each meeting is devoted to some subject or subjects mentioned in Article 2 of the Code, my Lords are anxious to encourage any means whereby these Evening Continuation Schools may be rendered more attractive and more efficient in view of the requirements of each locality, and whereby their numbers may be increased.

SCOTCH EVENING CONTINUATION SCHOOL CODE, 1894.

Articles of Scotch Code applicable to Evening Schools.

1. The Articles of the Scotch Code, so far as they are set out in the Appendix to this Code, shall apply to Evening Continuation Schools.

Subjects of instruction for which grants may be paid.

2. Grants may be made for any of the subjects of instruction named in the following list, and for any other subjects sanctioned by the Department, provided that a graduated scheme for teaching any such subject be submitted to and approved by the Inspector.

(a.) Elementary Subjects	Reading or Recitation, or both combined. Writing and Composition. Reading and Writing combined. Arithmetic.
(b.) English Subjects	English. Geography. History. The Life and Duties of the Citizen.

Grants may also be made for Cookery, Laundry Work, and Dairy Work as subjects of instruction for Girls and Women.

Subjects for which fixed grant only may be paid.

3. Instruction in the following subjects is recognised for the purpose of the Grant under Article 10 (a), but not for the Grant under Article 10 (b) :—

Drawing.
Manual or Technical Instruction.
Suitable Physical Exercises.
Military Drill (for boys and men).

School meeting.

4. No meeting of the school is reckoned at which less than one hour's secular instruction in one or more of the subjects mentioned in Article 2 has been given, and separate registers must be kept for the subjects mentioned in Articles 2, 3, and 11 respectively. No lesson of less than half-an-hour in length is recognised for purposes of registration.

Recognised scholars.

5. No scholar may be entered or continue on the register who is under twelve years of age, unless such scholar is deemed by the Department to be exempt from the legal obligation to attend school. A scholar exempt from the legal obligation to attend school may, while earning a grant in a day school, also earn a grant in an evening school in a special subject not taught in the day school.

6. The "school year" is the year ending on the 30th of April.

7. Any person over eighteen years of age approved by the Inspector, and not being a pupil-teacher engaged in a State-aided School, may be recognised as teacher or assistant teacher.

8. The following conditions must be fulfilled in order that a school may receive an annual grant:—

(a.) Principal teacher.

(a.) The principal teacher must be certificated or recognised under Article 7, and must not be allowed to undertake duties not connected with the school which may occupy any part whatever of the school hours.

(b.) Minimum number of meetings.

(b.) The school must have met on not less than 30 evenings in the school year.

If a school has been closed during the year under medical authority, or for any unavoidable cause, a corresponding reduction is made from the number of meetings required by this Article.

(c.) Annual notice to Department.

(c.) Notice must be given annually at the beginning of the session to the Department that the managers desire a grant for the school.

(d.) Time-Table.

(d.) The Time-Table must be submitted to and approved by the Inspector at the beginning of the Session. It must show the several subjects in which instruction is given, and the time allotted to each subject, and no subject that is not so shown will count for a grant. Any alteration affecting the days or hours of meeting must be notified to the Inspector.

(e.) Visit of Inspector.

(e.) The school must be visited by the Inspector at least once in each school year, unless some cause accepted as satisfactory by the Department should prevent such visit. The Inspector's visits will, as a rule, be made without previous notice being given.

(f.) School must be efficient.

(f.) The school must be reported efficient by the Inspector. A school will not be reported efficient unless the Inspector is satisfied that the order is good, that the teaching is systematic and intelligent, and that the scholars are making genuine progress in the subjects taught.

Date of payment.

9. The annual grant becomes due at the end of the school year, and is paid as soon as may be after that date.

Annual grant.

10. The managers may claim:—

(a.) A grant of 1*s.* for every complete 12 hours of secular instruction (Article 4) received by the scholars, all the hours of such instruction which each registered scholar has received during the school year being added together.

(i.) The grant under Article 10 (a.) may not be withdrawn unless the whole grant is withdrawn.

(ii.) No grant under Article 10 (a.) will be paid unless some other grant under this Code is payable.

(b.) A grant of 1*s.* or 1*s.* 6*d.* for every complete 12 hours of instruction (similarly calculated) received by the scholars in any subject mentioned in Article 2 (other than cookery, laundry work, and dairy work), or sanctioned as provided by that Article. The Department shall decide which, if either, of these sums shall be paid after considering the report of the Inspector's visit or visits.

(i.) No Grant under Article 10 (b) shall be paid for any scholar on account of any subject in which he has been previously examined by the Science and Art Department.

(ii.) No Grant shall be paid for any scholar on account of more than two Science subjects.

(iii.) If a scholar is to be presented for examination in two Science subjects by the Science and Art Department in the May following the close of the school year, no Grant shall be paid for him on account of any Science subject, and if he is to be so presented in one Science subject, no Grant shall be paid for him on account of more than one Science subject.

Cookery grant.

11. (a.) Where the Inspector reports that special and appropriate provision is made for the practical teaching of Cookery by a teacher holding a certificate from some Training School of Cookery recognised by the Department, or whose competency is otherwise proved to the satisfaction of the Department, a grant of 2*s.* (or 4s.) is made on account of each girl or woman who has attended not less than 20 (or 40) hours during the school year at a Cookery Class, and has spent not less than 10 (or 20) of these hours in cooking with her own hands in a class in which not more than 12 scholars are taught at the same time by one teacher.

Laundry Work grant.

(b.) Where the Inspector reports that special and appropriate provision has been made for the practical teaching of Laundry Work by a teacher recognised by the Department as qualified to teach that subject, a grant of 2*s.* is made on account of any girl or woman who has attended not less than 20 hours during the school year at a Laundry Class of not more than 14 scholars.

Dairy Work grant.

(c.) Where the Inspector reports that special and appropriate provision has been made for the practical teaching of Dairy Work by a teacher holding a certificate recognised by the Department, or otherwise recognised by the Department as competent to teach Dairy Work, a grant of 4*s.* is made on account of any girl or woman who has attended for not less than 20 lessons, of at least two hours each, a class of not more than 14 scholars. The time for Dairy Work must be entered in the Time-Table, and should be not less than two continuous hours at any meeting.

Average attendance.

12. For the purposes of section 19 of the Elementary Education Act, 1876 (see Appendix, Article 32), the average attendance shall be found by dividing the total number of hours of instruction (Article 4) received by registered scholars during the school year by the total number of hours during which the school has been open during the same period.

Alteration of Code.

13. The Department, as occasion requires, may cancel or modify articles of the Code, or may establish new articles, but may not take any action thereon until the same shall have lain on the Table of both Houses for at least one calendar month.

Code to be printed and laid before Parliament

14. The Code shall be printed each year, in such a form as to show separately all articles cancelled, modified, or established since the last edition, and shall be laid on the Table of both Houses within one calendar month from the meeting of Parliament.

APPENDIX No. 1.

Articles of the Scotch Code, 1894, applicable to Evening Continuation Schools.

1. A sum of money is annually granted by Parliament "For public "Education in Scotland."

2. This grant is administered by the Scotch Education Department,* herein-after called the Department.

3. The object of the grant is to aid local exertion, under certain conditions, to maintain—

(a.) Schools for children (Article 6); and

(b.) Training colleges for teachers.

4. Aid to maintain schools is given by annual grants conditional upon the attendance and proficiency of the scholars, the qualifications of the teachers, and the state of the schools.

5. These grants are made,—

(a.) "To any school board for and in respect of the public schools under their management."

(b.) "To the managers of any school which is, in the opinion of the Department, efficiently contributing to the secular education of the parish or burgh in which it is situated." (Education (Scotland) Act, 1872, sec. 67 (2).)

6. In every school, or department of a school, in respect of which grants are made, the following regulations must be strictly observed:—

(a.) "The school shall be open to children of all denominations, and any child may be withdrawn by his parents from any instruction in religious subjects and from any religious observance in any such school; and no child shall in any such school be placed at any disadvantage with respect to the secular instruction given therein by reason of the denomination to which such child or his parents belong, or by reason of his being withdrawn from any instruction in religious subjects."

(b.) "The time or times during which any religious observance is practised or instruction in religious subjects is given at any meeting of the school for elementary instruction shall be either at the beginning or at the end, or at the beginning and at the end, of such meeting, and shall be specified in a table approved of by the Scotch Education Department." (Education (Scotland) Act, 1872, sec. 68.) This time-table is to be submitted to the inspector for approval, on behalf of the Department, at the time of his annual visit.

* * * * * *

(d.) The ordinary payments in respect of the instruction, from each child, must not exceed ninepence a week on the average number on the books.

---

* "The term 'Scotch Education Department' shall mean The Lords of any "Committee of the Privy Council appointed by Her Majesty on Education in "Scotland" (Education (Scotland) Act, 1872, s. 1).

The "ordinary payment" will, as a rule, be found by dividing the total amount of fees payable for any week by the number of scholars on the registers for that week.

No school shall be eligible for grants if—

(a) the average fee exceeds ninepence a week, or

(b) more than one-third of the scholars in it pay fees exceeding ninepence a week.

Compulsory payments for books or material must be included in reckoning the fee.

7. No grant is made for or in respect of—

(a.) Instruction in religious subjects (Education (Scotland) Act, 1872, sec. 67 (a)).

(b.) A school established after the passing of the Education (Scotland) Act (6 August 1872), unless the Department shall after due inquiry be satisfied that no sufficient provision exists for the children for whom the school is intended, regard being had to the religious belief of their parents, or that it is otherwise specially required in the locality where it is situated (ibid., sec. 67 (b)).

(c.) Higher class public schools (ibid., sec. 62–64).

8. Officers are employed to collect information, to examine whether the conditions required to be fulfilled by a school in order to obtain an annual parliamentary grant have been fulfilled, and to report the results to the Department, with whom it rests finally to determine whether these conditions have been fulfilled.

9. These officers are inspectors appointed by Her Majesty, on the recommendation of the Department, sub-inspectors, and persons employed by the Department, as occasion requires, in the capacity of acting inspectors, inspector's assistants, or auditors of accounts.

10. No grant is paid except on a report from one of such officers, unless some unforeseen cause (such as a continued epidemic) makes it impossible for the inspector to visit and report upon the school.

(a.) The inspector may delegate to an assistant the duty of examining into the attendance and proficiency of the scholars.

* * * * *

12. An inspector, sub-inspector, or inspector's assistant may visit any public school, or other school subject to inspection, at any other time without notice.

* * * * *

14. No school is placed on the list for inspection * * * till an application has been addressed to the Secretary, Scotch Education Department, Dover House, Whitehall, London, S.W.

Full instructions are thereupon issued according to the particulars of the case.

15. The managers of a school must appoint a correspondent with the Department, and must give notice to the Department of any change of correspondent.

(a.) Teachers cannot act as managers of, or correspondents for, the schools in which they are employed, nor can they be recognised by the Department as clerks, or treasurers, of school boards, unless very special grounds can be shown for their holding such appointments.

(b.) The term managers includes,—

1. The School Board of any burgh or parish.

2. The managers of a public school appointed by a School Board under section 22 of the Education (Scotland) Act, or in terms of the Minute of the Scotch Education Department of the 10th April 1894.

3. The managers of any school to which grants are made pursuant to Article 5 (b).

17. Before any grant is made to a school (Article 4) the Department must be satisfied that—

(a.) The school is conducted in accordance with the terms of Article 6; and no child is refused admission on other than reasonable grounds.

(b.) The school must not be conducted for private profit, and must not be farmed out by the managers to the teacher. The managers must be responsible for the payment of teachers and all other expenses of the school.

(c.) The premises are healthy, well lighted, cleaned, warmed, drained, and ventilated, properly furnished, supplied with suitable offices, and contain sufficient accommodation for the children attending the school.

* * * * *

(g.) All returns called for by the Department, or by Parliament, are duly made; the admission and daily attendance of the scholars carefully registered by, or under the supervision of, the teacher * * *; accounts of income and expenditure accurately kept by the managers, and duly audited; and all statistical returns and certificates of character * * * may be accepted as trustworthy.

(h.) Three persons have designated one of their number to sign the receipt for the grant.

Exception:—

The treasurer of a school board signs the receipt for grants to schools under the management of the board, not being schools in which the Minute of the 10th April 1894 is applied.

(i.) The income of the school is applied only for the purpose of* public or State-aided schools.

18. The grant may be withheld, if, on the inspector's report, there appears to be any serious primâ facie objection. A second inspection, by a Chief Inspector, is made in every such instance, and if the grant be finally withheld, a special minute of the case is made and recorded.

20. For each blind or deaf-mute scholar in a day or evening school, or in any institution for the education of blind or deaf-mute children approved by the Department, grants may be allowed—

(a.) At the rate of 3*l.* 3*s.* a year if such scholar has been instructed in elementary or class subjects and his attainments are found to be satisfactory, regard being had to his necessary disqualifications.

(b.) At the rate of 2*l.* 2*s.* a year if such scholar has received satisfactory instruction and made satisfactory progress in some course of manual instruction approved by the Department.

---

* See Elementary Education Act, 1876, sections 20 and 53. Any income from endowment, if spent according to the terms of the trust, is not affected by this rule.

32. The amount which may be claimed by the managers * * * may be reduced,*—

(a.) If it exceeds 17*s.* 6*d.* per scholar in average attendance during the year * * * by its excess above the income† of the school from all sources whatever, other than the grant; provided that this reduction does not bring the grant below 17*s.* 6*d.* per scholar.

Exception :—

In any parish (not burgh) in the counties of Inverness, Argyll, Ross, Orkney and Shetland, Sutherland and Caithness, "where a School rate of not less than 3*d.* in the pound, on the "rateable value of the parish has been levied," (Education (Scotland) Act, 1872, sec. 67, and Parliamentary Grant (Caithness and Sutherland) Act, 1889) this Article will not be enforced.

* * * * *

34. In every school receiving annual grants, the managers must provide out of the school funds, besides the Code for the year, and registers of attendance (Article 17 (g.)),—

(a.) A diary or log-book.

(b.) A portfolio to contain official letters, which should be numbered in the order of their receipt.

---

* The conditions of this Article do not apply to grants under Article 20.

ORDINANCE No. 57.

[GENERAL No. 19.—REGULATIONS AS TO BURSARIES, SCHOLARSHIPS, AND FELLOWSHIPS.]

At Edinburgh, the thirtieth day of July, Eighteen hundred and ninety-four years.

WHEREAS by the Universities (Scotland) Act, 1889 (hereinafter referred to as the first-mentioned Act) the Commissioners under the said Act are empowered by section 14, sub-section 1, to regulate the foundations, mortifications, gifts, endowments, and bursaries held by any of the Universities or Colleges thereof, existing at the passing of the said Act, or by any person in trust for or on behalf of the same, or for the benefit of any Professors, Students, or others therein, which have taken effect for more than twenty-five years previously to the passing of the said Act; and in particular (a) to alter the conditions or directions affecting the same if it shall appear to the Commissioners that the interests of learning and the main design of the donor, so far as is consistent with the promotion of such interests, may be better advanced by such alteration; (b) to combine or divide bursaries, and to establish bursary funds; and (c) where it shall seem requisite to frame regulations under which the patronage of existing bursaries vested in private individuals or corporate or other bodies shall be exercised: provided that in all cases where competition for bursaries and other endowments is at present restricted to the holders of certain degrees, the Commissioners shall have power to extend it to the holders of such other degrees as they may consider to constitute in the circumstances an equivalent standard of merit; provided also that in framing such regulations or making such alterations the Commissioners shall take care not to diminish the advantages provided for poor students by such foundations, mortifications, gifts, endowments, or bursaries aforesaid; and by section 14, sub-section 16, to repeal or modify any Ordinance made under the provisions of the Universities (Scotland) Act, 1858.

Therefore the Commissioners under the first-mentioned Act statute and ordain with regard to bursaries, scholarships, and fellowships which have taken effect prior to the 30th day of August 1864, as follows:—

General.

I. For the purposes of this Ordinance, bursaries in the Faculty of Arts (hereinafter referred to as bursaries in Arts) shall be deemed to be the bursaries now attached to the said Faculty by Deed of Foundation or by custom.

II. Bursaries in Arts heretofore tenable for four years shall continue to be so tenable, provided that, if the holders graduate after the three years' course, they shall only retain their bursaries during the fourth year of tenure if they shall engage in a course of study approved by the Senatus Academicus in subjects included in the curriculum for Degrees in Arts or in Pure Science.

III. All bursars in Arts, subject to the provision as to the fourth year of tenure contained in the immediately preceding section, shall attend in each year at least two classes qualifying for graduation in Arts, and shall duly perform the work of these classes: Provided (1) that, for the purposes of this section, the classes known as Middle Classes, so long as the same exist, may be attended in place of classes qualifying for graduation; and (2) that it shall be in the power of the Senatus Academicus, with the approval of the University Court, to permit such bursars as they shall from time to time select to attend classes qualifying for graduation in Pure Science in place of classes qualifying for graduation in Arts.

IV. It shall be in the power of the Senatus Academicus to suspend or deprive a bursar, scholar, or fellow on the ground of misconduct, or, if it think fit, on the ground of his failure to obtain class certificates, or to produce such other evidence as may be required that he is prosecuting his studies in a manner satisfactory to the Senatus Academicus.

V. Bursaries in Divinity heretofore tenable for four years shall continue to be so tenable; provided that, if the holders graduate after the three years' course, they shall only retain their bursaries during the fourth year of tenure if they shall engage in a course of study in Divinity approved by the Senatus Academicus.

VI. In the case of a bursary, scholarship, or fellowship not in the gift of a patron becoming vacant by forfeiture or otherwise before the expiry of the period of tenure, it shall be in the power of the Senatus Academicus, with the approval of the University Court, to determine as to the disposal thereof, or of the income thereof, during the remainder of the said period.

VII. Any bursary tenable in several Faculties successively shall not be attached to any one of such Faculties in any year other than a year in which in ordinary rotation it would have been attached to such Faculty.

VIII. It shall be in the power of the Senatus Academicus to require, as a condition of tenure, any holder of a scholarship or fellowship who is a graduate to engage in teaching within the University or to conduct tutorial classes, unless he shall satisfy the Senatus Academicus that he is pursuing special higher studies, or that he is engaged in original research.

IX. Each Examiner at competitions for bursaries, scholarships, or fellowships shall receive suitable remuneration, and it shall be in the power of the University Court to charge the funds of bursaries, scholarships, or fellowships with the necessary expenses of examination.

Open Bursaries.

X. (1) The subjects of the Examination for open bursaries in Arts of the first year shall be the subjects prescribed for the Preliminary Examination in Arts instituted by Ordinance No. 11 [General No. 6—Regulations for Degrees in Arts], section III. The Examination shall be taken at the Spring or the Autumn Preliminary Examination, according as the University Court shall determine, and shall be upon the same papers: Provided that the Senatus Academicus may, for purposes of competition, subject candidates to any further test that may be deemed necessary.

(2) Candidates for such bursaries who select in the Bursary Competition Examination, Latin, Greek, or Mathematics, shall, for the purposes of the competition, take the papers of the higher standard in those subjects: Provided that nothing herein contained shall prevent a candidate passing the Preliminary Examination if he complies with the provisions of Ordinance No. 11 [General No. 6.—Regulations for Degrees in Arts], and Ordinance No. 44 [General No. 16.—Regulations for Degrees in Arts Supplementary to Ordinance No. 11].

(3) No candidate shall, except as hereinafter provided, obtain a bursary in Arts who shall not have passed the Preliminary Examination in Arts; Provided that it shall be in the power of the Senatus Academicus, with the approval of the University Court, to admit to a bursary in Arts a candidate who shall have passed in at least three subjects of the Preliminary Examination, on the condition that he shall not retain the bursary unless he shall have passed in all the subjects not later than the Second Preliminary Examination after the date of his admission as bursar: Provided also that this power shall lapse after the expiry of seven years from the date hereof unless it be renewed by Ordinance.

XI. It shall be competent for the Senatus Academicus, with the approval of the University Court, from time to time to make regulations as to the conditions under which persons shall be eligible to compete for bursaries of the first year in the Faculties of Arts and Science: Provided always that no student, who has during a winter or summer session attended any class qualifying for graduation in the said Faculties in any Scottish University, shall be eligible to compete for such bursaries.

XII. (1) In determining the marks to be assigned to the several subjects of the Bursary Competition Examination, English, Latin, Greek, and Mathematics shall each have assigned to them double the marks assigned to any other subject.

(2) Candidates may select not more than five subjects for examination from the subjects of the Preliminary Examination in Arts, and no candidate shall be credited with marks in any subject in which he has not obtained such proportion of the total number of marks assigned to that subject as the Senatus Academicus may from time to time prescribe.

XIII. The Senatus Academicus, in determining the results of the Bursary Competition Examination, may award bursaries in Arts of the first year in respect of exceptional distinction in any one branch of study: Provided that this power shall not be exercised with regard to more than two bursaries in any one year.

XIV. Bursaries open for competition to students entering on their first session of attendance in the Faculty of Medicine shall be tenable only by those students who have passed the Preliminary Examination in Medicine, or who have been exempted therefrom in accordance with the provisions of Section VI. of Ordinance No. 46 [St Andrews, No. 4.—Regulations for Degrees in Medicine], Ordinance No. 14 [Glasgow, No. 1.—Regulations for Degrees in Medicine], Ordinance No. 15 [Aberdeen, No. 1.—Regulations for Degrees in Medicine], or Ordinance No. 16 [Edinburgh, No. 1.—Regulations for Degrees in Medicine], and who have not attended any class qualifying for graduation in Medicine; provided always that the last-mentioned condition shall not be held to exclude a candidate who may have attended the class of Physics, Chemistry, Botany, or Zoology, otherwise than as part of a graduation course in Medicine.

Restricted and Preferential Bursaries.

XV. Candidates for bursaries in Arts which are not awarded by open competition shall present themselves for the Preliminary Examination in Arts prescribed by Ordinance No. 11 [General No. 6—Regulations for Degrees in Arts], section III., and no bursary shall, except as hereinafter provided, be awarded to any candidate who shall not have passed the Preliminary Examination in Arts: Provided that it shall be in the power of the Senatus Academicus, with the approval of the University Court, to admit to a bursary in Arts not awarded by open competition a candidate who shall have passed in at least one subject of the Preliminary Examination, on the condition that he shall not retain the bursary unless he shall have passed in all the subjects not later than the Second Preliminary Examination after the date of his admission as bursar.

XVI. In the case of a bursary, scholarship, or fellowship in the gift of a patron, including bodies corporate and not corporate, becoming vacant by forfeiture or otherwise during the period of tenure, the Senatus Academicus shall forthwith give notice of the vacancy to the patron, who may, within such time as the Senatus shall fix, appoint a qualified student to fill the vacancy; and if he fail to do so within such time, the Senatus Academicus may select a deserving student to fill the vacancy until the next Preliminary Examination at which bursaries are awarded, when the patron's right to present shall revive.

XVII. On the occurrence of a vacancy in any bursary in the gift of a patron, including bodies corporate and not corporate, at the expiry of the period of tenure, the Senatus Academicus shall give notice of such vacancy to the patron of the bursary and of the date fixed for the Preliminary Examination next ensuing at which bursaries are awarded; and the patron may, if he think fit, submit to the Senatus the names of two or more candidates eligible for such bursary, who shall undergo an examination to be conducted by the examiners for open bursaries in the University, and the result of the examination shall be communicated to the patron for his information, who shall thereafter present to the bursary.

XVIII. In the case of a bursary in the gift of a patron, including bodies corporate and not corporate, if no qualified person be presented before the date of the Preliminary Examination intimated in terms of the immediately preceding section, the bursary shall be open to unrestricted competition for that year; and in the event of no qualified person being presented as before provided at the beginning of the next academical year the Senatus may either throw open the bursary to unrestricted competition, or continue the same to the student to whom it had previously been awarded: Provided that this section shall not apply in cases where the patron shall previously satisfy the Senatus Academicus that proper arrangements have been made for the selection of a bursar.

Miscellaneous.

XIX. In the case of bursaries designed for poor students, the Senatus Academicus shall satisfy itself that the circumstances of candidates are such as to entitle them to the benefit of the endowment, and for this purpose the Senatus may require that a declaration be made by a parent or guardian, or by the minister of religion or schoolmaster, of each candidate as the Court shall think fit.

XX. In the case of the bursaries enumerated in the first column of the Schedule hereunto annexed, the preferences and restrictions set forth in the second column of the said Schedule shall be and are hereby cancelled, and shall be of no force or effect.

XXI. Nothing herein contained shall apply to any bursary or endowment granted by any incorporation or society whose funds, capital or revenue have been and are contributed and paid by the members of such incorporation or society by way of entry monies or other fixed or stated contributions.

XXII. The Senatus Academicus, with the approval of the University Court, shall prescribe the subjects of examination and the conditions of competition for bursaries, scholarships, or fellowships, in so far as the same are not prescribed by Ordinance or by deed of foundation.

XXIII. The provisions of any Ordinance of the Commissioners under the Universities (Scotland) Act, 1858, in so far as inconsistent with the provisions of this Ordinance, are hereby repealed.

XXIV. This Ordinance shall come into force from and after the 1st day of January 1895, or as soon thereafter as it may be approved by Her Majesty in Council; provided that nothing herein contained shall extend to, or affect the interests of, any person holding a bursary, scholarship, or fellowship at the date of its coming into effect.

In witness whereof these presents are sealed with the seal of the Commission.

WHEREAS by the Universities (Scotland) Act, 1889 (hereinafter referred to as the first-mentioned Act), the Commissioners under the said Act are empowered by section 14, sub-section 1, to regulate the foundations, mortifications, gifts, endowments, and bursaries held by any of the Universities or Colleges thereof, existing at the passing of the said Act, or by any person in trust for or on behalf of the same, or for the benefit of any Professors, Students, or others therein, which have taken effect for more than twenty-five years previously to the passing of the said Act, or if given within less than twenty-five years, are wholly or partially inoperative or dormant; and in particular (a) to alter the conditions or directions affecting the same if it shall appear to the Commissioners that the interests of learning and the main design of the donor, so far as is consistent with the promotion of such interests, may be better advanced by such alteration; (b) to combine or divide bursaries, and to establish bursary funds; and (c) where it shall seem requisite to frame regulations under which the patronage of existing bursaries vested in private individuals or corporate or other bodies shall be exercised: provided that in all cases where competition for bursaries and other endowments is at present restricted to the holders of certain degrees, the Commissioners shall have power to extend it to the holders of such other degrees as they may consider to constitute in the circumstances an equivalent standard of merit: provided also that in framing such regulations or making such alterations the Commissioners shall take care not to diminish the advantages provided for poor students by such foundations, mortifications, gifts, endowments, or bursaries aforesaid; and by the said section 14, sub-section 6, to enable each University to admit women to graduation in one or more Faculties, and to provide for their instruction, and by section 14, sub-section 16, to repeal or modify any Ordinance made under the provisions of the Universities (Scotland) Act, 1858.

Therefore the Commissioners under the first-mentioned Act statute and ordain as follows:—

I. (1) It shall be in the power of the University Court in each University, after consultation with the Senatus Academicus, to make regulations from time to time for the purpose of appropriating for competition without restriction as to sex, or for competition among women students only who are proceeding to a degree in any Faculty, such number, if any, of open bursaries, which have taken effect prior to the 30th day of August 1864, as the University Court may think fit: provided always (a) that the Court and the Senatus in each University shall, in making such regulations, have regard to the number of bursaries in that University specially appropriated to women by the terms of the deeds of foundation; (b) that no bursary shall be appropriated to students in any other Faculty than that to which it is at present attached, except under Section III. of Ordinance [General No. 19.—Regulations as to Bursaries, Scholarships, and Fellowships.]

(2) It shall be in the power of the University Court of each University, in like manner, to open to competition, without restriction as to sex, such number, if any, of Scholarships or Fellowships tenable by graduates, which have taken effect prior to the 30th day of August 1864, as the said Court may think fit.

II. Save as hereinbefore provided, women shall not be allowed to compete for or hold any Bursary, Scholarship, or Fellowship, which is not expressly open to competition by women by the terms of the deed of foundation.

III. Women competing for Bursaries, Scholarships, or Fellowships under the provisions of this Ordinance shall be subject to all the provisions prescribed by Ordinance [General No. 19.—Regulations as to Bursaries, Scholarships, and Fellowships].

IV. This Ordinance shall come into force from and after the first day of January 1895, or as soon thereafter as it shall be approved by Her Majesty in Council: provided that nothing herein contained shall extend to, or affect the interests of, any person holding a bursary, scholarship, or fellowship at the date of its coming into force.

ORDINANCE No. 55.

[ABERDEEN, No. 9.—REGULATIONS FOR DEGREES IN MEDICINE, SUPPLEMENTARY TO ORDINANCE No. 15.]

At Edinburgh, the Eighteenth day of July, Eighteen hundred and ninety-four years.

WHEREAS by the Universities (Scotland) Act, 1889, the Commissioners under the said Act are empowered by Section 14, Sub-section 5, to regulate the management and ordering of the Universities, and the manner and conditions in and under which students shall be admitted thereto, and in particular the course of study and manner of teaching, the manner of examination, and the granting of degrees; and whereas, on the Third day of February eighteen hundred and ninety-two years, the Commissioners under the said Act issued an Ordinance, entitled No. 15 [Aberdeen, No. 1.—Regulations for Degrees in Medicine]; and whereas it is provided by Section VII., Sub-section 9 of the said Ordinance that candidates for the Degrees of Bachelor of Medicine and Bachelor of Surgery must have attended a course of twenty-five meetings on Practical Pharmacy in a University or recognised School of Medicine, or have dispensed drugs for a period of three months in an Hospital or Dispensary, or in an establishment recognised by the Pharmaceutical Society; and whereas by Section XI. of the said Ordinance it is provided that if a candidate for the Degrees of Bachelor of Medicine and Bachelor of Surgery have obtained in a University of the United Kingdom, or other University specially recognised for the purpose by the University Court, a Degree in Science or in Arts, granted in either case after a course of study and an examination in Botany, Zoology, Physics, and Chemistry, he shall be held to have passed his examinations in the said subjects: And the said Ordinance thereafter received the approval of Her Majesty in Council on the Fifth day of August eighteen hundred and ninety-two; and whereas doubts have been felt as to the meaning of the expressions 'the 'Pharmaceutical Society,' and 'an establishment recognised by the Pharmaceutical 'Society,' in the said Section VII., Sub-section 9; and whereas it is expedient to amend, explain, and extend the provisions of the said sections; and whereas it is expedient to make further regulations for the graduation as Doctors of Medicine, of those Bachelors of Medicine and Masters of Surgery who graduated under the regulations in force before the Fifth day of August eighteen hundred and ninety-two:

Therefore the Commissioners under the said Act statute and ordain, with regard to the University of Aberdeen, as follows:—

I. The expression 'Pharmaceutical Society,' in Section VII., Sub-section 9 of the said recited Ordinance, shall mean and include the Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain and the Pharmaceutical Society of Ireland.

II. The expression 'an establishment recognised by the Pharmaceutical 'Society,' in the said Section VII., Sub-section 9 of the said recited Ordinance, shall mean the establishment of any chemist and druggist or pharmaceutical chemist of Great Britain, or any pharmaceutical chemist of Ireland, who is registered in the Books of the Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain or of the Pharmaceutical Society of Ireland respectively.

III. If a candidate for the Degrees of Bachelor of Medicine and Bachelor of Surgery have completed in a University of the United Kingdom a course of study and passed an examination in Botany, Zoology, Physics, or Chemistry qualifying for a Degree in Science or in Arts, he shall be held to have passed the examinations prescribed by Section XI. of the said recited Ordinance in such subject or subjects.

IV. If a candidate have obtained a Degree in Science or in Arts in any University other than a University of the United Kingdom, granted in either case after a course of study and an examination in Botany, Zoology, Physics, or Chemistry, it shall be in the power of the University Court to exempt such candidate from the examinations in such subject or subjects prescribed by Section XI. of the said recited Ordinance; provided that the course of study and the standard of examination in each case are satisfactory in the judgment of the Senatus Academicus.

V. The provisions of Section X. of the said recited Ordinance shall not have effect except where the University Court shall allow their application after a report by the Senatus Academicus, setting forth special grounds therefor in the case of any candidate named in the report.

VI. Bachelors of Medicine and Masters of Surgery of the University of Aberdeen, who have graduated under the regulations in force before the Fifth day of August eighteen hundred and ninety-two, may proceed to the Degree of Doctor of Medicine under the provisions of Section XXI. of Ordinance No. 15 [Aberdeen, No. 1.—Regulations for Degrees in Medicine], in the same manner as if they held the Degree of Bachelor of Surgery.

III. If a candidate for the Degrees of Bachelor of Medicine and Bachelor of Surgery have completed in a University of the United Kingdom a course of study and passed an examination in Botany, Zoology, Physics, or Chemistry qualifying for a Degree in Science or in Arts, he shall be held to have passed the examinations prescribed by Section XI. of the said recited Ordinance in such subject or subjects.

If a candidate have obtained a Degree in Science or in Arts in any University other than a University of the United Kingdom, granted in either case after a course of study and an examination in Botany, Zoology, Physics, or Chemistry, it shall be in the power of the University Court to exempt such candidate from the examinations in such subject or subjects prescribed by Section XI. of the said recited Ordinance; provided that the course of study and the standard of examination in each case are satisfactory in the judgment of the Senatus Academicus.

V. The provisions of Section X. of the said recited Ordinance shall not have effect except where the University Court shall allow their application after a report by the Senatus Academicus, setting forth special grounds therefor in the case of any candidate named in the report.

VI. Bachelors of Medicine and Masters of Surgery of the University of Glasgow, who have graduated under the regulations in force before the Fifth day of August eighteen hundred and ninety-two, may proceed to the Degree of Doctor of Medicine under the provisions of Section XXI. of Ordinance No. 14 [Glasgow, No. 1.—Regulations for Degrees in Medicine], in the same manner as if they held the Degree of Bachelor of Surgery.

[ST ANDREWS, No. 5.—REGULATIONS AS TO APPLICATION OF PARLIAMENTARY GRANTS, AS TO SALARIES AND FOR THE INSTITUTION OF A FEE FUND, AND FOR OTHER PURPOSES.]

At Edinburgh, the Third day of February, Eighteen hundred and ninety-four years.

WHEREAS by the Universities (Scotland) Act, 1889 (hereinafter referred to as the first-mentioned Act), the Commissioners under the said Act are empowered by Section 14, Subsection 5, to regulate the management and ordering of the Universities, and the manner and conditions in and under which students shall be admitted thereto, and in particular:—(a) The amount, manner of payment, and appropriation of fees and other payments made by students; and by the said Section, Subsection 7, to regulate the salaries of Principals, Professors, Lecturers, and Assistants of Professors and other University officers, to provide for the appointment of Assistants, and to determine by whom the right of appointing Assistants shall be exercised; and by the said Section, Subsection 10, to ensure the due preservation and administration of the whole property, rents, revenues, endowments, and funds of the Universities, and the better custody and management of any libraries, museums, and laboratories thereto belonging, or of the contents thereof, and of any collections, furniture, apparatus, or objects acquired, or to be acquired, for the use of the Universities, or of any class therein, and to make such provision as they may think necessary to enable the Senatus Academicus and the General Council to discharge their duties; and by Section 26 to apportion the annual sum of £42,000 to be provided by Parliament among the Universities in such shares as the Commissioners think just, and to prescribe how the share of each University is to be applied and expended: Provided that (1) no one of the said Universities shall receive a smaller sum than the average amount of public moneys exclusive of building and other special grants which such University has received during the five years preceding the commencement of the first-mentioned Act; and (2) no portion of the said annual sum shall be appropriated to any chair in the Faculty of Theology beyond the sum, if any, which has been, within the twelve months preceding the commencement of the first-mentioned Act, granted for the endowment of such chair out of public moneys;

but this restriction shall not apply to the chair or chairs of Hebrew or Oriental Languages which may now or hereafter be attached to the Faculty of Theology:

And whereas by the Education and Local Taxation Account (Scotland) Act, 1892, the said Commissioners are empowered to determine the manner in and conditions under which the annual sum of £30,000 payable out of the Local Taxation (Scotland) Account is to be distributed by or under the direction of the Secretary for Scotland among the Universities of Scotland:

And whereas by an Order issued by the said Commissioners on the 21st day of March 1890, by virtue of the powers conferred by Section 16 of the first-mentioned Act, the University College of Dundee was affiliated to, and made to form part of, the said University of St Andrews, with the consent of the University Court, and also of the Council of the said College, and upon the conditions set forth in an Agreement between the said bodies scheduled to the said Order:

Therefore the Commissioners under the first-mentioned Act statute and ordain, with reference to the University of St Andrews, as follows:—

I. Without prejudice to, but in corroboration of, the Order made by the said Commissioners on the 21st day of March 1890, the University College of Dundee is hereby affiliated to, and made to form part of, the University of St Andrews, subject to the conditions set forth in the Agreement scheduled to the said Order, and which Order and Agreement are set forth in Schedule I. hereunto annexed.

II. (1) The University of St Andrews shall receive the sum of £6,300 as its share of the annual sum of £42,000, constituting the Parliamentary Grant divisible among the Universities under the Universities (Scotland) Act, 1889.

(2) The said University shall receive the sum of £4,500 as its share of the annual sum of £30,000, constituting the Parliamentary Grant to the Universities under the Education and Local Taxation Account (Scotland) Act, 1892.

The said apportionments shall take effect as from the respective dates when the said Parliamentary Grants became payable, but under deduction of the sums paid by the Commissioners to the said University ad interim.

III. The sums apportioned to the said University under the preceding Section shall be paid to the University Court, and shall be applied by the said Court as follows:—

(1) In paying to the Principals and Professors of St Mary's College and of the United College of St Salvator and St Leonard sums equivalent to the sums payable to them respectively out of Public Moneys prior to the passing of the Universities (Scotland) Act, 1889.

In the purchase of books for the University Library—provided that not less than £630 shall be set aside for this purpose in each year.

In paying to the Exchequer Bursar in St Mary's College the sum of £30 per annum, hitherto paid out of the Consolidated Fund.

In paying to the Principal of the University such sum as may be required in each year to bring up his emoluments (including the endowments and the sum equivalent to the sum paid to the Principal of the United College out of Public Moneys prior to the passing of the Universities (Scotland) Act, 1889) to the sum of £850.

In paying to each Professor specified in Schedule II., hereunto annexed, such sum as may be required in each year to bring up his emoluments, exclusive of any payment out of the Fee-Fund hereinafter mentioned, to the sum mentioned in the third column of the said Schedule.

(2) In providing the salaries enumerated in Schedule III., hereunto annexed, for the Chairs instituted pursuant to the provisions of Ordinance No. 47 [St Andrews, No. 6.—Professorships in the Faculty of Medicine in the University of St Andrews].

(3) In making provision for the pensions of existing or retired Principals and Professors who had right to such pensions prior to the passing of the Universities (Scotland) Act, 1889, and who are not subject to the powers contained in Section 14, Subsection 9, of the said Act.

(4) In making provision for such other pensions as may be payable to Principals and Professors at St Andrews and at Dundee under any Ordinance of the said Commissioners, or any Ordinance repealing or amending the same.

(5) In making good to the present Professor of Medicine at St Andrews such sums as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of Section XIII. hereof.

IV. The residue of the sums apportioned, as hereinbefore provided, along with (a) the Matriculation, Graduation, and Registration Fees received from the students of University College, Dundee ; (b) any annual assessment which may in any year be payable from the funds of University College, Dundee, under the provisions of Article 3 of the Agreement hereinbefore mentioned ; and (c) all other revenues which belong, or may come to belong, to the University as a whole, shall, subject to the provisions of Section VII. hereof, be applied by the University Court towards :—

(1) Payment of the expenses incident to the transaction of the business of the University, including, inter alia, the salaries of the Librarian, Secretary, and other Officers of the University, the expenses of Elections, Examinations, and Graduations, and the remuneration of Examiners (including any Professor who may be appointed to act as Examiner at any examination other than an examination for graduation), together with such provision as the University Court may think necessary to enable the Senatus Academicus and the General Council to discharge their duties ; and also such payment, if any, as the Court may think fit to make towards the expenses of the Students' Representative Council.

(2) Such other purposes in connection with the University or the Colleges thereof as the University Court may from time to time determine ; provided always that the whole sums to be applied for purposes in connection with University College, Dundee, including the purposes specified in section III., sub-sections 2 and 4 hereof, shall not in any one year exceed the sum of £3000, provided also that nothing herein contained shall prejudice or affect the stipulations contained in Article 9 of the Agreement hereinbefore mentioned.

V. In allocating the sums apportioned to University College, Dundee, under Section IV., Subsection 2 hereof, the University Court shall have regard in the first place to the equipment and maintenance of the Medical Chairs at Dundee.

VI. The share of the University of St Andrews of the Parliamentary Grants hereinbefore apportioned accruing prior to this Ordinance taking effect, but under deduction of all sums paid to the said University ad interim, shall form part of the General Funds of the University, and shall be either funded or applied to capital expenditure, in whole or in part, as the University Court shall think fit; provided always that out of the said share the University Court shall make such provision as it shall think fit for the due equipment of the Chairs constituting the Conjoint University School of Medicine.

VII. A separate account shall be kept of all Matriculation, Graduation, and Registration Fees received by the University from others than students at University College, Dundee, and no part of the said fees shall be applied otherwise than in terms of Article 3 of the Agreement hereinbefore mentioned.

VIII. The whole fees payable in respect of the classes of the Professors specified in Schedule II., hereunto annexed and of the existing Lecturers at St Andrews whose classes qualify for graduation, shall be drawn by the University Court, and shall be collected in such manner as the University Court may from time to time appoint, and shall constitute the Fee Fund. In the event of Professorships or Lectureships being instituted pursuant to the provisions of the first-mentioned Act or of Ordinance No. 17 [General No. 10.—Regulations as to Assistants and Lecturers], the University Court shall determine in each case whether and under what conditions the class-fees of such Professors and Lecturers shall be payable into the said Fee Fund.

IX. The University Court shall keep a separate account of the fees so collected, distinguishing those drawn in each class; and the account shall be called 'The Fee Fund Account.'

X. It shall be in the power of the University Court from time to time to fix the fees in any of the classes within the University, including the classes in University College, Dundee, excepting the Evening and Technical Classes.

XI. The whole sums, other than payments out of the Fee Fund, payable to the Professors specified in Schedule II., hereunto annexed, and in particular (1) the income from the endowments of the several Chairs, and (2) the sums to be set aside out of the Parliamentary Grants under Section III., Subsection 1 hereof, shall be annually placed by the University Court to the credit of a separate account to be kept by it, and to be called 'The Salaries Account.'

XII. (1) The Professors specified in Schedule II., hereunto annexed, and their successors shall receive annually, out of the amount at the credit of the said Salaries Account, the sums paid under the immediately preceding Section into the said Account in respect of their respective Chairs, and shall also receive such sums from the Fee Fund as shall bring up their salaries in each case to the amount (hereinafter referred to as the Normal Salary) set forth in the second column of Schedule II., hereunto annexed.

(2) In the event of a deficiency in the Fee Fund in any year, the payment therefrom under this Section for that year shall in each case be diminished proportionately to the normal salary of each Professor.

(3) In the event of a surplus in the Fee Fund in any year, the same shall be applied to such purposes at St Andrews as the Court may determine.

(4) Professors appointed to Chairs which may hereafter be instituted by the University Court, with the approval of the Universities Committee in terms of Section 6, Subsection 10, of the first-mentioned Act, shall receive such salaries, and shall have such interest in the Fee Fund, as may be fixed by the said Court when the said Chairs are instituted, provided that such interest in the Fee Fund may be fixed subject to such conditions as the Court may determine, and that such determination may be varied by the Court on the occurrence of any vacancy in the office of any such last-mentioned Professors.

(5) No Professor shall, after the date of this Ordinance, be liable to make any payments in respect of the salaries of Assistants or of class expenses.

XIII. The present Professor of Medicine at St Andrews shall, during his tenure of office, be entitled to receive in each year such payment, if any, out of the General Funds of the University as may be necessary to bring up his total income to the sum of £425.

XIV. Except as hereinbefore provided, the whole funds belonging to the University of St Andrews, as constituted prior to the passing of the first-mentioned Act, and to the Colleges thereof, and to the University College, Dundee, shall continue to be administered as heretofore, subject to the various Trusts affecting the same, and subject also to the provisions of the Agreement hereinbefore mentioned.

XV. (1) With a view to providing for payment of the pensions mentioned in Section III., Subsection 3 hereof, and of doing so without permanently encroaching on the capital funds of the University, the University Court shall set aside each year, out of its share of the Parliamentary Grants, or out of its general revenues, the sum of £750, which sum shall be carried to the credit of an account to be called ' The Pension Fund.'

(2) The said sum shall continue to be set aside each year until the whole of the said pensions shall have expired, or until, on the report of an Actuary to be employed by the University Court, it appears that the Pension Fund, together with any accumulations of interest thereon, is sufficient to provide for the said pensions which may still be payable.

(3) In the event of the claims for such pensions at any time exceeding the amount at the credit of the Pension Fund, it shall be in the power of the Court to draw upon the capital funds of the University, or to borrow upon the security thereof, to meet the deficiency; but the sums so drawn or borrowed shall be repaid to the said capital funds, or paid off, as the case may be, out of the said annual sums set aside as aforesaid, and such annual sums shall continue to be set aside until the said capital funds have been completely recouped, or the sums borrowed have been paid off as aforesaid.

(4) In the event of any sum remaining at the credit of the Pension Fund after all the pensions shall have lapsed, the same shall be added to the general capital funds of the University.

XVI. No part of the Parliamentary Grant payable under the first-mentioned Act, save in so far as provided in Section 26, Subsection 2 thereof, shall be appropriated to any Chair in the Faculty of Theology.

XVII. Nothing herein contained shall prejudice or affect the right of the Principal and Professors of St Mary's College other than the Professor of Hebrew and Oriental Languages to draw and retain to their own use the income of the endowments heretofore paid to them and the fees (if any) exigible in their respective classes.

XVIII. This Ordinance shall, subject to the proviso hereinafter contained, come into force from and after the date on which it is approved by Her Majesty in Council: provided that it shall be competent to the University Court to postpone the operation of any of the foregoing provisions to such date, not being later than the commencement of the then ensuing academical year, as it may deem to be expedient, having regard to existing financial arrangements.

In witness whereof these presents are sealed with the seal of the Commission.

8. All the funds and estates at present belonging to the University of St Andrews as now existing, or to either of its present Colleges, shall continue to be appropriated to University and College uses respectively in St Andrews, and all funds which are or shall be vested in or bequeathed to the said University, or to either of the said Colleges, by any deed or writing dated on or before the 31st December 1890, shall, if bequeathed for specific purposes, be appropriated to the purposes for which they have been bequeathed, and if bequeathed without designation of a specific purpose, shall be devoted to the further endowment of the offices of the Principals, Professors, Lecturers, and Class Assistants, and to other University or College uses in St Andrews; and all funds thereafter gifted or bequeathed to either of the Colleges of the University of St Andrews at St Andrews shall also be devoted to the use of the College in St Andrews to which they are gifted or bequeathed.

ORDINANCE No. 53.

[ST ANDREWS, No. 8.—PENSIONS TO PRINCIPALS AND PROFESSORS.]

At Edinburgh, the fifteenth day of June, Eighteen hundred and ninety-four years.

WHEREAS by the Universities (Scotland) Act, 1889 (hereinafter referred to as the first-mentioned Act), the Commissioners under the said Act are empowered by Section 14, Sub-section 9, to lay down the conditions and the scale on which pensions may be granted to Principals and Professors appointed by the Crown after the Sixth day of April One thousand eight hundred and eighty-two, and to all Principals and Professors to be appointed after the passing of the first-mentioned Act; and by the said Section 14, Sub-section 16, to repeal or modify any Ordinance made under the provisions of the Universities (Scotland) Act, 1858; and by Section 26 to apportion the annual sum of £42,000 to be provided by Parliament among the Universities in such shares as they shall think just, and to prescribe how the share of each University is to be applied and expended:

And whereas, by Section 28 of the first-mentioned Act, it is provided that the said annual sum granted in pursuance of that Act shall be deemed to be in full discharge of all past and present claims of the said Universities, or any past or present professor, member, officer, or servant of any of the said Universities to be maintained or paid out of public moneys, or to receive any portion of public moneys by way of salary, pension, or allowances or otherwise, in so far as such claims are based upon rights existing or alleged to exist at or before the passing of the first-mentioned Act, and on and after such day as aforesaid, all grants of public moneys in use to be made at or before the passing of the first-mentioned Act, to or on account of the said Universities, or any professor, member, officer, or servant of the said Universities, shall cease, and all liabilities, debts, and obligations incurred previously to the passing of the first-mentioned Act, by any of the said Universities, shall be defrayed by the said Universities respectively:

Therefore the Commissioners under the first-mentioned Act statute and ordain, with regard to the University of St Andrews, as follows:—

I. Any Principal or Professor in the University of St Andrews (including University College, Dundee), within the meaning of the first-recited enactment, desiring to retire from his office on a pension on the ground of age or infirmity, shall apply by petition to the University Court, stating the grounds on which his application is rested; and if the University Court, after due inquiry, shall be satisfied (1) that the petitioner has completed the sixty-fifth year of his age, or having completed the sixtieth year of his age has served as a Principal or Professor for thirty years or upwards, or (2) that by reason of infirmity he has become permanently incapable of discharging the duties of his office, he shall be entitled to retire from his office and to receive a pension on the conditions and the scale hereinafter set forth.

II. The pension to be granted to a Principal or Professor as aforesaid in the said University (including as aforesaid), retiring from his office on the ground of age or infirmity, shall be as follows; that is to say,

To any Principal or Professor who shall have served for ten years and under eleven years, an annual allowance equal to twenty-sixtieths of the annual emoluments of his office:

For eleven years, and under twelve years, an annual allowance equal to twenty-one sixtieths of such emoluments:

And in like manner a farther addition to the annual allowance, equal to one-sixtieth, in respect of each additional year of such service, until the completion of a period of service of thirty years, when an annual allowance equal to forty-sixtieths may be granted; and no addition shall be made in respect of any service beyond thirty years.

III. In reckoning the years of service of a Principal or Professor, as aforesaid, under this Ordinance, the years during which he shall have held the office from which he retires, and also the years, if any, during which he may have held any other office of Principal or Professor in the same or in any other Scottish University, shall be taken into account. If a Principal or Professor, as aforesaid, who has served for ten years or upwards in a Scottish University either before or after the passing of the first-mentioned Act, has been, or shall be, transferred to another Scottish University, an amount equal to one-half of the pension to which he would have been entitled had he retired at the date of his transference, shall be contributed by the University Court of the University in which he formerly held office towards payment of the pension granted to him by the University Court of the University in which he held office at the date of his retirement.

IV. The annual emoluments of a Principal or Professor, as aforesaid, shall be taken to be the average emoluments of the office or offices held by him during the period of five years immediately preceding the date of retirement: Provided that in calculating the pension of a Principal or Professor no account shall be taken of any sums he may have received in any one year in excess of £900, which for the purposes of this Ordinance shall be held to be the maximum emoluments of a Principal or Professor.

V. In reckoning the years of service or the average emoluments of a Principal or Professor, no period of service in University College, Dundee, prior to the 21st day of March 1890 shall be taken into account.

VI. In calculating the pensions of Principals and Professors, as aforesaid, a year of service shall be held to be a complete Academical year, except that the last year of service may, if the University Court think fit, be held to terminate at the end of any winter or summer session.

VII. Ordinance No. 9 [General.—Provision for a Professor, applying to be allowed to retire on a Retiring Allowance] and Ordinance No. 26 [General—Rate and Conditions of Retiring Allowances] of the Commissioners under the Universities (Scotland) Act, 1858, are hereby repealed: Provided that such repeal shall not affect any Principal or Professor appointed before the passing of the first-mentioned Act, save only a Principal or Professor appointed by the Crown after the Sixth day of April One thousand eight hundred and eighty-two: Provided also that any grants of pensions by the University Court under the said Ordinances to any Principal or Professor appointed before the passing of the first-mentioned Act (which grants the said Court is hereby authorised to make) shall not require to be submitted to and approved by Her Majesty in Council.

VIII. This Ordinance shall come into force from and after the date on which it is approved by Her Majesty in Council.

In witness whereof these presents are sealed with the seal of the Commission.

The County Governing Body shall out of the funds set apart for the purpose, apply an annual sum of not less than 200*l.* in maintaining Exhibitions, to be called County Exhibitions, each of a yearly value of not less than 10*l.*, tenable for not more than three years at any University or University College or other institution of university, professional or technical education, approved by them, and to be awarded, on the result of such examination as they shall think fit, to boys and girls who then are and have for not less than two years been in a County School, or who are holders of Scholarships, established and maintained under the provisions of this Scheme.

The terms of competition for these Exhibitions shall be so arranged that the scholars duly qualified as aforesaid in all the County Schools, together with the holders of Cerrig-y-Druidion and Llansilin Scholarships, and of Scholarships held under this Scheme at any intermediate School in a neighbouring county as aforesaid, shall in each year be enabled to be candidates for at least one Exhibition.

Every Scholarship and Exhibition shall—

(a) be given as the reward of merit on the result of such examination as the Governing Body maintaining the same think fit,

(b) be freely and openly competed for, and

(c) be tenable only for the purposes of education.

A Scholarship or Exhibition for which there shall be no candidate qualified for the same as aforesaid who on examination shall be adjudged worthy to take it shall for that turn not be awarded.

The Governing Body maintaining Scholarships for children from Public Elementary Schools shall make such arrangements for the elections to those Scholarships as seem to them best adapted to secure the double object of attracting good scholars to the County Schools and advancing education at the Public Elementary Schools.

Deprivation.

101. If the holder of a Scholarship, Bursary, or Exhibition shall, in the judgment of the Governing Body maintaining the same, be guilty of serious misconduct or idleness, or fail to maintain a reasonable standard of proficiency, or wilfully cease to pursue his education, the Governing Body may deprive him of the Scholarship, Bursary, or Exhibition, and for this purpose may act on the report of the proper authorities of the School or place of education at which the same is held, or on such other evidence as the Governing Body think sufficient. Under this clause the decision of the Governing Body maintaining the Scholarship, Bursary, or Exhibition shall be final in each case.

PART IX.

106. Nothing in this Scheme shall affect any order of the Charity Commissioners now in force, so far as it makes provision for the discharge of any mortgage debt on any property, or for the replacement of any stock or money advanced out of the funds of any of the above-mentioned Foundations. From and after the date of this Scheme the property subject thereto shall for every purpose, except as in this Scheme provided, be administered and governed wholly and exclusively in accordance with the provisions of this Scheme, and as from that date every Act of Parliament, Letters Patent, statute, deed, instrument, trust or direction prior to the date of and relating to the subject matter of this Scheme, and inconsistent with the provisions thereof, shall be repealed and abrogated.

64. The Governors shall apply in each year out of the said sum of 2,200*l.* appropriated for the purposes of the School a sum of not less than 1,000*l.* nor more than 1,200*l.* in maintaining in the School 30 Scholarships, to be called Howell Scholarships, each entitling the holder to exemption from the payment of tuition fees, and to board, lodging, and washing, free of expense. The Scholarships shall be competed for by girls resident in the administrative county of Glamorgan and in the counties of Brecknock, Cardigan, Carmarthen, Pembroke, and Radnor, and the county borough of Swansea, and shall be tenable at the School of the Foundation for one year, but may be renewed from year to year by the Governors upon the written recommendation of the Head Mistress, provided that no Scholarship shall be held for more than five years, except in special circumstances, at the discretion of the Governors, when an extension for a further period of not more than one year may be granted. The Governors may award to deserving and necessitous holders of such Scholarships sums not being more than 5*l.* in any one year for any one girl. No such Scholarship shall be awarded to any girl who in the judgment of the Governors is not from her pecuniary circumstances in need of such assistance.

Scholarships for day scholars from Public Elementary Schools.

65. The Governors shall apply one fifth of the residue of the said sum of 2,200*l.* appropriated for the purposes of the School after deducting the sum applied in maintaining the Howell Scholarships, in maintaining in the School Scholarships for day scholars, consisting of total exemption from tuition fees. These Scholarships shall be awarded to girls resident in the administrative county of Glamorgan or in either of the county boroughs of Cardiff and Swansea who are and have for not less than three years been scholars in a Public Elementary School. The Governors shall make such arrangements for the elections to these Scholarships as seem to them best adapted to secure the double object of attracting good scholars to the School, and advancing education at Public Elementary Schools.

General conditions as to Scholarships.

66. The Scholarships of each class shall be established in such manner and order as to secure as nearly as may be a regular rotation of award, and, subject as herein provided, shall be awarded and held under such regulations and conditions as the Governors think fit. Every Scholarship shall be given as the reward of merit on the result of such examination as the Governors think fit, and shall, except as herein provided, be freely and openly competed for, and shall be tenable only for the purposes of education. Any Scholarship for which there shall be no candidate qualified for the same as aforesaid who on examination shall be adjudged worthy to take it shall for that turn not be awarded.

Girls under 11 years of age shall not be admitted to competition for Scholarships of either class.

Deprivation.

67. If the holder of a Scholarship shall, in the judgment of the Governors, be guilty of serious misconduct or idleness, or fail to maintain a reasonable standard of proficiency, or wilfully cease to pursue her education, the Governors may deprive her of the Scholarship. Under this clause the decision of the Governors shall be final in each case.

VIII.—General Progress at the Museum, Bloomsbury

The number of visitors to the Museum during the past year has slightly declined, being 538,560, as against 558,548 in 1892. This diminution of 20,000 is accounted for by a falling-off of upwards of 13,000 day visitors and of upwards of 6,000 evening visitors. The grand total, however, is above the average of the preceding five years.

The reconstruction of the Assyrian Basement to serve as a lecture-room as well as an exhibition gallery has been completed in a very satisfactory manner. The fine bas-reliefs from Nineveh are now seen to the best advantage on the line of the light gallery which has been carried round the room; and the floor of the room, which has been cleared of the standard walls on which sculptures were formerly displayed, affords ample accommodation for the audience at lectures.

The rearrangement of the sculptures in the Mausoleum Room has been completed; and the suite of rooms which were formerly known as the Second Northern Gallery have been now occupied by the Cyprian collections, by the Semitic antiquities, and by exhibits illustrating various religions, and have been opened to the public.

The artificial lighting of the Reading Room has been greatly improved by the installation of incandescent electric lights fitted to the reading desks. The old system of arc lamps is, however, still retained for the general lighting of the room, but at a lower power.

There has again been a slight reduction in the number of persons using the Reading Room in 1893. The number of visits to the room has been 194,102, as against 197,984 in 1892. The average daily number of readers has been 645.

The average numbers in the room counted at certain hours in the afternoon have been:—

4 P.M.	5 P.M.	6 P.M.	6.30 P.M.	7 P.M.	7.30 P.M.
355	268	185	120	140	92

The number of volumes supplied to readers was 1,402,815, as against 1,366,596 in 1892. Thus it will be seen that, although the number of readers has diminished, the number of books demanded by them has increased.

The numbers of students have increased in the Departments of Manuscripts and of Coins and Medals, and slightly in the Department of Prints and Drawings. On the other hand hand the number of students in the Sculpture Galleries has further decreased.

Presentations of Museum publications, including reproductions of prints and drawings by Old Masters and casts of antique gems, have been made to Free Public Libraries, Local Museums, and Art Schools throughout the United Kingdom.

With part of the means placed at their disposal by the bequest of the late Miss Emma T. Turner, the Trustees, by permission of the High Commissioner of Cyprus, commenced, before the close of the year, excavations on the ancient site of Amathus in that island.

Among the principal donations of the year are the following :—

From the Egyptian Government, a granite shrine inscribed with the name of Ptolemy IX., King of Egypt, B.C. 171–117, in which a hawk, emblematic of the Sun-god, was caged ; and a series of mummy cases and other sepulchral objects of priests and priestesses of the confraternity of Amen.

From John Malcolm, Esq., of Poltalloch, the Sforza Book of Hours, a most exquisitely illuminated Manuscript prepared about the year 1490 for Bona of Savoy, widow of Galeazzo Sforza, Duke of Milan, and afterwards in possession of Charles the Fifth (see p. 32).

From Miss Mary Augusta Gordon (by bequest), the Journals of her brother, Major-General Charles George Gordon, kept during the siege of Khartoum, 1884 ; and other documents.

From John Wingfield Malcolm, Esq., C.B., a cartoon-sketch of a picture of the Holy Family by Michael Angelo.

The heirs and executors of the late John Malcolm, Esq., of Poltalloch, have deposited with the Trustees of the British Museum the celebrated collection of drawings and engravings by Old Masters formed by him, in order that they may be made available to students. A large selection has been made from them for exhibition in the Department of Prints and Drawings.

The following are the publications issued by the Departments at Bloomsbury during the year :—

IX.—PROGRESS made in the ARRANGEMENT AND CATALOGUING OF COLLECTIONS, AND ADDITIONS MADE TO THEM, in the Year 1893. (Bloomsbury.)

DEPARTMENT OF PRINTED BOOKS.

I. Arrangement.—The works added to the collection during the past year have, as far as possible, been placed on the shelves of the Library according to the system of classification adopted in the Museum.

The press-marks, indicating their respective localities, have been marked on the inside and affixed to the back of each volume; also on the title-slips.

The total number of these press-marks amounts to 84,636; in addition to which 34,652 press-marks have been altered, in consequence of changes and re-arrangements carried out in the Library; 32,296 labels have been affixed to books and volumes of newspapers, and 73,633 obliterated labels have been renewed.

The process of attaching third-marks to the books in the New Library, with the view of accelerating their delivery to readers, has been continued; 12,576 books have been thus marked during the year, and the corresponding alterations, amounting to 40,408, have been carried out in the General and Hand Catalogues; 1,551 volumes of country newspapers have also been numbered, and for London and country newspapers 3,631 index-slips have been written.

The number of stamps impressed upon articles received has been 410,827.

About 3,100 presses of books and newspapers have been dusted in the course of the year.

II. Catalogues.—(a.) Cataloguing.—60,630 titles have been written (the term "title" applying equally to a main title and to a cross reference). Of these, 44,605 were written for the General Catalogue, 3,382 for the Map Catalogue, and 12,643 for the Music Catalogue.

(b.) Printing.—40,253 titles and 735 index-titles for the General Catalogue, and 3,144 titles for the Map Catalogue, have been prepared for printing during the year, upon the plan announced in the Statement of Progress for 1879; and 40,477 title-slips and 756 index-slips for the General Catalogue, and 1,278 title-slips for the Map Catalogue were printed off.

Progress has also been made in printing the whole Catalogue in alphabetical sequence from the beginning. With the exception of the headings "England," "France," "Great

One hundred and forty-four manuscript volumes have been sent to press during the year, and 19 printed parts, representing 138 manuscript volumes, have been delivered by the printer.

(c.) Incorporation.—(1.) General Catalogue.—40,331 title-slips and 180 index-slips have been incorporated into each of three copies of this Catalogue. This incorporation has rendered it necessary, in order to maintain, so far as possible, the alphabetical arrangement, to remove and re-insert 23,420 title-slips and 142 index-slips in each copy, and to add to each copy 270 new leaves; while, in the preparation of the manuscript volumes for printing, it has been necessary to remove and re-insert 35,293 title-slips in one copy only, and to add thereto 154 new leaves.

The system of fortnightly incorporation, introduced in 1889, and described in the Annual Report for that year, has been carried out with perfect regularity during the past year.

(2.) Hand-Catalogues.—The number of new entries made in the Hand-Catalogue of "Academies" was 111; in that of "Periodical Publications," 390; and in the Hand-Catalogues of London and of Country Newspapers, 612 and 3,019 respectively.

(d.) Map Catalogue.—3,382 titles have been written for the Map Catalogue, and 1,271 title-slips have been incorporated into each of three copies of it. This incorporation has rendered it necessary to remove and re-insert 657 title-slips in each copy, and to add to each copy 14 new leaves.

(e.) Music Catalogue.—12,643 titles have been written for the Music Catalogue, and 20,348 title-slips have been incorporated into each of two copies of it. This incorporation has rendered it necessary to remove and re-insert 15,785 title-slips in each copy, and to add to each copy 315 new leaves.

(f.) Shelf Catalogue.—For this Catalogue, in which the title-slips, mounted on cartridge-paper, are arranged in order of press-marks, 65,490 have been so mounted, and 129,300 have been incorporated into the boxes.

(g.) Catalogues of Books of Reference in the Reading Room.—The additions and alterations in each of the three interleaved copies of the Catalogue of Books of Reference in the Reading Room, which are requisite in order to record the changes in this collection by the addition of new works, and the exchange of old for new editions, have been made. The number of additions to each copy has been 33.

The

The collection of books in the galleries of the Reading Room has continued to receive additions by the incorporation of new works of interest and importance, and the substitution of new for older editions. The number of additions to each of the two interleaved copies of the Catalogue of this collection has been 176.

III. Binding.—The number of volumes and sets of pamphlets sent to be bound in the course of the year has been 17,291, including 2,088 volumes of newspapers. In consequence of the frequent adoption of the plan of binding two or more volumes in one, the number of volumes returned has been 8,754; in addition to which 284 pamphlets have been separately bound. 762 volumes have been repaired at the binder's, besides which 6,621 volumes have been repaired in the Library, and 964 broadsides, sheets, &c., have been inserted into guard-books, the plan, tried towards the end of 1892, of effecting the slighter repairs in the Library itself having proved eminently satisfactory.

The following maps, charts, &c., have also been bound or mounted during the year:—35 atlases, 53 volumes of the Ordnance Survey of towns, 4 volumes of the 6-inch Ordnance Survey and 22 volumes of the 25-inch Ordnance Survey have been bound; 124 sheets of the 1-inch (and under) Ordnance Survey, 129 English Admiralty charts, and 375 maps, &c., have been mounted on jaconet, and 317 maps, &c., mounted on cards.

IV. Reading Room Service.—The number of volumes returned to the General Library from use in the Reading Room has been 914,343; to the Royal Library, 17,520; to the Grenville Library, 1,434; to the Map Room, 3,068; to the presses in which books are kept from day to day for the use of readers, 462,939; and to the Oriental Department 3,511; making a total amount of 1,402,815 volumes supplied to readers during the year. The number of readers during the year has been 194,102, giving an average of about 645 daily, the room having been open on 301 days; and an average of over seven volumes daily for each reader, not reckoning those taken from the shelves of the Reading Room by the readers themselves.

Newspaper Room.—The total number of readers during the year has been 14,747, giving a daily average of 49. The number of volumes replaced after use was 41,328, giving a daily average of nearly three volumes to each reader.

Map Room.—208 visitors have been admitted to the Map Room for the purpose of geographical research.

V. Additions.—(a.) 45,942 volumes and pamphlets (including 81 atlases, &c., and 1,490 books of music) have been added to the Library in the course of the year, of which 13,588 were presented; 12,759 received in pursuance of the laws of English copyright; 511 by international exchange; and 19,084 acquired by purchase.

The large number of works presented last year, which was again, as in 1892, very far in excess of the average, is due to a large collection of pamphlets presented by the National Liberal Club, which will be found duly noticed under the heading "Donations."

(b.) 63,631 parts of volumes (or separate numbers of periodical publications, and of works in progress) have also been added, of which 1,378 were presented, 34,507 received in pursuance of the laws of English copyright, 673 by international exchange, and 27,073 acquired by purchase.

(c.) 1,005 maps in 5,165 sheets have been added to the collection in the course of the year, of which 362 maps in 439 sheets were presented; 293 maps, in 3,201 sheets, received under the provisions of the laws of English copyright, and 350 maps, in 1,525 sheets, acquired by purchase.

(e.) The number of newspapers published in the United Kingdom, received under the provisions of the Copyright Act during the past year, has been 2,571, comprising 174,310 single numbers; 695 of these newspapers were published in London and its suburbs; 1,474 in other parts of England and Wales and in the Channel Islands; 223 in Scotland, and 179 in Ireland; 13 volumes and 186 numbers of old newspapers, belonging to five different sets, have been purchased; 91 sets, containing 75 volumes and 890 numbers of foreign and colonial newspapers have been presented; and 91 sets, containing 12 volumes and 20,913 numbers of modern foreign and colonial newspapers, have been purchased.

(f.) The number of distinct works comprised in the 45,942 volumes and pamphlets, the 63,631 parts of volumes, the 1,005 maps and the 4,944 pieces of music already mentioned, amounts, as nearly as can be ascertained, to 46,100. Of these, 12,863 were presented, 15,482 acquired by English copyright, 421 by international exchange, and 17,334 by purchase.

(g.) 4,622 articles have been received in the department not included in the foregoing paragraphs, comprising broadsides, Parliamentary papers, and other miscellaneous items. The addition of this number to those already given produces produces a total of 122,902 articles received in the department in the course of the year.

Additional Library Fittings and Exhibitions. — The lobby outside the Banksian Library has been fitted with shelving for the reception of Indian and Colonial official documents, and screened from the public by a row of book-cases filled with volumes of Specifications of Patents in handsome bindings. Two large show-cases have been placed in the King's Library for the exhibition of specimens of the Tapling collection of postage stamps, which will be varied from time to time until the most valuable portion of the collection shall have been shown. Another show-case has been provided for the temporary exhibition of recent acquisitions of interest. The lower portion of a number of show-cases already in the King's Library has been shelved and glazed for the reception and exhibition of the great Chinese Encyclopædia acquired in 1877, which is bound in 748 volumes.

Acquisitions of Special Interest.—The past year has been remarkable, not so much for any one acquisition of extraordinary importance, as for the great number and variety of interesting additions in almost all branches of literature. The absence of acquisitions on a large scale is partly owing to the unusually small number of important sales by auction, and the consequent want of opportunities for extensive purchases. The chief sales of the year have taken place on the Continent, and have afforded opportunities for enriching the Museum collections with some choice accessions. One of particular interest to English bibliographers, though itself printed abroad, is the letter of Pope Sixtus IV. to the Doge of Venice, February, 1483, the fifth of the Sex quam elegantissimae epistolae printed by Caxton in 1483, the only known copy of which was acquired by the Museum in 1890. This is the only letter of the series known to have been printed in Italy, and a comparison of it with Caxton's text renders it probable that he printed from a manuscript. It was purchased at the Borghese sale, with other interesting books. Several important acquisitions were made at the sale of the third portion of the Heredia Library at Paris, particularly the Spanish translation of the travels of Sir John Mandeville, Valencia, 1521, "the year of trouble," as the colophon says, in allusion to the revolt of the commons headed by Padilla; the only perfect copy known. Fasciculus Temporum, B. Segura and A. de Portu, Seville, 1480; said to be the first Spanish book in which Arabic characters were employed. Boccaccio, Caida de Prencipes, Toledo, 1511; the second edition of the Spanish translation of Boccaccio De Casibus Principum, with a fine engraving on the title-page representing the Wheel of Fortune. Mirabilia Urbis Romae, Rome, 1500; the edition specially brought out as a guide book to the city on occasion of the Jubilee held in that year. Hieronymus Paulus, De fluminibus et montibus Hispaniarum, dedicated to Pope Alexander VI. when Cardinal Borgia; printed at Rome before 1485, as Ronda is mentioned as being still in the hands of the Moors.

At the Seillière sale at Paris the following remarkable books were acquired:

Le Chasteau de Virginité, Paris, 1506, a beautiful book, not known to have occurred elsewhere, by George d'Esclavonie, a writer of whom nothing is known except that he was a canon of Tours. Calvenzano, Bref apologetica, Milan, 1612, the translation from Italian into Romansch of the author's apology for embracing the Roman Catholic religion. Evia, Tesoro de Angeles, Astorga, 1547, thirty years earlier than the first example of printing at Astorga known to Cotton.

Many other valuable acquisitions have been made in early French and Spanish literature; the most important of all being a beautiful copy of the first collected edition of Molière, Paris, 1674–75. Further may be mentioned among French books, Jacques le Grand, Livre de bonnes Moeurs, Lyons, 1490, of the greatest rarity; Le roman de la belle Helaine de Constantinople; Guillaume Alexis, Le grant blason de faulses amours, Paris, 1493: and two other old French poems of great rarity; Cōplainte de lame dānee, and La Voye de Paradis, about 1500. In early Spanish literature, besides those previously mentioned, the chief acquisitions have been: A translation of the Electra of Sophocles, under the title of La Vengança de Agamemnon, by Fernan Perez de Oliva, Burgos, 1531: Eighteen Spanish and Portuguese separate plays; Las Sergas de Esplandian, Burgos, 1587.

One purchase in Italian literature is of extraordinary interest. Rarely indeed is it possible to announce the recovery of a book of merit which has been given up for lost. Such, however, is the case in the instance of the "Essortatione al Timor di Dio," by the Italian reformer Acontius, engineer to Queen Elizabeth, seen in modern times, if seen at all, only by Chauffepié, the continuator of Bayle, and deplored as hopelessly lost by M. Gaston Bonet-Maury, Des origines du christianisme unitaire chez les Anglais. The Museum has, nevertheless, had the great good fortune to obtain a copy of this tract, interesting on the author's account and its own, and especially so to Englishmen from being printed in London about 1580 by "Giovanni Wolfio, Servitore de l'Illustrissimo Signor Filippo Sidnei," and as containing two Italian canzoni and a sonnet addressed to Queen Elizabeth.

A translation into Aymara, with the Spanish text, of Estevan

Estevan de Villegas on the Life and Miracles of Our Lord, made by Father Lodovico Bertonio, and stated to have been printed at Juli, 1612. Juli, then a missionary station, is a small town on the western shore of the Lake of Titicaca, more than 12,000 feet above the level of the sea. It is questionable whether the book was not printed at Lima, and transported to Juli; but its publication actually took place at this remote spot, and the acquisition of this exceedingly rare volume completes the Museum collection of books bearing this imprint.

Letter of Joseph Antequera y Castro, Governor of Paraguay, at the time in prison, to the Bishop of Paraguay, with the Bishop's answer, San Javier, 1727. This book is so rare that Señor Medina was unable to describe it from inspection in his magnificent bibliography of Argentine and Paraguayan books. It is one of the seven early Paraguayan books which were printed with tin types, from the want of proper metal for alloy, which occasions the impression to be very indistinct. Four of these books are now in the Museum.

Three very rare Spanish grammars of Indian languages: Arte de la lengua Cahita, 1737; Los Reyes, Arte de la lengua Mixteca, 1750; Basalengue, Arte de la lengua Tarasca, 1714.

A most interesting acquisition of a Bible has been made in one of the only two fragments known to exist of the Lithuanian version of the Scriptures by Jan Bretkun, edited by S. B. Chylinski, the printing of which was commenced in London about 1660, but never completed. This fragment comprises the Old Testament as far as Joshua xv. The other known fragment, which is in the library of the Ecclesiastical Academy at St. Petersburg, extends as far as Psalm xl. The first edition of the Nuremberg or Weimar Bible, Nuremberg 1641, has also been purchased. The additions in Liturgies include an unique copy of the St. Malo Missal, Rouen, 1503; a book of Hours, hitherto undescribed, probably printed at Lyons by Mark Reinhard, about 1490; the Magdeburg and Halberstadt Missal, Nuremberg, 1503; and three editions of the Quignon breviary between 1560 and 1564.

Several important additions have been made to the collection of Latin incunabula, particularly fragments of an unknown edition of Donatus de octo partibus orationis, found in a binding of 1471; and two bulls of Pope Sixtus IV. in favour of the church of Saintes, Cologne and Memmingen, 1482. It is curious that bulls concerning a French church should have been printed in Germany. Other important acquisitions are the Summa of Nicolaus de Auximo, printed by Matthaeus Moravus and Michael de Monacho at Genoa, 1474: the first book printed in this city, where only three were produced in the fifteenth century. Petrus de Ancharano, Consilia, Adam Rot, Rome, 1473. The Liber Pandectarum

Medicinae of Matthaeus Silvaticus, printed by Johann Vürster de Campidona at Modena or Mantua, 1474. Nicolas Jenson's Virgil, Venice, 1475.

Perhaps the most important among miscellaneous accessions, and one of the most interesting of the year, is the list of prohibited books issued by the University of Louvain in 1546, the first book which fully answers to the definition of an Index Librorum Prohibitorum. At the same time were purchased "Copie van sommighe ende de principaelste articulen," Ghent, 1566, the original edition of the manifesto of the Protestant leaders in the revolt of the Netherlands; a collection of the patriotic songs of the Geusen in the same revolt, Amsterdam, 1625; and what is believed to be an unique copy of Joannes a Lasco's Confession of Faith in Flemish, probably printed at Embden about 1570. Other miscellaneous acquisitions of high interest are: The Statutes of the Order of the Golden Fleece, in Latin, printed on vellum by Plantin about 1620. Tyroff, Neues adeliches Wappenwerk, Nuremberg, 1781–1867, a work containing 3,600 plates of heraldic bearings of noble German families, very beautifully executed, of which only a limited number were published by subscription. Martinez Siliceus, Arithmetica, Paris, 1514, on vellum: the extremely rare work of a teacher of mathematics who subsequently rose to be Cardinal and Archbishop of Toledo. Splendor della virtuosa donna, Venice, 1555, a rare and beautiful lace book. The romance of Floriselle di Nichea, Venice, 1551. Six editions of the poems of Notturno Napolitano, Bologna and Ferrara, 1520–1530, bound in one volume. The first editions of three celebrated books, none of which have hitherto been in the Museum—Dante, de Vulgari Eloquio, Lugduni, 1577; Salmasius' Answer to Milton, Divione, 1660; Barrow's Lectures on Optics, London, 1669. The French Constitutions of 1791 and 1793, both on vellum. Ragueneau, Vie de la Mère Catherine de St. Augustin, Paris, 1671, one of the earliest books relating to Canada, and exceedingly rare; and Orme's Historic and Military Anecdotes, 1819, a fine and very scarce book.

The acquisitions in early English literature have been choice though not numerous, and have included several works of Taylor, the Water Poet, not previously known to be extant in separate editions. The most remarkable of these is the Verbum Sempiternum, commonly called the Thumb Bible, several editions of which, all of extreme rarity, were printed in the latter part of the seventeenth century, but which now occurs for the first time in an edition dated 1614. "Urania," "A Cast over the Water," "Odcombe's Complaint," "The Muses' Mourning," and "The Eighth Wonder of the World," have also been acquired. All these poems appear in the folio edition of Taylor's works, but no separate edition of "A Cast over the Water," "Odcombe's Complaint," or "The

"The Muses' Mourning" had previously been known, and the copies are at present unique. Other important purchases in this department are: Winzett's translation of Vincentius Lirinensis, Against Heresies, dedicated to Mary, Queen of Scots, Antwerp, 1563, of which only two other copies are known; Ramsay, A corrosyfe to be layed hard into the hartes of all faythfull Professours of Christe's Gospell, [1550?]; Dekker, Foure Birds of Noah's Arke, 1609; Speidell, Arithmeticall Extractions, 1628; and the first English edition of Cæsar, 1585. Two very rare Edinburgh books have also been purchased: Cato's Maxims, and Lady Melville of Culross, A godlie Dreame, both printed in 1620.

The purchases in modern English belles lettres include two of the rarest works in this department, Landor's Simonidea, Bath, 1806, of which only two other copies are known; and "Fanshawe," the first work by Nathaniel Hawthorne, Boston, 1828, exceedingly scarce in the United States, and of which there is, perhaps, no other copy in Great Britain. The first editions of Hawthorne's "Twice Told Tales" and of Emerson's Essays, first series, have also been acquired.

A number of collections of books and pamphlets on special subjects have been purchased. Among these may be enumerated upwards of a thousand Spanish and Catalan fly-sheets; a large number of books printed by Bodoni, rendering the Museum collection of this eminent typographer's productions nearly perfect; a complete collection of the very numerous works of Mdlle. Bekker, a Dutch writer of the eighteenth century; 382 Irish Bibles, liturgies, hymn-books,, &c., purchased from the Rev. T. W. Carson, of Dublin; 125 privately printed English books and pamphlets; a set of rare tracts on the prosecution of Louis the Fourteenth's minister, Fouquet, 1660–1667; many volumes of Italian provincial Statutes, mostly of the sixteenth century, bought at the Manzoni and Borghese sales; Frisian books; tracts relating to Napoleon; modern French political tracts; books relating to Africa, to Cuba and Porto Rico, and to the Dutch East Indies; handbills relating to Manchester, 1780 to 1800; newspaper cuttings illustrative of dramatic performances extending over thirty-seven years; and playbills of the Standard and Effingham Theatres.

Among numerous purchases of books enriched with manuscript notes, by far the most important, and one of the most remarkable of the year, is that of two copies of Dr. Daniel Sanders' standard German Dictionary, with the supplement, containing probably not less than forty thousand additions and corrections by the author, either in manuscript or cuttings from books and newspapers. A more remarkable example of learned industry will hardly be found, and, as these accessions have never been published, the Museum copies will be invaluable for future work in German lexicography. Of great but totally dissimilar interest is a copy of Boulanger's work against Christianity, with manuscript notes by Voltaire. These annotations are of a different character from what might have been expected, frequently exposing the errors and ignorance of the author. Very interesting, too, are a copy of the "Dial,' the organ of the American Transcendentalists, with the names of the authors of the respective articles supplied in the handwriting of Emerson; and Southey's own copy, perhaps the only one extant, of the Westminster School magazine, "The Flagellant," in which he wrote a protest against flogging, which occasioned his expulsion. Other acquisitions of similar character are Terrien, Commentaire du Droit Civil: a presentation copy from the antiquary Lambarde to Sir Roger Manwood, with a long autograph letter inserted. Edwardes' translation of Cæsar: a presentation copy to Ben Jonson, with the autograph of the latter. Campbell's Poems, 1837: presentation copy, with his autograph, and a copy of "Hohenlinden" in his writing. Leigh Hunt's "Imagination and Fancy," a proof or revise with manuscript notes and corrections by the author. John Landseer's Lectures on the Art of Engraving, with copious manuscript additions by the author. Athenæus, with manuscript notes by Porson. Pinkerton on Medals, with manuscript notes by Horace Walpole. Bowring's Life of Bentham, with letters inserted, and other additions in manuscript. Goody Two Shoes, edition of 1796, with a long manuscript note by John Winter Jones, late Principal Librarian of the British Museum, in support of the claim of his grandfather, Giles Jones, to the authorship. Hazlitt's Conversations with Northcote, with manuscript notes by Northcote himself. In this place may be mentioned another curiosity, the "Zilveren Echtz-zang aan den Heere J. G. F. Myners en de weledele Vrouwe Elizabeth Hamilton," Amsterdam, 1771, printed on satin, and bound in silk richly decorated with silver embroidery.

Donations.—The most extensive donation received during the past year is one previously adverted to, of upwards of a thousand pamphlets presented by the National Liberal Club. An extensive collection of Colonial newspapers has, as in former years, been presented by the Royal Colonial Institute. The Library is further indebted to the Scottish Bible Society for the complete Japanese Bible recently published in Japan; to Sir H. Edwardes, Bart., for an indulgence of Pope Julius II., printed by Pynson early in the sixteenth century; to Henry N. Stevens, Esq., for a superb edition of Charles the Fifth's Laws of the Indies, edited by the late Henry Stevens, F.S.A., and to Miss Townsend, for "Townsend's Journal of Fashion," sets of which are now scarce and valuable.

Maps.—Many highly interesting acquisitions of maps have been made during the past year. The following are the most remarkable:—Facsimile, on parchment, of the unique copy in the Naval Museum, Madrid, of the Chart of the World executed in 1500 by Juan de la Cosa, pilot to Columbus in his first and second voyages.

Map of the World, by Alonzo de Santa Cruz, 1542. Facsimile of the original preserved in the Royal Library at Stockholm; with explanations by E. W. Dahlgren, Stockholm, 1892, fol.

Facsimile, in gores, of the silver globe executed by Johann Hauer, of Nürnberg, 1620, and presented to Gustavus Adolphus in 1632. The original is preserved in the National Museum, Stockholm.

Carta d'Italia illustrativa della Divina Commedia di Dante Alighieri, per E. Croce. Genova, 1875. Now rare and out of print.

Bidrag till Nordens Äldsta Kartografi. Utgifna af Svenska Sällskapet för Antropologi och Geografi. Stockholm, 1892, fol.

Il "Mappamondo di Torino," riprodotto e descritto da G. Ottino. Torino and Palermo, 1892, fol.

Remarkable Maps of the XVth, XVIth, and XVIIth centuries. (Section 1. The Bodel Nyenhuis Collection at Leyden.) Amsterdam.

A set of maps of Korea, by provinces; to which are added maps of China, Japan, and the Liu Kiu Islands. Séoul [1800 ?]

Music.—The dispersion of the famous Borghese Library in Rome has enabled the Museum to add several works of the greatest rarity to its collection of early Italian music. Foremost among these are to be mentioned two very early operas, "La Morte d'Orfeo," 1619, by Stefano Landi, and "La Galatea," 1639, by Loreto Vittori, which, apart from their great historical interest, are exquisite examples of musical typography. Of the latter only three other copies are known to exist, while the example of the former, which the Museum has been fortunate enough to acquire, is believed to be unique. Scarcely less interesting historically, and of equal intrinsic beauty, are two collections of madrigals for three voices, with an accompaniment for lute and harpsichord, edited and published at Rome, by Simone Verovio, in 1589 and 1595. They are entitled respectively "Ghirlanda di Fioretti Musicali," and "Lodi della Musica," and are printed throughout from engraved copperplates; the former is probably the second musical work produced by this process.

Among the other acquisitions which once formed part of the Borghese Library, may be cited a complete set of Marazzi's Madrigals, Parma, 1577, of which only one other copy is known to exist; a single part-book of Merula's Canzoni, Venice, 1615, a work hitherto unknown to bibliographers; and the 1614 edition of Marenzio's sixth book of Madrigals, which is believed to be the only complete copy extant.

From other sources the Museum has acquired the bass part-book of a series of four books of dance-tunes by Jean d'Estrée, Paris, 1559–1564, which is believed to be the earliest collection of this nature in existence; some interesting Dutch psalters, dating from the middle and end of the sixteenth century; and the treble part-book of a book of motets for three voices by Joannes a Castro.

Among other important accessions may be mentioned a folio edition of a series of settings of the Magnificat by Christopher Morales and other composers, Venice, 1562; a complete edition of Antonio Cifra's Litaniae Deiparae Virginis for eight and twelve voices, 1613; and numerous odd part-books of early Italian madrigals.

1. Granite shrine, inscribed with the name and titles of Ptolemy IX., Physcon, King of Egypt, B.C. 171–117, and of Cleopatra his wife. This shrine was found lying on its side among the ruins of an ancient Coptic church at Philæ, in Upper Egypt, where it had formed the platform upon which stood the altar. In the hollow upper part of the shrine a hawk, the emblem of the Sun-god

Sun-god was caged, or was placed there during great festivals; it was screened from the gaze of the worshippers until a certain moment by doors, the bolt-sockets of which still remain. Strabo, the geographer, records that he saw a hawk in a pining condition in a shrine at Philæ.

Presented by the Egyptian Government.

2. Coffin of Ta-ah-titi, a priestess of Amen-Rā at Thebes.

3. Coffin of Bak-en-Mut, a "divine father" of Amen-Rā at Thebes.

5. Coffin of Ta-usert-em-suten-pa, a priestess of Amen-Rā at Thebes.

6. Two coffins of priestesses of Amen-Rā; the spaces left for their names by the artist have not been filled.

The above coffins were exhumed from a pit at Dêrel-Bahari, on the west bank of the Nile, opposite the site of ancient Thebes, by M. Grébaut, formerly Director of the Egyptian Museum at Gîzeh, in 1891. In the same place MM. Maspero and Brugsch discovered the mummies of Thothmes III., Seti I., Rameses II., and of several other kings, in 1881; and it seems that they, and the mummies of the priests and priestesses of Amen-Rā, were removed there hastily, when, owing to loss of influence and power, the confraternity of Amen was compelled to take refuge in Nubia, in the ninth century before Christ. It is not possible to fix an exact date for the establishment of the brotherhood of the priests of Amen, but it is certain that they gained power during the reign of Amenophis I., B.C. 1666, and that for about six hundred years this power increased until they made themselves sacerdotally and politically the strongest influence in Egypt. The high priests of Amen became eventually kings of Thebes, but they soon found their position untenable, and the funeral furniture of the members of the brotherhood is all that now remains to mark their rule. The archæological importance of the coffins of the priests of Amen is very great; and this group helps to fill a gap in the national collection.

7. Ninety-two glazed faïence and terra-cotta ushabtiu figures of priests and priestesses of Amen. Among them are specimens of a class which is unrepresented in the national collection.

8. White painted wooden ushabti box of Nes-neb-taui, a priestess of Amen.

V.—Acquisitions, 1893.

The Coins and Medals acquired during the past year comprise a much larger number than usual of specimens of extreme rarity, and of the highest historical and artistic interest. Of the 1,186 pieces added to the collection, 543 have been presented, and 644 have been purchased. The donations are chiefly due to the generosity of A. W. Franks, Esq., C.B.; the late Monsieur W. H. Waddington; Sir John Evans, K.C.B.; H. Montagu, Esq., F.S.A.; W. Woodville Rockhill, Esq.; Hermann Weber, Esq., M.D., and Prof. Flinders Petrie.

REMARKABLE COINS AND MEDALS.

Among the acquisitions of the year the following are worthy of special notice :—

1. Greek Series :—

Philip II. King of Macedon.—A tetradrachm with a head of Zeus to the left, of very fine style and bold relief; perhaps the most typical example yet found of the post-Pheidian ideal head of Zeus. This coin is thought to have been struck at Melitaea in Thessaly, as it has in the field a bee, the badge of that city.

Byzantium in Thrace.—A tetradrachm and two drachms of the middle of the 4th century, B.C. The type, a cow standing upon a dolphin, is supposed to symbolise the myth of Io crossing the Bosphorus. The local variety of the B, the initial letter of Byzantium, (ϒ) on this coin seems to be a variant of the Corinthian form of the same letter, which is ⋔. The date of the coin indicates, however, that this is merely an archaistic survival from more ancient times.

Mesembria in Thrace.—A fine specimen of the very rare diobol (circ. B.C. 400), having on the obverse the helmet of the Thracian Sun-god Ares, and on the reverse M—E—Ͳ—A in the four quarters of a radiate solar wheel. The solar type of this coin is clearly connected with the name of the town, Μεσημβρία, (= Mid-day.) This coin is also important palæographically, as affording an instance of the obsolete sibilant "San" Ͳ, in place of 'sigma.' The "San" is not met with elsewhere on coins, though it is found in inscriptions of Teos and Halicarnassus. (Thompson, Palæogr. p. 3.)

Hebryzelmis

Hebryzelmis or Hebrytelmis, King of the Odrysæ in Thrace, B.C. 386–5. A well preserved bronze coin; obverse, male head to left; reverse, ЕВРΥΣΕΛΜΙΟΣ, and fore-part of lion in an incuse circle. This unique coin gives, for the first time, the name of the king in full, and it is noteworthy that it differs in two details from the form of the name occurring in the inscription discovered a few years ago on the Acropolis at Athens (Hoeck, Hermes, Vol. xxvi., p. 454), where it is written Ἑβρύτελμις, gen. Ἑβρυτέλμιδος.

Locri Opuntii.—A very rare drachm belonging to the period B.C. 369–338. The only other extant specimen of this drachm formed part of the famous Photiades Collection. On the reverse is a figure of the Locrian hero Ajax the Less, seen from behind, and armed with a spear in place of a sword. His shield is pierced by the point of his adversary's spear, an ingenious touch, by which the artist suggests a single combat quite in the Homeric spirit which the space at his disposal precludes him from delineating in full.

Eretria in Eubœa.—An archaic tetradrachm, circ. B.C. 480, with the letter B above the octopus on the reverse, and differing in style and fabric from all specimens yet published.

Athens.—A tetradrachm struck in B.C. 85, the year after the siege and capture of the city by Sulla. This is one of the very few Athenian coins which admits of being accurately dated, and it is consequently a historical document of some importance. The two trophies on the reverse commemorating Sulla's victories are casually mentioned by Plutarch (Sulla, xix. 5); and Pausanias (ix. 40, 4) says that they were still in position in his time, more than two centuries and a half after Sulla's death. A similar coin is published in the Zeitschrift für Numismatik, xii. 383.

Corinth (?).—A double denarius of Messalina, wife of the Emperor Claudius (wt. 103·4 grs.); obverse, MESSALEINA AVGVSTI, Bust of the Empress; reverse, BRITANNICVS. ANTONIA. OCTAVIA. Britannicus, son of Claudius and Messalina, standing between his two sisters. This coin is at present unique. Of Rome itself there are no coins whatever of Messalina, and although there exist a few inferior bronze coins bearing her name in Greek letters, this is, with a single exception, the only one known with a Latin legend, a fact which proves that it must have been struck either in the Roman Province of Asia, or, as is more probable, at some Roman Colony. As the only other coin of Messalina, with a Latin inscription, bears the names of two Corinthian "duoviri" (Capito and Cithero), the attribution of this remarkable silver piece to the Roman colony of Corinth seems amply warranted.

Elis.—A stater, circ. B.C. 450, and a drachm circ. B.C. 370–362; two 362; two very rare coins. The Museum previously possessed no Elean drachms of so early a period.

Pheneos in Arcadia.—A new variety of the exceedingly rare and beautiful silver stater struck about B.C. 362, after the battle of Mantinea, when several cities of Arcadia, Pheneos among them, separated themselves from the Pan-Arcadian confederation of which the centre was Megalopolis. On the obverse is the head of Demeter, accompanied by the letters ΠΟ, probably an artist's signature. On the reverse is a group of Hermes carrying on his arm the infant Arkas, whom he confided to the care of the Nymph Maia on Mt. Cyllene. (Apollod. III. 8, 2.) The work suggests that the artist may have been to some extent influenced in the choice of his subject by the famous masterpiece of Praxiteles, which represents Hermes carrying the infant Dionysos.

Tegea in Arcadia.—Two rare drachms, circ. B.C. 400–370, one of which shows the hero Kepheus on the reverse, and the other an owl.

Cydonia in Crete.—A didrachm struck about B.C. 400, Obverse, head of a Nymph or Mænad, wreathed with grapes and vine leaves; inscription, ΝΕΥΑΝΤΟΣ ΕΠΟΕΙ; reverse, a naked youth stringing his bow, inscr. ΚΥΔΩΝ. A coin of great interest, from the fact of its being signed by its engraver, Neuantos. Artists' signatures on Greek coins are well known to be of rare occurrence, and an example of the signature of Neuantos has always been one of the desiderata of the British Museum. The work of Neuantos, as displayed on the obverse of this coin, gives evidence of considerable technical ability, though it perhaps shows a tendency to be over-ornate. The coin engraved by Neuantos may be compared for style with that of another Cretan engraver, Pythodorus (B. M. Cat., Crete, p. xxiv). Both artists appear to have worked contemporaneously in the north-western part of the island. The figure on the reverse is probably Kydon, the hero of the famous Cydonian bowmen (cf. Steph. Byz, s. v. Κυδωνία, and Horace, Carm. iv. 9, 17, "Tela Cydonio direxit arcu," &c.).

Pythodoris, Queen of Pontus.—A very rare drachm, dated year 60 (Ξ), which has been shown by Giel (Kleine Beiträge zur antiken Numismatik Südrusslands, Moscow, 1886) to correspond with A.D. 29–30. Pythodoris was a granddaughter of M. Antony, and wife of King Polemon I. She survived her husband, and reigned over Pontus until about A.D. 33. Of the duration of her reign her coins afford the only extant evidence.

Nicæa in Bithynia.—A bronze coin of Gordian III., reverse, Veiled goddess Gaia (?), wearing polos, and presenting infant Erichthonios (?) to seated Athena.

Adramyteum

Adramyteum in Mysia.—An unpublished silver coin of the 2nd century B.C., of the weight of one-eighth of a cistophorus.

Cyzicus in Mysia.—A bronze coin of L. Verus, having on the reverse an octastyle temple and the name of a magistrate, Hestiaeus, the Νεωκόρος of the temple, probably not the Provincial temple erected to Hadrian at Cyzicus by the Κοινόν of the Province of Asia, but that of some local cult.

Lampsacus in Mysia.—An obol, circ. B.C. 500–450; obverse, Janiform Head; reverse, Head of Athena. The peculiarity of this little coin consists in the fact that it has the letter Ξ in the field, which proves it to be contemporary with the Lampsacene electrum staters bearing the same letter.

Lampsacus in Mysia.—A splendid and unique gold stater of very fine style (circ. B.C. 380). On the obverse is a youthful male head bound with a myrtle wreath, and with a small wing springing from the side of the neck. This remarkable head was no doubt intended for Eros, and was probably inspired by, though not copied from, the famous statue of that god executed by Praxiteles for the neighbouring city of Parium, on the Hellespont.

Pergamum in Mysia.—A bronze coin of Trajan Decius, showing the Emperor sacrificing before an altar. The magistrate's name on this piece is accompanied by the rare title Θεολόγος.

Cebren in Troas.—Three very rare bronze coins, issued after the change in the name of the town from Cebren to Antiochia, early in the 3rd cent. B.C.

Cyme in Æolis. A unique didrachm (wt. 94·1 grs.), circ. B.C. 400, belonging to a period of the coinage of Cyme of which hardly any specimens are known. Obverse, Eagle; reverse, Forepart of a horse, and magistrate's name, ΘΕΥΓΕΝΗΣ.

Myrina in Æolis. A drachm; circ. B.C. 197. Obverse, Head of Apollo Gryneus; reverse, Full length statue of the same god. The tetradrachms of this type are well known, but this is the first drachm yet discovered.

Myrina and Ægæ in Æolis. An alliance coin of the reign of Commodus. The reverse bears figures of Dionysos and Demeter. The alliance money of these two cities was unknown before the discovery of this coin.

Ephesus in Ionia.—A gold stater, similar to a specimen formerly in the Dupré collection. (Head, Coinage of Ephesus, Pl. v. 4.) It belongs to a small series of gold coins struck at Ephesus during the brief revolt of the Province of Asia from Rome in the time of Mithradates, B.C. 84. On the obverse is a Greek bust of the Ephesian Artemis; and on the reverse the Asiatic cultus-statue of the goddess.

Neapolis in Ionia.—Two bronze coins respectively of Severus Alexander and Volusian, the latter bearing the name of Candidus as "Grammateus" for the second time. There were previously no coins of this town in the British Museum.

Phocæa in Ionia.—An electrum stater; one of the most singularly interesting numismatic monuments which have survived from the earliest period of the art of coining. It belongs to the first half of the sixth century B.C., during which time, Phocæa, one of the chief centres of maritime enterprise in the Mediterranean, was supreme upon the sea (Herod. I., 163). According to Eusebius (Chron. ed. Mai, p. 331), the Phocæan Thalassocracy lasted 44 years, commencing circ. B.C. 575. It has, however, been shown by Goodwin (De potentiæ veterum gentium maritimæ epochis apud Eusebium, Göttingen, 1855) that the beginning of the Phocæan Thalassocracy must be placed as early as B.C. 602. From this time until the reign of Crœsus, King of Lydia (B.C. 560), the commercial influence of Phocæa, both on sea and land, was predominant, and strong enough to give occasion to an entire reform of the currency of the Ionian coast lands. The newly-acquired stater, weighing one-fiftieth part of the old Babylonian gold mina, is a specimen of this reformed coinage. Artistically it is also of great interest, as it is the oldest known example of what is called a "type parlant" (i.e., a device suggested by the name of the town). On the obverse is a seal (φώκη), the badge of Phocæa; and on the reverse, two rude incuse squares of different sizes. This stater is also of considerable palæographic importance, for it bears an ancient form of the letter Φ (⊙) which has not been met with elsewhere, either on coins or inscriptions. There are few coins of remote antiquity which have been so frequently cited, both by Greek historians and metrologists, as this famous electrum stater of Phocæa, of which the only other extant specimen is preserved in the Museum at Munich.

Smyrna in Ionia.—An alliance coin of the reign of Gordian III., between the city of Smyrna and the Roman Province of Asia. It reads ACIA . CMYPNA . OMONOIA. Instances of alliance coins between cities and provinces are elsewhere quite unknown.

Alabanda in Caria.—A very rare silver coin (wt. 113 grs.), with a tripod on the reverse, issued after B.C. 168, when the Roman Senate conferred freedom upon Caria and Lycia (Polyb. XXX. 5; Liv. XLV. 25).

Plarasa and Aphrodisias in Caria.—A drachm of the 1st century century B.C., bearing the inscription ΕΠΙΚΡΑΤΗΣ ΞΕΝΟΚΡΑ-ΤΟΥΣ ΙΕΡΕΥΣ ΔΗΜΟΥ—important as specifying for the first time the title of the chief magistrate of the city, a title hitherto unrecorded either on coins or lapidary inscriptions.

Stratonicea in Caria.—A very rare, if not unique, silver drachm of the 2nd century, B.C.; obverse, Head of Zeus; reverse, Hekate standing to the front and holding a patera and a torch. At her side is an altar.

Doryleum in Phrygia.—A coin of Titus. On the reverse is a seated Zeus, and the name of the well-known poet Silius Italicus, who was Pro-Consul of the Roman Province of Asia, circ. A.D. 77.

Hieropolis in Phrygia.—A coin of Elagabalus; reverse, Zeus hurling a thunderbolt, with an eagle and an ægis on his extended arm, and another eagle at his feet. This is a very curious type which occurs at no other city.

Lycia.—Ten silver and seven bronze coins belonging to the peculiar series struck in Lycia during the 5th century B.C., and bearing inscriptions in the Lycian language and character, at present imperfectly understood. Whether these inscriptions record the names of ancient Lycian cities, or those of their rulers, is still a doubtful point. The following are the most interesting varieties:—Three silver staters inscribed ΣΠΠΞΤΑΞΑ (Spintaza), circ. B.C. 460, at the latest; obverse, Archaic female head; reverse, Tetraskelis, which, like the Triskelis or Triquetra, is a Lycian solar symbol.—Four silver staters, inscribed the name with Tethtiveibi, with types resembling the coins of Spintaza.—A silver coin, with the legend TPB[. . .]EME (Trebbenimi); obverse, Lion's scalp, with a triskelis on the forehead; reverse, Triskelis. This coin seems to belong to the latter part of the 5th century.—A bronze coin reading 𐊓𐊗𐊖[𐊉 (Peri[kli]); obverse, Fore-part of stag; reverse, Triskelis. A dynast of the name of Perikles is known from Lycian inscriptions. He seems to have been a king of the whole of Lycia, and to have fallen in the revolt against Artaxerxes, B.C. 362.

Aspendus in Pamphylia.—An unpublished coin of Julia Domna, with the reverse inscription ΘΕΜΙΔΟC ΤΞΘ, referring to the games celebrated in various Pamphylian and Cilician towns under the name of Θέμιδες (Head, Hist. Num., p. 583). In these contests the prizes consisted, not, as elsewhere, of wreaths, tripods, &c., but of sums of money. The numerals ΤΞΘ ('369') prove that the date from which the era of Aspendus is reckoned fell between the years B.C. 176 and 152; the occasion of which is not known.

Perga and Side in Pamphylia.—An alliance coin of Gordian

Gordian III.; reverse, Artemis Pergaia and Athena, the goddesses of the two allied cities.

Ilistra in Lycaonia.—Philip I.; reverse, ΙΛΙCΤΡΕΩΝ ΚΟΙΝ[όν] ΛΥΚΑΟΝΙΑC. Only two other specimens of this rare coin are known, one of which is in the French, and the other in the German National Collection. The type is Zeus seated with an eagle at his feet. The town of Ilistra (which is not to be confounded with Lystra), is not mentioned either by Strabo or Ptolemy. Its name appears for the first time on a coin of M. Aurelius. Its coins prove that it belonged to the Κοινόν of Lycaonia.

Anazarbus in Cilicia.—Two Imperial coins (i) Caracalla, with a type relating to the "Œcumenical" games celebrated at Anazarbus. The inscription is ΙΕΡΟC ΟΙΚΟΥΜΕΝΙΚΟC; (ii) Valerian, inscribed ΒΟC ('272'), a date reckoned from the local era, B.C. 19, and, therefore, equivalent to A.D. 253.

Augusta in Cilicia.—Volusian. A bronze coin, bearing the date ΕΤ[ΟΥC] ΓΛC (=year 233), which serves to fix the era of the foundation of the town of Augusta in A.D. 19 or 20.

Celenderis in Cilicia.—A drachm of the 5th century, B.C.; obverse, Horseman riding sideways; reverse, Goat in incuse circle. The Museum possessed previously no drachms of this city.

Nagidus in Cilicia.—Two silver staters (circ. B.C. 400-300); types, Aphrodite seated, crowned by Eros; reverse, Dionysos standing, holding a vine-branch. These coins bear magistrates' names hitherto unrecorded. Also, a drachm of the same city, a denomination new to the British Museum.

Olba in Cilicia.—Lucius Verus; reverse, River god. The site of Olba having been lately fixed by Mr. Theodore Bent at Oura, not far from the lower course of the Calycadnus (cf. Ramsay, Hist. Geog. p. 22), there can be no doubt that this is the river personified on the coin.

Tarsus in Cilicia.—A silver stater (circ. B.C. 370—350); obverse, Bust of Athena facing, with the letter T and a bunch of grapes in the field; reverse, Baal-tars enthroned; symbols, ear of corn and bunch of grapes; under throne T.

Titiopolis in Cilicia.—An unpublished bronze coin of Commodus; inscr., ΕΤΟΥ Γ. ΤΙΤΙΟΠΟΛΕΙΤΩΝ, Tyche in temple. The coins of this town are of great rarity, only two others being known, one of Hadrian in the Bibliothèque Nationale, and the other, of Geta, in the Waddington Collection.

Paphos

Paphos in Cyprus.—A silver drachm (circ. B.C. 360); obverse, Head of Aphrodite, wearing a crenelated crown; reverse, in Cypriote characters, Βα-σι-λε-Fο σε Σο-τα-μο-σε (?) dove flying. The head of Aphrodite on the obverse of this beautiful coin belongs to the finest period of Greek art, and no Cypriote coin bearing these types is at present known. The legend, though difficult to decipher, evidently preserves the name of a hitherto unknown King of Paphos.

Syria, Antiochus VII. (Euergetes).—A very rare silver drachm, new to the Museum, and not published in Babelon's Monnaies Séleucides in the Bibliothèque Nationale. On the reverse is the God Sandan standing on the back of a lion, as he is represented on the so-called "Tomb of Sardanapalus" on the coins of Tarsus.

Sidon in Phœnicia.—A fine bronze coin of Elagabalus, with a representation of the sacred Shrine of Astarte borne upon wheels (cf. Eckhel, Doct. Num. vet. III. 369).

Barce in Cyrenaica.—An extremely rare drachm (circ. B C. 480—431), formerly in the cabinet of the late Mr. Edward Wigan; obverse, Silphium; reverse, BAP, Ram's head, in incuse square.

2. Roman Series:—

No very remarkable coins of this series have been added to the collection during 1893.

3. English Series:—

A particularly interesting series of 238 Anglo-Saxon coins (pennies) struck in Mercia, Kent, Canterbury, East Anglia, and Wessex, thus including the whole of the coin-issuing districts south of the Humber, at the end of the 8th century and the first half of the 9th century. This series comprises many new types of the coinages of the various kings of those districts, as well as a large number of new varieties, and also includes many known types not hitherto represented in the Museum collection. Amongst those which may be specially noted, are 4 coins of Beornwulf, and a similar number of Wiglaf, both kings of Mercia; 1 coin of Eadberht of Kent; 9 coins of Wulfred, and 10 coins of Ceolnoth, Archbishops of Canterbury, and 8 others struck in that city between the death of Wulfred and the accession of Ceolnoth; 39 coins of Æthelstan I., king of East Anglia, and a series of 91 coins of Ecgbeorht, king of Wessex, amongst which are two on which he is styled Rex M(erciorum), a title unknown in MSS. These coins mark his conquest of Mercia, in A.D. 829, when Wiglaf was deposed, though restored by Ecgbeorht in the following year. On the reverse of one of these is the mint-name of London (CIVITAS LVNDONIA), being the earliest instance of that mint-name on an Anglo-Saxon coin; and on the other the name of Redmund, who was Wiglaf's own moneyer before his deposition. There are also in the series numerous examples of the coinages of Coenwulf and Ceolwulf I. of Mercia, Baldred of Kent, Æthelstan I. of East Anglia, and Æthelwulf of Wessex. *Presented by A. W. X.—British Museum (Natural History).

STATEMENT of Progress made in the Arrangement and Description of the Collections, and Account of Objects added to them, in the Year 1893.

General.

Visitors.

It is satisfactory to be able to record that a notable increase of visitors to the Natural History Collections has taken place during the past year, the number having been 408,208 (giving a daily average of 1,321 persons), as against 351,917 in 1892.

Owen Memorial.

At a meeting held in the rooms of the Royal Society, on the 21st January, 1893, His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales in the Chair, it was unanimously resolved :—"That it is desirable that the eminent services of the late Sir Richard Owen in the advancement of the knowledge of the Sciences of Anatomy, Zoology, and Palæontology should be commemorated by some suitable Memorial"; and "That the Memorial shall consist primarily of a Marble Statue, which shall be offered to the Trustees of the British Museum, to be placed in the Hall of the Natural History Museum."

The Trustees of the British Museum have expressed their willingness to receive the statue, which it is proposed, in accordance with the foregoing resolution, to offer to them, and Mr. Thomas Brock, R.A., has been entrusted by the Committee with its execution.

Swiney Lectures.

It was stated in the last Annual Return that the Trustees would consider during the Summer what steps could be taken for the better accommodation, either at the Museum or elsewhere, of those desirous of attending this course of lectures. As no suitable room could be found within the building, application was made to the Lords of the Committee of Council on Education for the use of the commodious Lecture Theatre in the South Kensington Museum. This was most readily granted, and although less convenient than if in close proximity to the specimens, the distance was not found to be too great to prevent the students adjourning, after some of the the lectures, for demonstrations in the Palæontological Galleries of the Museum. This can, however, only be looked upon as a temporary arrangement.

The subject of Professor Nicholson's fourth course was "The Bearings of Geology on the Distribution of Animals and Plants." The lectures, 12 in number, were attended by a total of 2,798 persons, giving an average of 233 at each.

Dr. J. W. Gregory.

Special leave of absence having been granted by the Trustees to Dr. J. W. Gregory, an Assistant in the Department of Geology, for the purpose of making collections in British East Africa, he arrived in the month of March at Mombasa, where he fitted out a small expedition of 40 Zanzibaris. He followed the ordinary Uganda road for 450 miles, passing through Tzavo, Kibwezi, Machakos, and Kikayu to Lake Naivasha. Thence across new ground he reached Lake Baringo, explored this district, and crossed Laikipi to Kenia. This mountain was ascended to the height of 17,500 feet, some 3,000 feet higher than any previous ascent; five glaciers were discovered upon it, and an interesting series of plants collected. The return march to the coast was made down the valleys of the Thika-thika and Sabaki. In addition to the considerable collections made for the Museum, much new country was explored and mapped, and the information thus obtained has been of use to another Government Department. The geological observations made by Dr. Gregory are of considerable importance as affording data for a much more detailed geological map of this region of Africa than has hitherto been possible.

Pascoe Collection.

The most important acquisition during the year has been the Pascoe Collection of Insects, mainly Coleoptera, towards the purchase of which a special grant of 2,000*l.* was voted by Parliament. This magnificent collection was brought together by the late Mr. F. Pascoe, F.L.S., who had been engaged in its formation for about 45 years. It consists of about 49,000 specimens, the greater number of which are systematically arranged and named, and includes over 3,000 type-specimens.

Presents.

Over 1,300 presents have been received during the year, many of them embracing large numbers of specimens. The details of all the more important of these will be found in the Reports of the Keepers of the several Departments of the Museum, but the following are mentioned here also as being of special interest :—

From the Lords of the Admiralty.—Further consignments of zoological specimens, collected by Messrs. J. J. Walker, Chief Engineer, and P. W. Bassett-Smith, Surgeon, of H.M.S. "Penguin," during the surveying operations of that vessel among the East Indian Islands and in the China Seas.

From Mrs. Stainton.—The collection of Lepidoptera formed by her husband, the late Mr. H. T. Stainton, F.R.S.; his entomological correspondence; and an extremely valuable series of his original drawings of the larvæ of Micro-lepidoptera. Certain portions of this collection, representing the materials on which Mr. Stainton's various publications are mainly based, will be preserved intact, and permanently distinguished as the "Stainton Collection."

From J. C. Williams, Esq., M.P.—510 specimens of Minerals, mostly Cornish, selected from the collection brought together by the father and grandfather of the donor. These specimens form a series which, owing to the closing of so many Cornish mines and the change of mineral conditions in others, it would be impossible to make in the present day. They have been arranged in four window-cases in the Mineral Gallery, where they will be exhibited together for a year or two, before incorporation into the General Collection.

From F. D. Godman and O. Salvin, Esqrs.—The remaining portion of their collection of skins of American birds, consisting of 11,704 specimens; a series of 8,016 Mexican birds; and a collection of 1,267 eggs brought together by the American ornithologist Henshaw, and acquired by Mr. Godman some years ago.

A further instalment of their collection of Central American Coleoptera, consisting of 12,636 specimens of the family Heteromera, and including 1,717 of the 1,776 species recorded from Central America, among which are the types of 1,295 species described as new.

Also the first instalment of their collection of Rhynchota from Central America, consisting of 937 species, represented by 5,543 specimens, of which 584 are types.

From H. H. Johnston, Esq., C.B., Her Britannic Majesty's Commissioner and Consul-General for British Central Africa. —A valuable collection of animals from various localities in the Protectorate, many of the species being new either to science or to the Museum collection.

From

From the family of the late Sir Richard Owen, K.C.B.—A large number of pamphlets, official documents, drawings of zoological specimens, and natural history papers, of interest to the Museum, or concerning the collections, selected from the papers left by Sir Richard Owen.

From Charles Tyler, Esq.—An original bust in plaster of the late Dr. J. S. Bowerbank.

Exchanges.

Exchanges of specimens have been made as follows:—

Of zoological specimens.—With the Indian Museum, Calcutta; the Otago University Museum; the Royal Zoological Museum, St. Petersburg; Mr. E. Gerrard, Junr.; Mr. W. Taylor; Mr. P. Dautzenberg; and with Mr. D. J. Adcock.

Of fossils and casts of fossils.—With Professor F. Loewinson-Lessing, of Dorpat University; Professor A. Pavlow, of Moscow University; Mr. B. Sturtz; Professor F. Schmidt, of the Imperial Academy of Sciences, St. Petersburg; and with Madame A. Pavlow.

Central Hall.

No new case illustrating general Natural History has been added to the series in the Central Hall during the year, but various improvements and additions have been made in the morphological series arranged in the alcoves, the educational character of which is proving very attractive to students, and the principal features of which are now being copied in many other museums, both in England and abroad.

General Library.

The additions to the General Library during the past year have been :—

By purchase - - -	328 volumes and	2 maps.
By donation - - -	301 volumes and	28 maps.
By transfer from other Departments - -	76 volumes.
Total - -	819 volumes and	30 maps.

All these works have been catalogued, press-marked, stamped, and placed on the shelves.

The extent of this collection on the 31st of December was 22,760 volumes and 3,675 maps.

The work of cataloguing the books in the Departmental Libraries has been continued during the year, with the following results :—

395	title-slips have been prepared and revised for the Botanical Library,
800	for the Geological Library,
177	for the Mineralogical Library, and
9,385	for the Zoological Library.
10,757	- - Total.

The work in the General Library, and in the Libraries of the Botanical, Geological, and Mineralogical Departments, has been kept up to date. The cataloguing of the Books in the Zoological Library was practically completed with the close of the year.

British Museum (Natural History),

Department of Zoology.

The principal events in the progress of this Department in the year 1893 have been the following :—

(a.) The erection of the new part of the building which contains the collections of specimens preserved in spirit was commenced in 1891, as described in the report for that year; the building was ready for occupation about the middle of last year. Although by this addition the storeage space has been increased to a total of 1,156 feet of wall, or upright cases 10 feet high, and to 796 feet of table-cases, it has not proved to be in any way excessive of the actual requirements of these collections. All the spirit specimens hitherto stored in the main building have been removed, and those accumulated in the old part of the spirit house have been extended, so as to allow of future accessions being easily incorporated in their proper systematic places. During this operation almost all the bottles had to be transplaced, and advantage was taken at the same time to thoroughly clean them, and to restore a general orderly arrangement which could not be maintained whilst the cases were in an overcrowded condition.

(b.) The arrangement of the collection of Birds' Eggs, which was entrusted to Mr. Seebohm in 1891, has been completed. All these specimens, 46,900 in number, are named, and have written upon them references to the locality where, and generally to the date when, they were collected; besides, they are entered in a systematic manuscript list. This collection fills 33 cabinets, with 30 drawers each, the Eggs themselves being placed in glass-top boxes filled with cotton-wool.

(c.) By a special grant made by the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury the Trustees were enabled to acquire the celebrated collection of Beetles formed by the late Mr. Francis P. Pascoe, and thus probably to prevent its removal to a foreign country. This collection is one of the most important to the student of Coleoptera, not only on account of its extent (it comprises about 49,000 specimens), but principally on account of the authentic determination of the specimens, and the enormous number of types, which alone amounts to some 3,200. It is particularly rich in species of the families of Longicorns and Curculionidæ, to the study of which Mr. Pascoe devoted himself for more than 40 years, and to the knowledge of which special interest is attached from an economic point of view, inasmuch as the larvæ of these beetles are wood-borers, doing an immense amount of injury to young trees and valuable timber. The acquisition of this collection will prove an inestimable boon to British and Colonial Entomologists, and greatly accelerate the progress of the work of the Coleopterists of the Department.

 (d.) The

(d.) The donation of the collection of Lepidoptera formed by the late Henry Tibbats Stainton, Esq., F.R.S. Although with regard to the number of specimens and species, far surpassed by the Pascoe Collection, this collection nevertheless rivals the latter in respect of its scientific and historical value. Mr. Stainton was one of the most eminent Entomologists of his time, who not only, as editor of three journals, devoted to this branch of science, and as author of several standard works, advanced Entomology as a popular pursuit, but who, by his researches into the life-histories of Microlepidoptera, laid the foundation of their study in this country. The whole of his collection consists of 33,569 specimens; of these, the materials on which his principal works are mainly based, are by far the most important; therefore, they will not be incorporated in the general collection, but be preserved by themselves in their original arrangement as the "Stainton Collection."

This collection has been presented to the Trustees by Mr. Stainton's widow, who was his constant companion in all his work and travels, and who has supplemented her donation by the additional gift of her husband's entomological correspondence, and of an extremely valuable series of beautifully executed drawings of the larvæ of Microlepidoptera, many of which are still unpublished.

(e.) Messrs. Godman, Salvin, and Seebohm have enriched the collections of Birds and Insects by further consignments, which, together with the collections mentioned, have swelled the total number of Zoological specimens acquired in 1893 to 130,185, a higher number than has ever been reached before within the period of a single year.

(f.) Finally, it is with extreme regret that the Keeper of the Department has to report that the progress of arranging and cataloguing the collection of Corals has been suddenly interrupted by the premature death, from heat-apoplexy, of Mr. George Brook at the early age of 36 years. The Trustees had engaged for this work the services of Mr. Brook two years ago; and no better evidence of the high qualifications of this talented man could be found than the volume of the "Catalogue" which he prepared in that period, and which was published only a few months before his death.

I.—Arrangement.

1. The additions to the collection of Mammalia, have been entered in the Catalogues as soon as they were examined and named.

2. The arrangement of the Study Collection of Bird-skins has proceeded with the progress of the "Catalogue"; and included the specimens catalogued in volumes 21, 22, and 23. The second cabinet, containing the exhibited Eggs of British Birds, has been completed.

3. The

3. The additions to the collections of Reptiles and Fishes have been incorporated and entered in the printed catalogues as soon as the specimens were examined and named. The rearrangement of the collection of Snakes and of Percoid Fishes has been proceeded with.

4. The rearrangement of the general collection of Land and Fresh Water Shells has been continued; 680 type specimens from the collection of the late M. A. Morelet, obtained by purchase, have been identified, by comparison, with the original descriptions. The species of the family Cuspidariidæ and of the genus Sphenia have been remounted in glass-topped boxes and arranged in their genera and sub-genera; the Australian species of Chitonidæ have been determined. Collections of Land and Fresh Water Shells from British Central Africa, Palawan, Balabac, the Sulu Islands, &c., have been worked out and reported on.

5. The care of the collection of Crustacea has been transferred to the Assistant in charge of the Echinoderms and Worms.

The manuscript list of the Scorpions has been nearly finished. A considerable number of new species of Myriopods and Scorpions have been described.

6. Of the Pascoe Collection the specimens of the families Lucanidæ and Passalidæ have been incorporated with the general collection; the re-arrangement of Phytophagous Coleoptera and the incorporation of accessions belonging to this group have been proceeded with; a collection sent from British Central Africa by Mr. H. H. Johnston, C.B., has been worked out, and the new species have been described.

7. The arrangement of the Lepidoptera, on which work three specialists are engaged, has again made considerable progress. The genera Cyanandra, Atarica, Euryphene, Euryphœdra. Euphœdra, Harma, and others have been expanded and re-arranged; and a large number of labels bearing cross references to the Hewitson Collection have been inserted in the drawers, in order to facilitate reference to that collection, which, according to the terms of the bequest, is still kept in separate cabinets.

In the Heterocerous Lepidoptera the arrangement of the tribe Noctuites has made further progress, all corrections of synonymy being entered in the "Catalogue" and published; lists of the Geometrites and Crambites have been completed, and part of the Phycitidæ have also been arranged and catalogued. Two large collections of Lepidoptera, sent by Mr. H. H. Johnston, C.B., from Nyassa Land, others from North America, the Falkland Islands, and Chili, have also been determined and reported on, and, with a number of smaller accessions, incorporated. The preparation of an Index to Walkerian types, referred to in the Report for 1891, and the labelling of types have been continued.

8. The working out of the general collection of Syrphidæ has been continued; but the greater part of the time of the Assistant in charge of the Diptera has been devoted to perfecting the new collection of British species. The families Limnotidæ, Tipulidæ, Chironomidæ, Bibionidæ, and Muscidæ have been worked out and arranged so far as the available material permitted.

9. The Assistant in charge of the Hymenoptera, Neuroptera, Orthoptera, and Rhynchota had to devote a great part of his time in helping in the arrangement of the Lepidoptera, but, besides, he worked out a collection of Ceylonese Odonata, presented by Colonel Yerbury, and commenced the rearrangement of Phasmidæ in accordance with the recent classification proposed by Brunner von Wattenwyl.

10. During the transfer of the collections into the new part of the Spirit Building, the whole of the alcoholic specimens of the Crustacea have been rearranged in a general manner; and an Alphabetical Index has been prepared of the genera to ensure ready access to any specimens that may be required.

Additions to the Echinoderms and Vermes have been named and incorporated; the manuscript list of Asteroidea has been completed, and that of the other groups of Echinoderms brought up to date.

The catalogue of the genus Madrepora and the arrangement of the specimens has been completed.

11. Lists of the Bryozoa, Hydrocorallinæ, Medusæ, and Hydroida Gymnoblastea have been prepared, and the labels of the exhibited specimens of Hydrozoa and Bryozoa and of nearly all the Sponges have been revised.

The examination and arrangement of the Parker Collection of Foraminifera has been completed.

II.—Registration.

With the exception of the Pascoe and Stainton Collections, the specimens obtained during the year, whether by purchase, presentation, or exchange, have been entered in the manuscript registers of accessions, and the register-numbers attached to them. For future reference the date and mode of acquisition, the exact locality where the specimens were obtained, the name of the collector, and any other particulars of interest respecting them, are entered.

III.—Conservation.

The re-transference of the alcoholic specimens of Mammalia and Mollusca from the Tower-rooms to the Spirit Building and the redistribution of the specimens of all classes in the old old and new cases have occupied about five months of the year. During the progress of this work the spirit in many of the bottles had to be renewed and new labels had to be prepared to show the contents of the cases.

The usual work of conservation has been continued by dusting and cleaning, in rotation, the exhibited specimens, placing the study collections of Bird-skins, Shells, Dried Sponges, Echinoderms, and Polyzoa in glass-topped boxes, and renewing the camphor or naphthaline in the wall cases, store-cabinets, and some of the Insect-drawers. Of other work coming under this heading the following should be specially mentioned :—

1. Some of the Store-cupboards of the Osteological Gallery and of the Basement Store-room have been refitted with bolts, velvet, &c., so as to better exclude dust.

Specimens of Mammalia have been mounted for exhibition, such as a Tibetan Bear (Ursus pruinosus); a Coke's Hartebeest (Bubalis cokei); a Swayne's Hartebeest (Bubalis swaynei); a Topé Hartebeest (Bubalis jimela); a Pallah (Aepyceros melampus); an East African Gnu (Connochætes albojubatus); a Kudu (Strepticeros kudu); a Tibetan Stag (Cervus thoroldi).

Skeletons have also been mounted of a Northern Fur Seal (Callorhinus ursinus), and a Bottle-nose Whale (Hyperoodon rostratus).

2. Three groups, illustrating the nesting habits of British Birds, have been completed, viz.: Greater Black-backed Gull, Dotterel and Greenfinch. A group of Swifts (Collocalia fuciphaga) producers of the edible Swallow-nests, with their nests attached to the rock, has been added to the general collection. Mr. C. Hose, who collected the materials in one of the celebrated caves in Sarawak, superintended personally the construction and mounting of this group.

3. Further additions have been made to the case containing mounted specimens of Batrachians in the Reptile Gallery.

Stuffed specimens of Ceratodus forsteri, of a Tarpon (Megalops thrissoides) and a Mahaseer (Barbus tor), also two skeletons of large Sword-fishes (Histiophorus brevirostris) have been mounted and exhibited in the Fish Gallery.

4. A considerable series of shells from the "Morelet" and other collections has been mounted on tablets and placed on exhibition in the table-cases.

The collection of British shells has been expanded, and additional examples have been mounted and incorporated.

6–9. A great number of insects have been set; others, which had been badly mounted or placed on short pins, have been reset, on a higher level, and on the plan now usually adopted in English collections.

The following additions have been made to the series of models in the Insect Gallery, illustrating the life-histories of injurious and other insects :—

Oak, showing injury done by a moth (Tortrix viridana); Currant, showing injury caused by a clear-wing moth (Trochilium tipuliforme); Oak, showing galls formed by two Hymenopterous Insects (Andricus terminalis and Biorhiza aptera); Rose, showing galls formed by a Hymenopterous Insect (Rhodites eglanteriæ); Aspen, showing the injury caused by a Long-horn Beetle (Saperda populnea); Birch, showing leaves curiously cut and twisted by the Birch weevil (Rhynchites betulæ).

To the series illustrating the metamorphoses of Insects the following additions have been made :—

Metamorphoses of a Saw-fly (Genus ?); of a Moth (Actias); of Dragon-flies (Æschna and Agrion); of Locusts (Titanacris and Pseudophyllanax); of a Stick-Insect (Eurycantha); of a Water-boatman from Madagascar (Hydrocyrius), carrying a cluster of eggs on its back; also larvæ and pupæ of various flies; specimens, accompanied by drawings and descriptive labels, illustrating the life-histories of the common Blow-fly (Calliphora); of Lady-birds (Coccinellidæ); of Lace-wing flies (Chrysopidæ) and of Hover flies (Syrphidæ).

The following have also been added to the exhibited series: A specimen of Sugar-cane showing the injury done by a small beetle (Xyleborus perforans) from Trinidad; two nests of the English hornet (Vespa crabro); photographs (accompanied by specimens) of a swarm of Locusts which occurred in Algeria.

10. The most interesting additions to the exhibited series in the Starfish Gallery are an example of Strongylocentrotus drobachiensis showing its pedicellariæ, and the stalked larval stage of Antedon eschrichti. The exhibited set of Cidaridæ has been rearranged, in order that the specimens may be seen to better advantage.

In the Coral Gallery a complete revision of the exhibited series of Madrepora was made on the completion of the Catalogue. Diagrams and explanatory labels, showing the position in the Animal Kingdom and characteristics of the Madreporidæ were prepared and other descriptive labels were attached to various specimens. Among those exhibited for the first time is a reef-coral taken alive from the Macclesfield Bank at a depth of 31 fathoms. A case containing various Marine Invertebrates has been set up with the object of showing how these animals are often found living together.

A selection from the photographs of the Great Barrier Reef issued by Mr. Saville-Kent has been placed on the wall.

Many specimens of Stony Corals have been mended, and, being of large size, have been mounted and placed in the exhibition cases.

The

The study-series of Madrepores has been placed in 120 store-boxes and a list of their contents prepared.

Among the additions to the exhibited collection of Antipatharia attention may be called to the series of examples of Stichopathes gracilis from Madeira, found growing on a rock.

11. A selection of Hydrocorallinæ has been made for exhibition, and the specimens have been re-labelled.

IV.—Duplicates.

The time of the staff has been too much occupied to allow of a distribution of duplicates amongst museums; but six Mammalia, 753 Birds, seven Frogs, and 232 Shells were utilized in exchanges.

V.—Departmental Library.

The Departmental Library has acquired, by purchase, presentation, and exchange, 53 separate works in the same number of volumes, besides 706 parts of periodicals, and 109 parts of works in progress; 66 of which are now completed. The total number of works now in the Library is 9,903, represented by 15,962 volumes.

All the additions during the year have been entered in the Purchase and Presentation Books, catalogued, press-marked, stamped, and placed on the shelves; 163 volumes have been bound.

VI.—Catalogues.

The following Catalogues have been issued during the year 1893:—

1. A new edition of the Guide to the Galleries of Mammalia (4th ed., 8vo. 126 pp., 57 woodcuts and 2 plans).

2. Catalogue of Birds, Vol. XXI., Columbæ (8vo. 676 pp., 15 plates), by Count Salvadori.

3. Catalogue of Birds, Vol. XXII., Gallinæ (8vo. 588 pp., 8 plates), by W. R. O. Grant.

4. Catalogue of Snakes (Second Edition), Vol. I. (8vo. 448 pp., 28 plates and numerous woodcuts), by G. A. Boulenger.

5. Illustrations of Typical Specimens of Lepidoptera Heterocera, Part IX.; The Macrolepidoptera Heterocera of Ceylon (4to. 182 pp., 20 plates), by G. F. Hampson.

6. Catalogue of the Madreporarian Corals, Vol. I., The Genus Madrepora (4to. 212 pp., 35 plates), by G. Brook.

In addition to the above works, the manuscripts of Volumes XXIII., XXIV. and XXV. of the "Catalogue of Birds," of the second volume of the "Catalogue of Snakes," and of the first volume of a "Catalogue of Percoid Fishes" are in course of preparation. The services of Mr. G. F. Hampson, who gratuitously undertook the preparation of the manuscript of the ninth part of the Heterocerous Lepidoptera and the supervision of the plates, are deserving of special acknowledgment.

The following are the most important reports or descriptive papers which have been prepared by the Departmental Staff in connection with various parts of the collection, especially recent acquisitions, and have been published in scientific journals:—

VI.—Printing

VI.—Printing Labels.

During the past year the preparing and printing of labels for the Mammalia, the Aves, the Reptilia, and Amphibia has gone on very continuously.

Labels have also been printed for the Mollusca and other groups of Invertebrata and for the Plants.

A considerable number of Labels has also been executed for the Index Museum.

Total number of labels composed, 2,271.

Total number of copies printed off, 22,407.

During the past year one of the staff, Mr. F. A. Bather, M.A., was absent on sick leave for some months; and Dr. J. W. Gregory, another Assistant, was absent on special leave, 10 months, in East Africa, examining the East African lake-chain, the Masai plateau of Laikepia and Mount Kenia. He brought back collections illustrating the geology, the flora, and the fauna of the district. Besides yielding a considerable number of new species, they contribute largely to a knowledge of their distribution. Thus the Kenia flora is more allied to that of Kilima Njaro than to the highlands of Abyssinia, while the fish, mollusca, &c., show an extension of the Nilotic fauna, in a region now far outside the Nile basin.

A large geological collection was made, including over 200 fossils from hitherto unknown Palæozoic deposits, as well as others from the Jurassics on the coast, and the old lake-beaches in the interior.

Henry Woodward.

Department of Geology,
20 January 1894.

Department of Mineralogy.

The Staff and its Duties.

The staff of the Mineral Department consists of the Keeper, three Assistants, three Attendants, and two Boy-attendants. The duties are generally distributed as follows:—

Three Assistants.—To one is assigned most of the scientific and executive work relating to the collection of mineral species, including the preliminary examination of mineral specimens submitted for purchase or exchange, the registration and incorporation of those recently acquired, the determination of the physical and geometrical characters of specimens, the preparation of species-, variety-, and locality-labels, and the preparation of a descriptive catalogue of the collection.

To a second is assigned similar work relative to the specimens of rocks.

To a third is assigned the chemical analysis of both minerals and rocks.

Though a mineralogist can no longer satisfactorily attempt to keep abreast of scientific knowledge and undertake scientific work in more than one of the above three branches of the subject (physical, petrological and chemical), such a sharp limitation of the work of the assistants would be contrary to the interests of the Museum; hence, as far as possible, it is arranged that each assistant has the opportunity of acquiring a general knowledge of the specimens preserved in the department, and of thus becoming more useful to the public during the absence of his colleagues.

Three Attendants.—One is specially employed in the preparation of thin sections of minerals and rocks for examination with the microscope; a second is charged with the arrangement and cataloguing of the Departmental Library; the third with the more mechanical work of the Chemical Laboratory.

The general duties of dusting the cases, the packing and unpacking of specimens, copying, &c., are also performed by the attendants.

Two Boy-Attendants.—They attend on the superior officers as required, are charged with the sale of the departmental guides, and do a large part of the simpler mechanical work, such as the filling of trays with clean cotton-wool.

General.

A new edition of the Students' Index to the Mineral Collection has been issued.

A descriptive Catalogue has been made of the facetted ornamental stones (722 in number), each specimen being examined and redetermined for this purpose.

The chemical examination of a New Zealand meteorite has been finished.

The examination and description of Xanthoconite and Fireblende have been completed; and a quantitative analysis of Fergusonite from Ceylon has been made.

Crystallographical and optical determinations have been made of Quartz from North Carolina, Spangolite from Cornwall, and Whewellite from Saxony.

Seventy-three specimens have been chemically examined; thirty-one specific gravity determinations have been made.

Progress has been made with the selection of a series of specimens to form an introduction to the study of rocks.

Experiments have been made with various fittings preparatory to the rearrangement of the case of polished specimens at the entrance to the Mineral Gallery.

A selection from the valuable mineral collection of the late J. M. Williams, Esq., presented by J. C. Williams, Esq., M.P., has been labelled and arranged for temporary exhibition in two window-cases.

Numerous

Numerous rock specimens belonging to the topographical series have been examined, labelled and rearranged, including the collections from Harz, Hungary, St. Gotthard, Auvergne, Iceland, Arabia, Persia, Mexico, Elba, India, New Zealand, Australia, Azores, and St. Helena.

One hundred and seventeen microscopic sections of rocks and minerals have been prepared, and eight slices of meteorites have been cut for exchange.

Selections have been made from two large private collections of minerals which were brought to the Museum for the purpose.

Exchanges have been arranged during the year with the Musée d'Histoire Naturelle, Paris, and with Owens College, Manchester.

One of the assistantships has been practically vacant during the whole year.

Departmental Library.

To the Departmental Library have been added 91 separate works (in 100 volumes), 24 memoirs and pamphlets, 18 parts of works not yet completed, and two maps. Of the above, 44 volumes and two maps were acquired by presentation or transfer; all of them, including 695 plates, have been registered and stamped.

Visitors.

The number of visits recorded as made to the Department for purposes of consultation or study is 1,714; of these 975 were more especially for purposes of study.

Duplicates.

A collection of 3,744 duplicate rock specimens has been given to the Museum of Science and Art, Dublin; labels containing any information recorded in the Departmental Register relative to them were prepared and sent with the specimens.

Acquisitions.

One thousand seven hundred and thirty-nine specimens have been acquired during the year 1893, namely:—1,023 minerals, 700 rocks and 16 meteorites. These have been registered, numbered, labelled and incorporated with the collection. The more important of them are named below:—

In the progress of incorporating these additions the following Natural Orders have been more or less completely revised:—Malvaceæ, Celastrineæ, Melastomaceæ, Compositæ, Apocynaceæ, Asclepiadaceæ, Borragineæ, Labiatæ, Orchideæ, Iridaceæ, Xyridaceæ, and Gramineæ.

In the progress of the work the officers of the Department have been engaged as follows:—

Mr. E. G. Baker has incorporated the Polypetalæ of various collections with the general Herbarium. The principal of these have been the plants from Mexico, by Palmer, Pringle, and Ghiesbrecht; from Uruguay, by Aplin; from Australia, by von Mueller; from India, by Gamble, Clarke, and King; from Lifu, by Whitmee; from the Transvaal, by Rehmann; from the Cape of Good Hope, by MacOwan and Bolus, and from Sierra Leone, by Scott Elliot.

He has completely revised the Order Melastomaceæ, and arranged it in accordance with the recent Monograph of Prof. Cogniaux. The genera Malachra, Urena, and Gossypium have also been critically named and arranged after recent authors, the latter genus with the assistance of Dr. Watt, of Calcutta. He has completed his enumeration of the Malvaceæ, which has been carried on for several years.

Mr. James Britten has incorporated with the Herbarium a large number of plants belonging to the Orders Compositæ, Apocynaceæ, Asclepiadaceæ, Borragineæ, and Labiatæ. He has named the African species of these and other Monopetalous Orders, and nearly completed the naming and arranging the very large collections of American Compositæ. Several collections of African plants have been incorporated with the Herbarium, including those of Welwitsch, Scott Elliot, Buchanan, Wood, and Bolus; and the new species of Mr. Whyte's collections from Milanji have been described. He has also superintended the temporary arrangement of the Monopetalæ not yet incorporated with the Herbarium, and has named a considerable number of small groups of plants in accordance with recent monographs. Mr. Britten has devoted some time to the arrangement of the collection of prints and drawings of plants, and has superintended the preparation of the Library Catalogue.

Mr. A. B. Rendle has incorporated the Monocotyledoms and Gymnosperms of the following collections: From Europe by Schulz; from Paphlagonia by Sintenis; from Syria by Post; from Corea by Veitch; from Singapore, Pahang, &c. by Ridley; from Abyssinia by Schimper; from North and West Tropical Africa by Scott Elliot; from Tropical Africa by Day and Buchanan; from Natal by Mrs. Saunders; from South Africa by MacOwan, Bolus and Schlechter; from St. Vincent by Smith; from California by Lobb; from Mexico by Pringle, and from Bolivia by Rusby; also the Apetalæ of various collections, together with a collection of Eastern Palms from King, and Cyperaceæ from Hance. The Balanophoreæ, a portion of the Thymelæaceæ, and the genus Thesium, have been revised, and several new species have been described. The order Iridaceæ has been revised and arranged in accordance with Baker's recent monograph, and some new species described. The Xyridaceæ have been revised and arranged after Nilsson's recent memoir. The tribe Andropogoneæ of the grasses has been revised and arranged according to Hackel's monograph, and several new species described. The fossil fruits referred to Nipa have been monographed, and the specimens in the Geological Department have been named. Mr. Rendle has also completed the series in the Index Collection in the Great Hall illustrating the leaves of Dicotyledons.

Mr. Antony Gepp has been occupied with naming and arranging extensive collections of Mosses and Hepatics from the West Indies and East Tropical Africa. He has revised the orders Bruchiaceæ and Hookeriaceæ, and has selected, prepared, and labelled the series of specimens illustrating the Mosses, Hepatics, and Lichens exhibited in the Gallery of the Department.

Mr. George Murray has continued the incorporation of the Ravenel collection, and has completed the naming of the Algæ of this collection. The extensive collection of Diatomaceæ, acquired in the course of the year, has been arranged in order, and made easily available for workers. He has re-arranged several groups of Algæ, viz., the Corallineæ, and part of the Chlorophyceæ and Cyanophyceæ, and has named and incorporated with the Herbarium collections from Australia, the Cape of Good Hope, and the West Indies. Mr. Murray has selected, prepared, and labelled the Algæ and Fungi exhibited in the public gallery of the Department, and has arranged the models of Fungi made by Sowerby in accordance with the popular guide to these models by Mr. W. G. Smith, which was published during the year. The second part of Algological Researches carried on by Mr. Murray, and contributed to by students in the Museum, has been published.

The principal additions to the Herbarium during the year have been the great collection of Diatomaceæ formed by Mr. Julius Deby, and containing nearly 30,000 named slides, and the Herbarium of the late Mr. Jenner, containing over 6,000 specimens of Algæ.

The transverse section of the Wellingtonia (Sequoia gigantea) was received from California. It has a diameter of over fifteen feet, and its annual rings show that it had lived for

PREFATORY NOTE.

The thanks of the Lords of the Committee of Council on Education are due to the Local Authorities in Counties and County Boroughs for the assistance which they have given in the preparation of this Return. They desire especially to acknowledge the courtesy of the officers of these Authorities in preparing the information here given for the use of the Department.

The frequent changes consequent upon the rapid development of educational work under the Technical Instruction Acts, and the Welsh Intermediate Education Act, and the fact that much of the work that is being done is of necessity in a transitional state, make it difficult to present a completely clear and full view of the progress which is being made. But these difficulties will diminish with each succeeding annual Return.

The Return shows that the total amount expended on Technical Education during the year 1892–93, in England, Wales, and Scotland, was 529,718*l.* 3*s.* 4*d.*; and that the estimated total amount allocated to Technical Education for the year 1893–94 was 696,328*l.* 4*s.* 4*d.*

As will be seen from the Summary, 41 out of the 49 County Councils in England (excepting the County of Monmouth) are applying the whole of the Residue received under the Local Taxation (Customs and Excise) Act, 1890, to Technical Education, and 8 a part of it to the same purpose. Of the Councils of the 61 County Boroughs, 53 are devoting the whole of the Residue to Technical Education, and 7 a part of it, while in one case only (the County Borough of Preston) the Residue is being applied, not to educational purposes but to relief of rates. In addition, the Councils of 10 County Boroughs are levying a rate, or making grants out of the rates, under the Technical Instruction Acts.

The 13 County Councils and the Councils of the 3 County Boroughs in Wales and Monmouth are devoting the whole of the Residue to Intermediate and Technical Education, chiefly under the Welsh Intermediate Education Act, 1889. In addition, the Councils of 6 Counties and County Boroughs are levying a rate, or making grants out of the rates, under the Technical Instruction Acts. The estimated total amount to be devoted annually to Intermediate and Technical Education in Wales and Monmouth, under the Welsh Intermediate Education Act, 1889, is 42,861*l.* In some cases the amount allocated by the Councils each year out of the Residue received under the Local Taxation (Customs and Excise) Act, 1890, is accumulating, as the Schemes submitted to the Charity Commissioners are not yet in operation, and in these cases the levying of the rate under the Welsh Act is in the meantime deferred.

In the case of Scotland, 23 out of the 33 County Councils are applying the whole of the Residue to Technical Education, and 7 a part of it, while one has the matter under consideration, and 2 are applying the Residue to the relief of rates. Of the 194 Burghs and Police Burghs, 21 are applying the whole and 50 a part of the Residue to Technical Education; one has not decided; and 122 are applying the whole to the relief of rates. The latter number, however, includes a few cases in which it is probable that the Residue will be applied to Technical Education.

By order,
J. F. D. DONNELLY.

						The whole of the Residue received by the Council since the passing of the Local Taxation (Customs and Excise) Act, 1890, has been voted to the Wigan and District Mining and Technical School, which is governed by a Board consisting of 12 representatives of the governing body of the old Mining School (who are the owners of the buildings), 12 representatives of the Lancashire County Council, and 12 representatives of the Corporation of Wigan. Owing to various difficulties in arranging terms, the constitution was not settled until the autumn of 1893, and the Corporation refused to pay over any money until the proper governing body was appointed on which the Corporation were to be represented. This has now been done; and, subject to the payment of two sums of 5*l.* towards the expenses of two residents in the Borough, who attended Classes at Bolton in subjects not taught at Wigan, and to the payment of 281*l.* towards the expenses of the Wigan Mining School incurred on the faith of the promised contribution of the Corporation, the whole of the accumulations of the Residue have been handed over to the Wigan and District Mining and Technical School, the grant for 1893-4 being paid over unconditionally, while prior accumulations were to be applied solely in the purchase of apparatus and in making provision for Manual Instruction.

The amounts in the foregoing columns have been taken from the audited accounts of the County Council. Some of the expenditure incurred for 1891–2 is therefore included, and some of the expenditure incurred for 1892–3 is not included, because the Financial year ends on 31st March, and the "teaching" year on or about 30th April, when the May examinations begin. Cols. 8 to 10.—All instruction was supplied directly by the Technical Instruction Committee of the Council (see col. 7). Local Committees were requested to draw up schemes (each scheme to cost a certain amount) and to nominate teachers for the approval of the Central Committee. These teachers were paid by the Central Committee, and no grant of money was made in 1892–93 to any Committees of Schools, &c.
